The Pursuit

HAPPINESS--that one, small word of the English language that seems to bubble over with enjoyment, can be seen assuming many different roles in the lives of Willkie High.

Whether it is taking a cooling dip in the local pool, cutting yards for spending money, cramming for a final exam, or merely goofing off at the "Y," Willkie teens approach their job of living and learning in Elwood, building a stronger America, and thus a better world, with a spirited enthusiasm very becoming this society of ours which is dedicated to The Pursuit of Happiness.

The "rush hour" comes after noontime fun and freedom.

Willkie's choir provides "Blue Velvet" and an evening of fun.

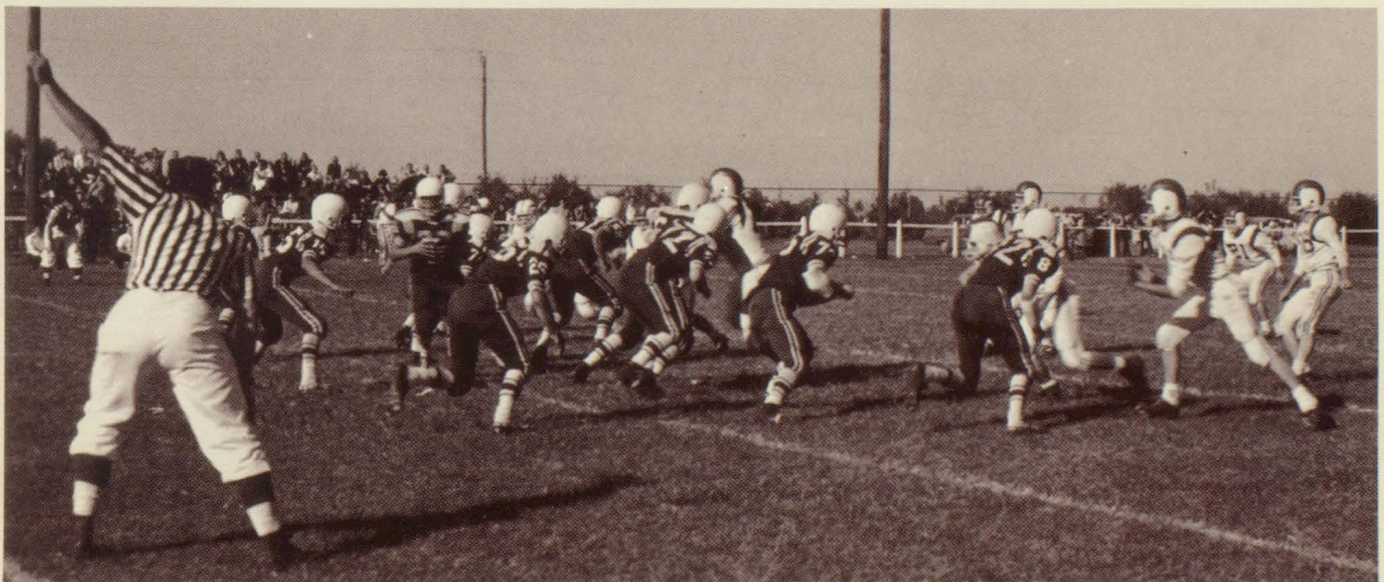

Of Happiness

The winning of another game over an arch-rival by our mighty Panthers is tempered with running around and belonging to the crowd. Striving, straining, and slaving for that "A" seems worth all the effort when college entrance exams roll around. Having a date with that special someone is intermingled with going out with "the gang." Even "Our Town" seems to appear better as the Homecoming bands march lively down Anderson Street, which is lined with families, friends, and fans.

Jeanne Drake and Christie Carlile performs a daily task--collecting attendance slips.

Our Panthers prepare to tackle an Alexandria player during Homecoming victory.

