Elwood star breaks all-time Indiana high school rushing mark

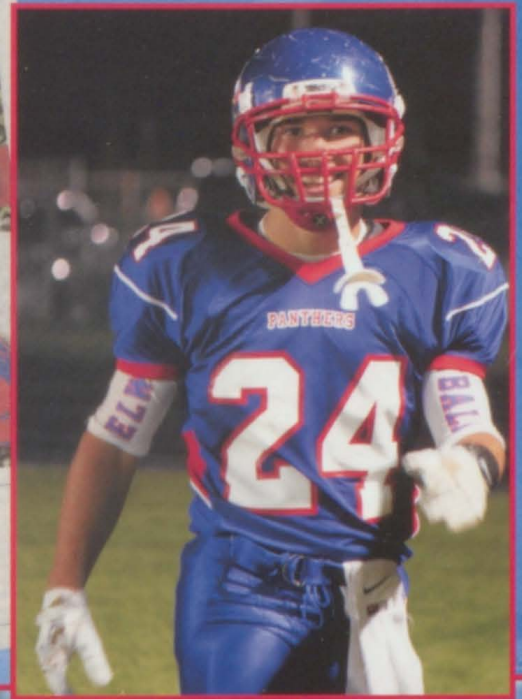

In Friday night's victory against Alexandria, Elwood senior Sammy Mireles broke the state record for career rushing yards.

Herald Bulletin

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 2013

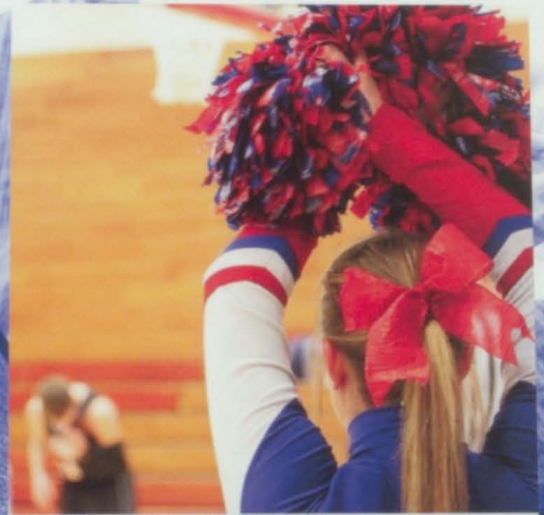

After a 34-carry, 350-yard, 5 touchdown performance, our very own Sammy Mireles became the Indiana's career high school rushing leader. Oddly enough, Sammy broke the record on a 24-yard carry late in the 3rd quarter. The Panthers defeated the Alexandria Tigers 49-42. When asked to describe his emotions into one word, Sam simply stated "Amazing." The Panthers finished their season with 7 wins, and 4 losses.

Girls' Golf

The 2013-2014 girl's golf team had a good season. With each game and practice, the girls showed improvement as the season went along. All team members' scores improved by at least five shots by the end of the year. The girls were very coachable and represented the school well. This year, the golf team will be losing only two seniors, Shelby Reese and Maddi Runyan. Coach Hobbs said, "The seniors will be missed, but with hard practice in the summer, next year's team will be very competitive next year."

In Memory

Senora Jane Tracy taught Spanish at Elwood High School for 29 years before she retired in 2012. She passed away unexpectedly on September 22, 2013. She was married to Michael 'Mike' Tracy. Senora Tracy was very well-known in the town of Elwood. She enjoyed watching the Indianapolis Colts and Notre Dame Football. Senora was involved in multiple groups in Elwood, including Tri-Kappa Lambda Chapter and the Elwood Country Club.

Senora Tracy enjoyed taking numerous trips with her students to Spain, Mexico, and Puerto Rico. She enjoyed planting and caring for her home. Senora Tracy was also known to decorate for every holiday. Her favorite way to pass time was by spending time with her family, especially her grandkids.

The year three Spanish class was the last class to have Senora Tracy as their teacher. They only had her their first year before she retired, but everyone loved her. When they heard of Senora Jane Tracy's passing, the current Spanish teacher, Senora Davila, helped them make a wreath for Senora Tracy. She handmade it and the students wrote notes in Spanish to tie on it.

My name is Madeline Helpling, and I was just an average eighteen year old girl before my journey began. I just graduated high school where I was involved in advanced classes, three sports, and volunteer organizations.