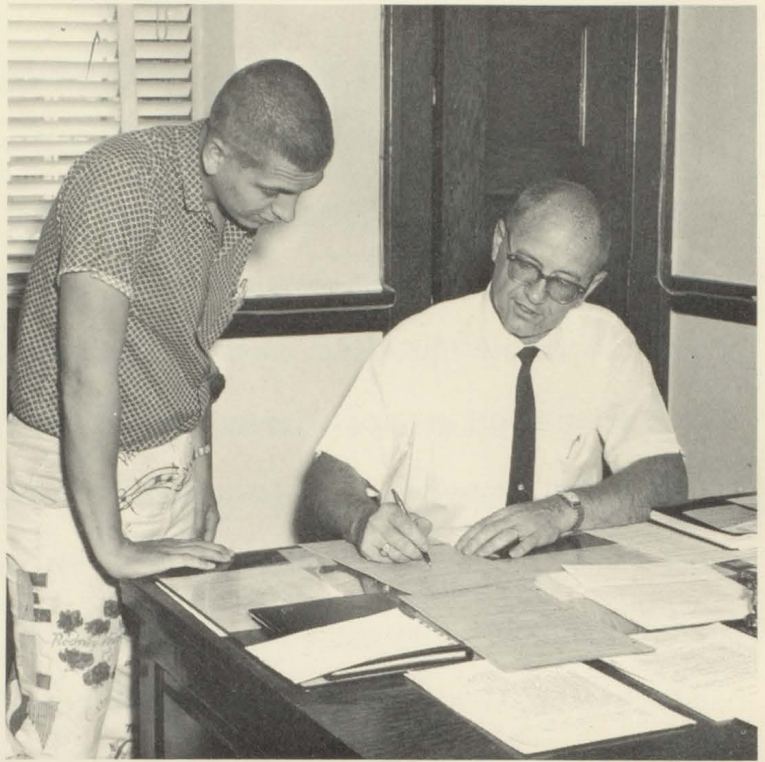

In Our School

From the time we first stepped into the halls of Willkie H. S. until we shall march down the aisle to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," happiness is the key word of our school.

Happiness is all about us. It is our life. Happiness is seen in all facets of our lives in our school. It is seen through the eyes of every student, every day, in every classroom. Roaming around the halls each morning, listening to the announcements being read, dancing or studying at noontime, attending an inspiring convocation, and gaining a crucial C.I.C. victory are all condensed into one day of happiness at Willkie H.S.

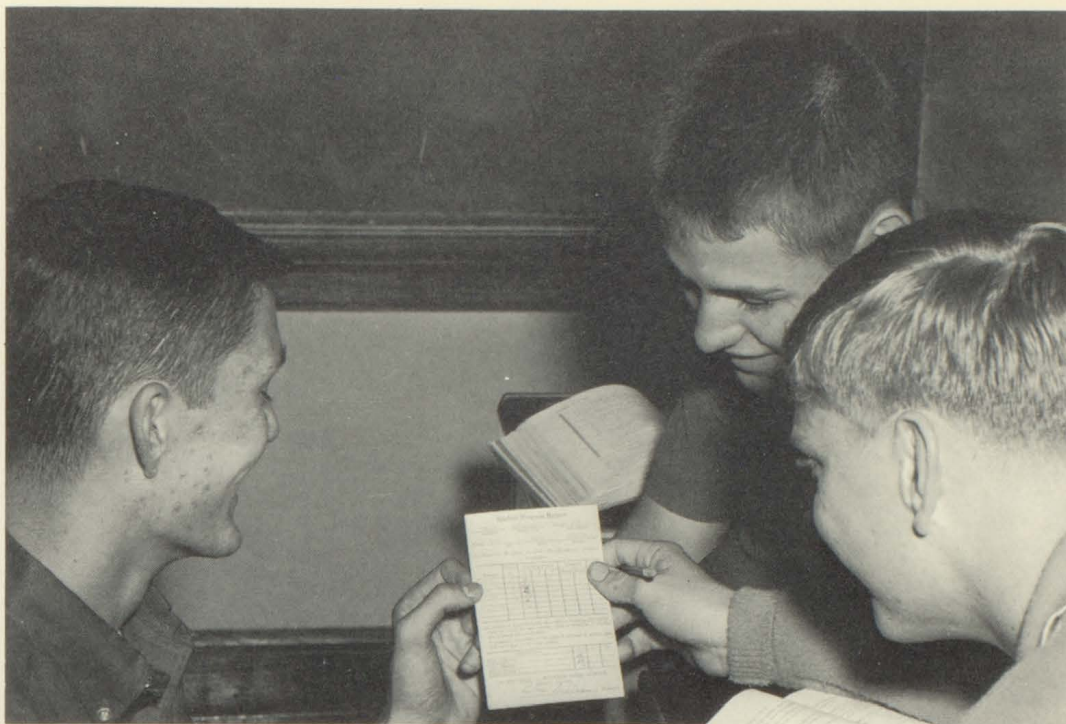

Perhaps the most important years of our lives are these four we are now living with our fellow students and faculty members in an aura of happiness in our school.

Barbara Clouser, Donna Reseigh, Rick Cannon, and Joanna Smith chat for a moment before the rush to class.

"Did you make the Honor Roll?"

Mr. Singleton carefully watches this classroom discussion!

In Our City

Gimme a coke!

Community experiences are one of the primary colors in the development of the individual portrait and personality. Between our 800 to 900 class periods each year we continue our pursuit of happiness in our city which provides many varied opportunities for recreation and education. As we attend Saturday night "Y" dances, learn parts for Job's Daughters and DeMolay meetings, work on term papers at the public library, join the crowd at the bowling alley, and meet friends at the drug store after school to chat over a coke about that important date with our "number one," we are molding our lives into the pattern of responsible, happy adults.

Trick or Treat!

It's drive-in time at the A & W Root Beer Stand.

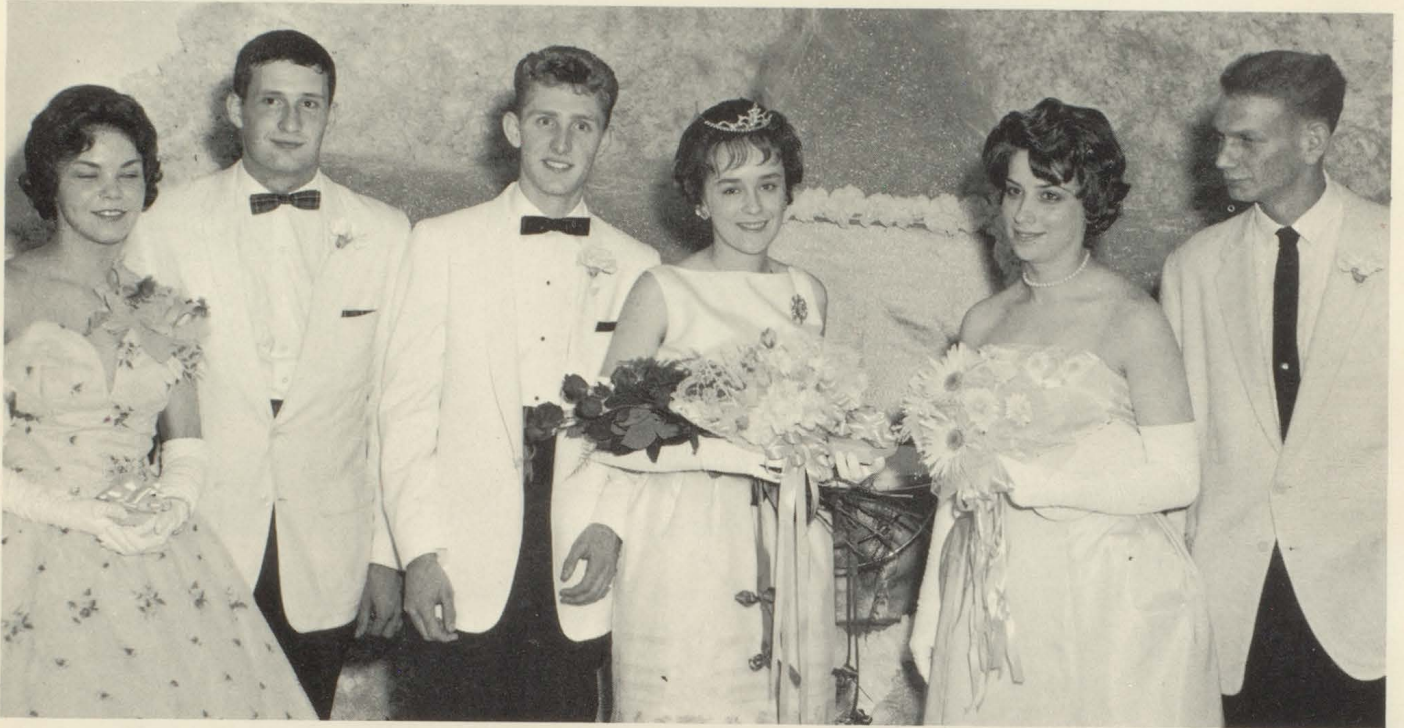

Junior boys stop in for a malt.
"Jeff, are you picking up the tab today?"

"Fill 'er up--I'll be going places."

The Exquisite Beauty of "Heavenly"

Queen Jane Delong, along with her court, Misses Cindy McGinnis and Cheryl Lewellen, is shown as she begins her reign.

Jane Delong, Queen of the annual Prom, is dancing with her escort, Bill Morris, to the tune of "Heavenly."

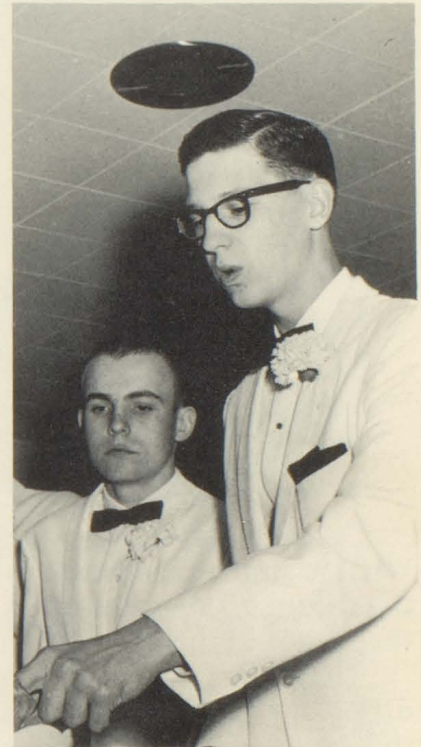

Will Long Be Remembered by Willkie

May 17, 1963, was a dream come true for the class of 1964. After many weeks of hard work the class, the chairmen--Ruth Ann Houser and Jim Baker--and their sponsors presented "Heavenly" as their prom.