When I look back on how this all started, I can't believe all of the signs that I missed that could have warned me to go to the doctor sooner. The swollen lymph nodes, the constant low grade fever, the back pain, and the night sweats. To me, it was "nothing" of course. (Having a mom that is a nurse really helps you believe that nothing is ever wrong with you). All I can say is, I'm so blessed to have sneezed (yes, sneezed) that day and broke my rib when I did.

After a trip to the ER, we were told before my xray that it was probably just a pulled muscle from lifting weights. After the xray came back, however, we knew that this wasn't anything close to that. The radiologist noticed a small spot near the rib that was abnormal and looked like a tumor. After a cat scan, we were ordered to have a needle biopsy performed. After the biopsy was performed and the pathologist was unable to diagnose me, we then were sent to Indianapolis to have a rib resection.

Going into surgery, I was expected to only have the small tumor and piece of rib removed. The outcome, however, wound up leaving me without large parts of two ribs, the tumor, and all of the tissue surrounding it. Deep down, after being left with a scar four times the size that was supposed to be left on my body, I knew that this was much more serious than we thought. The outcome, Osteosarcoma a rare Bone Cancer that is going to require seven long, rigorous months of chemotherapy that prevents me from moving out of my house and into my apartment with three lovely roommates and attending IUPUI to start studying to be a nurse practitioner. I was also forced to give up my job at Community Hospital in Indy where I was being trained to be a Patient Support Partner and was to gain experience by doing direct patient care.

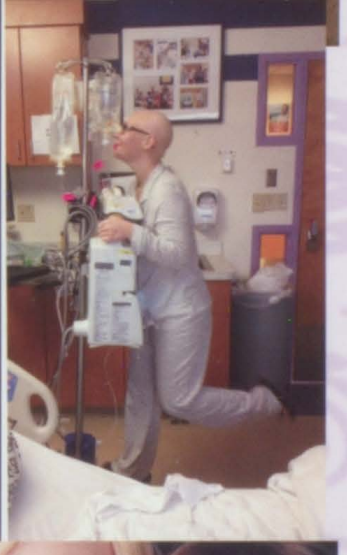

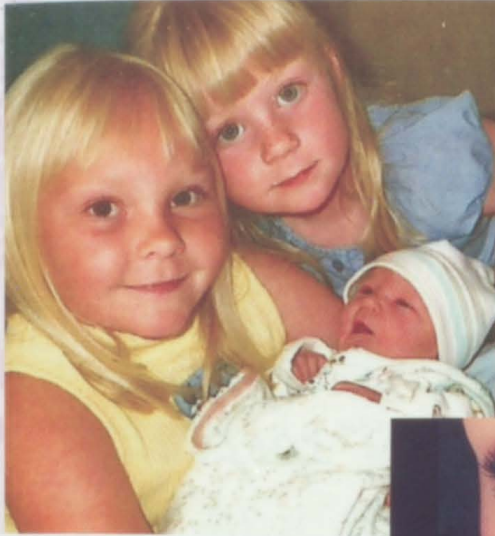

If you were to ask me how I am doing with all of this, I could honestly tell you that I am fine. My emotions include anger, confusion, and optimism. I'm angry, why me, why now, why can't I just be normal like my friends who are going off to college? But at the same time, my optimism tells me that this will only make me stronger and will make me a better nurse practitioner someday.

Although I can't go to school for a year, I plan to take some online classes to keep myself busy during the down time that I will have between treatments.

I have been raised to fight for what I want and to never let anything bring me down. Thus far, this is only a bump in the long, successful road ahead of me and I will continue to fight hard and stay strong, not only for me, but for my family and the rest of my supporters.

Thank you to everyone who is following my journey and helping in any way that they can. I am not only blessed, but humbled as well at the amount of support that I have to help me along the way. Thank you so much.

Rock Candy

Rock Candy is ran by photographer Will Foster and has locations in Noblesville and downtown Elwood. He has been a great help in completing this years 2013-2014 yearbook.

If you would like to contact for senior pictures, please text or call him at (765)602-9662

You will not be disappointed with your pictures!

-Thank you, Will Foster for your help!

This year has been a great year! This yearbook would have never been possible if it was not for Jarod from Walsworth, who has helped us with the ups and downs of completing the yearbook, the hard work of our yearbook staff and we really would have not been able to do it without the help of the teachers and students of the high school. Enjoy all the memories filled through out this book. Good luck to the Class of 2014 and see everyone next year!

Your editor,
Nicole Jones

Thank you to all the staff members of ECCHS for the patience and support of the students that is offered every day to help students complete their education!

Thank you to all the bus drivers for the safe transportation they have provided throughout the year to all the students. it is greatly appreciated!