Entering through Heaven's Golden Gates, the couples found themselves in a ballroom beautifully decorated in soft shades of blue.

At the climax of the evening Miss Jane Delong was crowned 1963 Prom Queen. Her throne was a huge white and gold star on which she was seated.

Elwood's service clubs extended this "heavenly" evening with a movie, further dancing and breakfast at the Country Club.

Prom-goer David Cotton requests refreshments during the enchanting evening.

Couples converse while they admire their 1963 Prom.

The Class of '64 Shows Cleverness

It's almost time to go on--Who needs more make-up?

One of the major events to confront a class at Willkie High is the junior play. On March 29, 1963, the Class of '64 presented "Beauty and the Beef," a three-act comedy by William Davidson.

The many hours of work by Mrs. Barr, student director Pat Bishop, the cast of 33, and the behind-the-scenes workers paid off when the curtain came down at the conclusion of a successful performance.

The play centered around the problems facing the Allen family--George, Laura, Ginny, and Lester--when they moved into their new home in Winnebago. Eventually, though sometimes doubtful, everything turned out all right.

The aspiring actors and actresses who participated were:

The plot to postpone the game begins to take effect. The Doctor discovers the epicac and the scheme.

In Presenting Brilliant Comedies

Norm, the "permanent Bachelor," attempts to attract a wife.

"Don't you think it's time you got married again?" Eddie asked his father in the play, "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," presented by the Class of '64 on November 8, 1963.

Tom Corbett, a businessman, differs with his young son on the undesirable possibilities of remarriage. Several desirable young ladies soon appear and as the comedy ends, Tom finds the woman for his wife.

Eddie appears to be in a trance as Rita and Tom converse about his baseball antics.

Tom peers on stage as Rita and Mrs. Masters check their lines.

Homecoming Maintained Traditions of Splendor

Enthusiasm was keen as the 1963 Homecoming dawned on a warm autumn day. Beautiful queen candidates in gayly decorated convertibles and the lively rhythms of the Elwood and Alexandria bands initiated the day's activities as citizens lined the downtown streets for the annual parade.

As the throng shifted to the football field, the alumni mingled with the students to cheer the Panthers to a 27-13 victory over Alexandria.

During the half-time show both bands performed their State Fair shows and stood by with military formality as the 1962 Queen, Miss Karen Thrawl, crowned her successor, Miss Marsha Buzzard.

"Canadian Sunset" fashioned the mood for the semi-formal dance which climaxed the eventful day. The Seniors of the band had transformed the familiar Den into a place of dreamy music and dancing.

That magic moment finally comes as Marsha Buzzard receives her crown from Karen Thrawl.

The Queen-to-be smiles radiantly from her chariot at the crowd viewing the parade.

Music Provides Impressive

Willkie High School was host to ten high school choral groups on April 2, 1963, for the annual Madison County Choral Festival. Participating schools were Alexandria, Anderson, Elwood, Frankton, Highland, Lapel, Madison Heights, Markleville, Pendleton, and Summitville. Dr. Freeman Burkhalter of Berne was the guest conductor.

The vocal area of the Junior High School and of Willkie High School presented a concert for students and for the public on April 26, 1963.

The varied program included a section titled "West Side Story," with featured soloists Andrea Darrow and Tim Harting.

Other soloists in the program were Kay Wesley and Dan Dever.

Tony (Tim Harting) sings to Maria (Andrea Darrow).

The majorettes set the pace with precision for the downtown parade on Homecoming Day.

Programs in School and Community

The band and the majorettes are a part of many parades and of community activities. The football season is always a busy time for pre-game and half-time shows, and for the Homecoming parade.

For basketball games the band adds to the spirit and enthusiasm. Half-time shows are also outstanding in beauty and variety of theme.

The Panther Band practiced long hours during summer vacation to be ready for their annual State Fair Show, which this year was titled "Touch of Jazz" and lasted two minutes and thirty-eight seconds. The band placed eleventh in a field of competition of eighty-seven bands.

The Panther Band and the Alexandria Band perform on the football field at the 1963 Homecoming game.

THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS

Organizations provide an outlet for the outside interests of students. A well-rounded school life includes participation in diversified activities, and Willkie students have a wide variety of clubs, staffs, and societies from which to choose.

Organizations are formed for the purpose of advancing a special cause or interest; thus students have an opportunity to make friends with people with whom they have much in common. As they practice for a Thespian play, work on a Key Club project, write an article for the Megaphone, learn Booster Club yells, march with the Panther Band during brisk football weather, bowl with the Girls' Athletic Association, and sing Christmas carols at a Latin Club meeting, they find happiness in association with friends, performance of useful services, and perhaps the building of a career.

IN

ORGANIZATIONS

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness. Declaration of Independence.

Melodic Chords Reverberate As the Vocal

Choir officers are: Martha Swift, scrapbook keeper, Rita Small, treasurer, Pat Bishop, secretary, Tim Harting, vice-president, Lou Gerig, president.

Under the leadership of Mr. John Stites, the choir has completed another rewarding year of work. To support their trip to the County Choral Festival the choir sponsored two dances for the student body.

Hard work and talent combined to make their performances inspirational and enjoyable both to themselves and to their audiences.

The Girls' Glee Club consists of: (FRONT ROW) S. Anderson, J. Hibst, S. Beeman, S. Abernathy, D. Cloud, B. DeLawter, J. Garner, M. Anderson, M. Wilson, L. Kelley, L. Tancey, J. Mountcastle, V. Glee Club officers are: Thursa Hicks, scrapbook keeper, Darlene Gunn, secretary, Carole Groover, president, Becky Cornwell, treasurer, Sharon Abernathy, vice-president.

The Girls' Glee Club of Willkie High during the past year has spent many hours of preparation for their performances before the public and the student body.

Performing in the annual Christmas program--Songs for Christmas Day--and the Spring Concert, this group showed its versatility and mastery of the art of music under the direction of Mr. John Stites.

(STANDING) Lynette Welcher, Brenda Lynas, Kathy Svendson, Jane Clark, Jackie Nichols, Cassie Cross, Marsha Buzzard, Jeanie Blake, Gail Stiner and Kathy Pedro.

After long hours of practice in the hot August sun, the "Marching Hundred" again brought distinction to the students of E.H.S. by adding the 11th place trophy of the State Fair Band Contest to their ever-growing collection.

To lead them this year the band selected Ralph Knauer as band captain with Jim Baker as lieutenant and student director. Debbie Bozell was appointed head majorette and was assisted by Marsha Buzzard.

Throughout the year they maintain a busy schedule, performing football and basketball half-time shows, marching in numerous parades, entertaining visiting bands, and presenting the Variety Show. These activities require many hours of practice and individual disciplining, but their labors are well-rewarded and the "Mighty Panther Band" marches proudly.

Crescent Staff Strives to Meet Deadlines

A familiar sight in the library this year at the "Crescent table" was co-editors Greg Gardner and Pam Jones and business manager, Janet Shaw, who discovered that deadlines were fun AFTER they were met.

The Crescent staff scans other yearbooks to find ideas. They are: SEATED--Nada Osting, Janet Shaw, Greg Gardner, Pam Jones, Monty Caldwell; STANDING--Greg Tunis, Judy Wright, Mrs. Chapman, Gwen Wisler, Jim Burwell, Donna Reseigh, David Hood.

Greenfield, D. Klumpp, M. Caldwell, M. Wilson.

The tables are turned on Crescent photographers Nick Wolff and David Klumpp who along with Jim Burwell and David Hood so willingly gave their time and energy.

A yearbook means many things to many people. To students it can mean a memory book, to teachers and administrators a reference book, and to its staff a source of hard work before deadlines and pride after deadlines.

This 1964 Crescent was the result of endless hours of planning ladder diagrams, page layouts, running heads, picture identifications, and typing 3-R's by co-editors Greg Gardner and Pam Jones, and especially by their hard-working, efficient sponsor, Mrs. Hilda Chapman, who so generously gave her kitchen table, her patience and encouragement, and her time. It is possible to present this Crescent to Willkie High also because of the diligence of Janet Shaw, business manager, who supervised the financial responsibilities and spent hours collecting money, getting ads, and sending statements for billed ads.

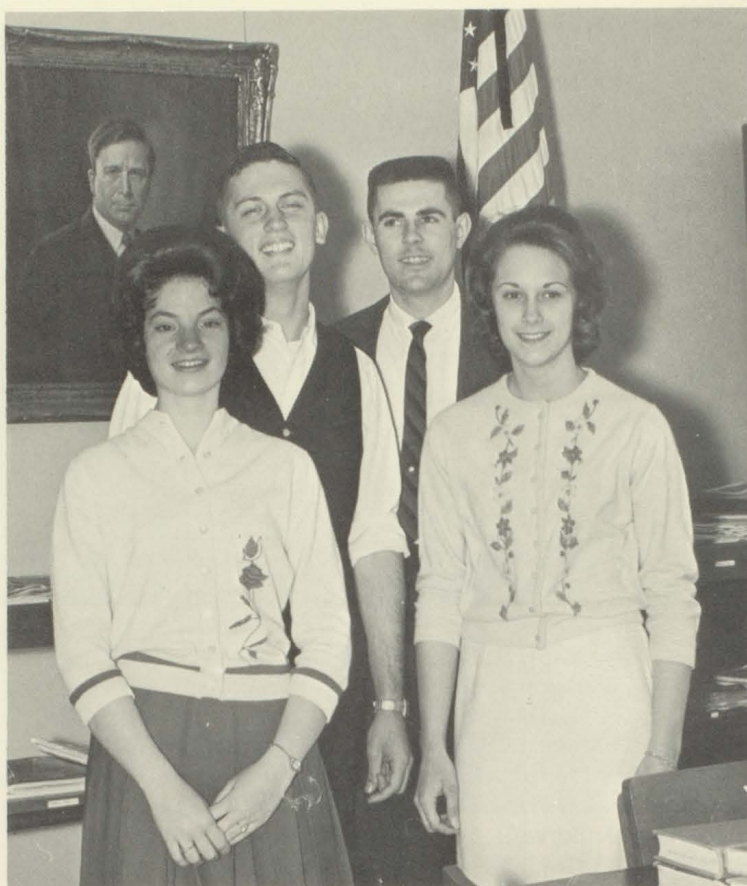

Just as a yearbook is for the pleasure of many people, it is the result of the efforts of many people. Everyone who aided in the production of this annual --the sponsor, the editors, the business manager, the section editors, members of the committees, the student body, and the advertisers--has made this book--the 1964 Crescent.

Student Council Launches Our Activities

Striving to boost the pride of Willkie High even higher, the Student Council acts as the student governing body. To fulfill this function, the Student Council promotes better understanding between the faculty and the students, thus providing each student with a form of benefit.

Reciting the Pledge of Allegiance once weekly in all classrooms, providing new mirrors and improved drinking fountains, the annual Belles and Beaus Dance, and Twirp Week, the Student Council has given the student body many new and varied activities. Providing the first amendment to the Constitution of the Student Council in almost twenty years, this organization has helped both the present and future classes of Willkie High.

The highlight of the year's activities was the raising of money to bring a foreign exchange student to Elwood next year.

National Honor Society members are chosen on the basis of the four ideals of the Society: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Each year a group of juniors and seniors is elected to provisional membership and, if the seniors still qualify at the end of the year, they are installed as permanent members.

Students must have a B-average or higher to be considered for membership. Leadership is not based merely on the holding of offices, but also on the efficiency with which the student performs his duties. Service is demonstrated by willingness to work on projects which bring no immediate material rewards. Character is based on the student's definite pattern of behavior.

Supervising the activities of the NHS this year were Judy Legg, president; Leroy Phillips, vice-president; Pam Jones, secretary-treasurer.

One of the main events of the year for honor students is the banquet given by the Lions Club.

G.A.A. Is Organized for Girls Interested in Sports

The Girls' Athletic Association, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Allen, is made up of girls who are athleticminded and want to build up their ability.

Among the many activities they participate in are bowling, soccer, and basketball. Planning these functions this year were: June Sanders, president, Diana Powell, vice-president, Gloria Hahn, secretary, and Jan Jackson, treasurer.

Awards are given to the girls on the basis of a point system; and by participating regularly in the club's activities, they can earn a pin, class numbers, letters, and the state shield.

Mrs. Allen, sponsor of G.A.A., makes plans with Diana Powell, vice-president, and June Sanders, president.

Sunshine Society Exists for Service to "Others"

The goal of the Sunshine Society is well exemplified by their motto, "Others." Making favors for hospital trays, selling candy, giving Christmas baskets, and having a Christmas party for its members have been some of the activities the Society has engaged in this year.

Their creed well explains the purpose of this service organization. "With love in my heart, forgetting self, and with charity for all, I will make the object of my life helpfulness and kindness to others. I shall try to fit myself to give intelligent service in making my community a safer and more beautiful place in which to live. Thus will my own life become rich and complete."

This year the Sunshine Society was under the leadership of: (SEATED) Sharon Abernathy, vice-president, Jan Smith, secretary, (STANDING) Rose Tatum, treasurer, and Kathy Colcord, president.

The Key Club, a relative new organization at Willkie High, has again contributed to the civic development and growth of both the city of Elwood and the high school of Wendell L. Willkie. Since its initiation in 1962 the Key Club has become firmly established in the tradition of our high school. Selling student directories, arranging the Memorial Day Parade, distributing information for the United Fund drive, and selling peanuts are just a few of the many projects of the organization sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. Strengthening the ties between the high school and the community is an ever present job being accomplished by the Key Club.

Leading the Key Club are: Steve Parry, treasurer; John Zerbe, president; Bill Daleure, secretary; and Mr. B. J. Harmon, sponsor.

Although most of the students take it for granted, the Projection Club performs an essential service for the school. The boys in this unique club, under the watchful direction of Mr. Smith, relinquish their free periods to bring knowledge to us through some of the best films available.

The expression, "An army travels on its stomach," applies not only to literal armies but also to large groups of people, even nations. The men who at one time will feed this nation are being helped and trained through the FFA, the Future Farmers of America. The local chapter, sponsored by Mr. Plunkett, contributes yearly to needy families, attends various land and farm shows, conducts pest drives, travels to Chicago for the livestock show, and serves the entire school by farming the school plot of ground.

Megaphone officers are; Bonnie Widmeyer, Business Manager: John Hinshaw, Sports Editor: Mavis Kintzell, Assistant Editor: Richard Martz, Editor: Jan Curtis, Assistant Editor: Mrs. Hiatt, Sponsor.

The thirty-one members of the staff of the Megaphone, turned in another fine year of work. Mrs. Hiatt assumed the sponsorship of the fun-loving journalists, and helped them raise money with a rag-drive to keep the presses rolling.

This year's Megaphone was one of the best ever. The hard work of its staff and Editor Dick Martz really paid off. In addition to the usual fiction and news, this year's paper offered a good selection of factual information, and thought-provoking editorials.

Lynn Murray cross examines John Fortson in preparation for an upcoming debate tournament.

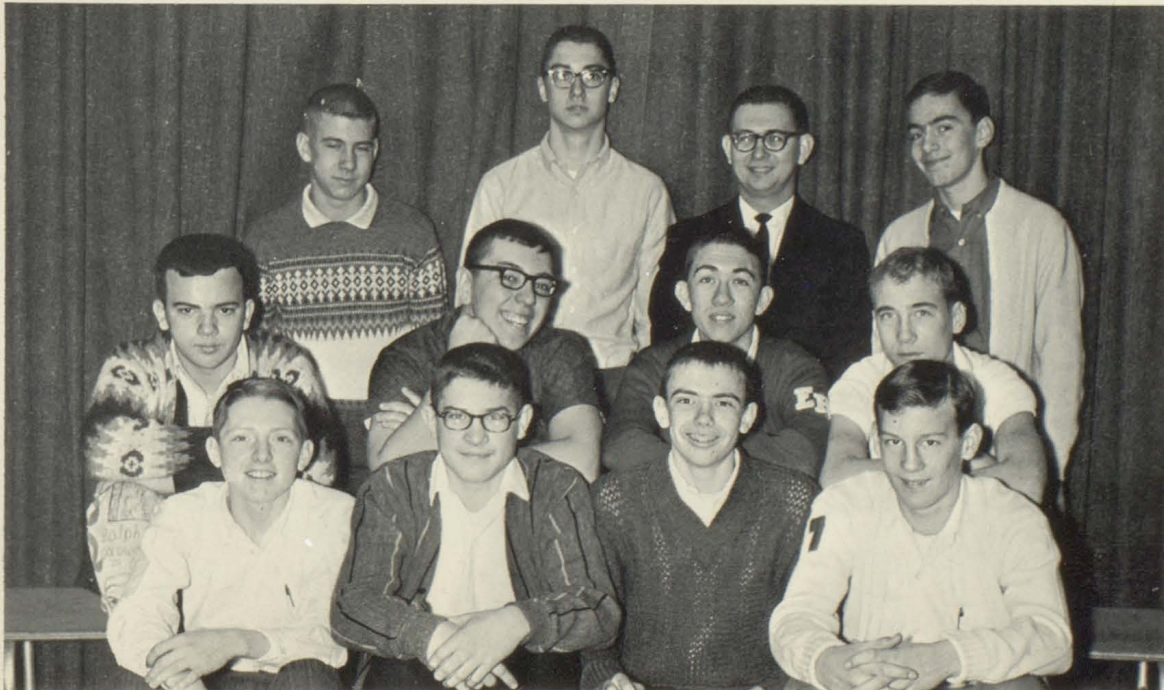

With both new blood and some expert mainstays, the Debate team began a spirited season. The highly controversial subject of complete medical care for all United States citizens proved an inexhaustible topic for argument.

Both the varsity and novice teams attended many tournaments and consistently received high ratings against competition from over the entire state.

Thespian officers are: Martha Litsey, secretary; Greg Tunis, president; Jim Baker, vice-president; Rick Cannon, treasurer; and Ann Webb, recorder.

The Thespian Society, under the direction of Mr. Donald Brown, has been exceptionally busy this year. A trip to Clowes Hall to see "Camelot" highlighted the activities. Among other events were the annual Christmas and Thanksgiving plays, and, in the spring, the Thespian Carnival. The entire group has grown and helped to give all a chance to show their ability in many ways.

Under the direction of Mrs. Sharp, the Latin Club develops an interest in Ancient Rome, its people, and its customs.

This year the Latin Club looked forward to its big event, the Latin Club Banquet, to which the French, Spanish, and Latin Clubs come dressed in their costumes designating their foreign lands. This spectacle again proved to be a great success.

Willkie's Modern Romance Language Clubs

As more and more people are gaining the experience of traveling abroad, the necessity of knowing the simple phrases of the country is essential. At the present, two-year courses are being offered in the modern foreign languages of French and Spanish.

With the French Club as their guests the Spanish Club concluded their party by breaking the traditional pinnata. Studying the language of "south of the border" countries brings many strange and interesting customs to light. With Mrs. Guerrero as their sponsor, the club elected these officers: Bruce Stevens, president; Bonnie Widmeyer, vice-president; Gary Hipes, treasurer; and Lynn Davies, secretary.

Spanish Club officers--Gary Hipes, Lynn Davies, Bonnie Widmeyer, and Bruce Stevens--count the "dinero" from their club dues.

Foster Goodwill Toward Foreign Nations

"L'orientation" is afforded to the French Club by its officers: Mary Scea, Mr. Herndon--sponsor, Janice Smith, and Lynne Galbreath.

As young "mesdames" and "messieurs" the members of the French Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Herndon, began the school year by electing Mary Scea, president; Lynne Galbreath, vice-president; Janice Smith, treasurer; and Lynnette Welcher, secretary. Expressing the Christmas spirit, they combined efforts with the Spanish Club to carol through the halls, singing in their respective languages. By studying the various aspects of the French culture the students are acquainted with the French people.

THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS

Academics are in reality the backbone of the school. They are also the backbone of the nation. To prepare students for the future is the reason the American school system was adopted. This objective is met primarily through the academic tensions of every day of the year.

Every student has the right to select for himself the type of study he believes will best suit his needs. Many different curricula are offered at Willkie High. For the college-bound students the academic and the technical courses are presented. The needs of the industrial student are filled by courses of study in home economics and in industrial arts. The student entering the complex world of business can best fulfill his ambitions by selecting the business education course.

Although academics are indeed time-consuming and hard work, happiness truly finds a place in all subjects. The joy of finding one's name on the Honor Roll, being selected for the National Honor Society, conquering a foreign language, performing an exciting experiment, and reading an exciting new novel are all condensed into these most important departments of life at Willkie, academics.

IN

Students of Willkie for the New Era

In this day and age science and mathematics are fast becoming the basis for learning in the New Era. In keeping with the pace of the country these classes prepare Willkie Highers for their entrance into this modern, highly complex world as mature, well-educated adults.

In biology, students experience the fun of tramping through vast fields, the precision exactness of dissecting an earthworm, and the rigid formality of making their herberia. To expand their knowledge in this "science of living organisms," students may meet the challenges of advanced biology. In such courses as chemistry, physics, and physical science the workings of our everyday world are learned through experiments with acids, bases, salts, heat, and light.

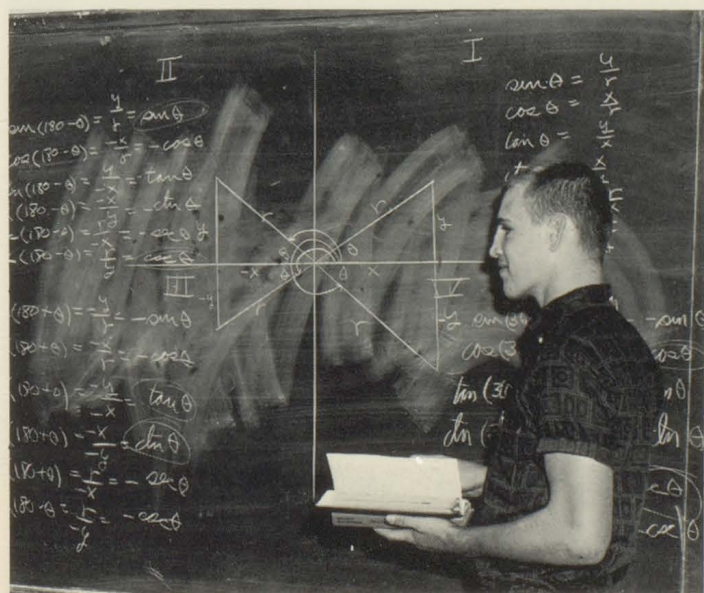

Knowledge is transferred to blackboard as students explain algebra problems.

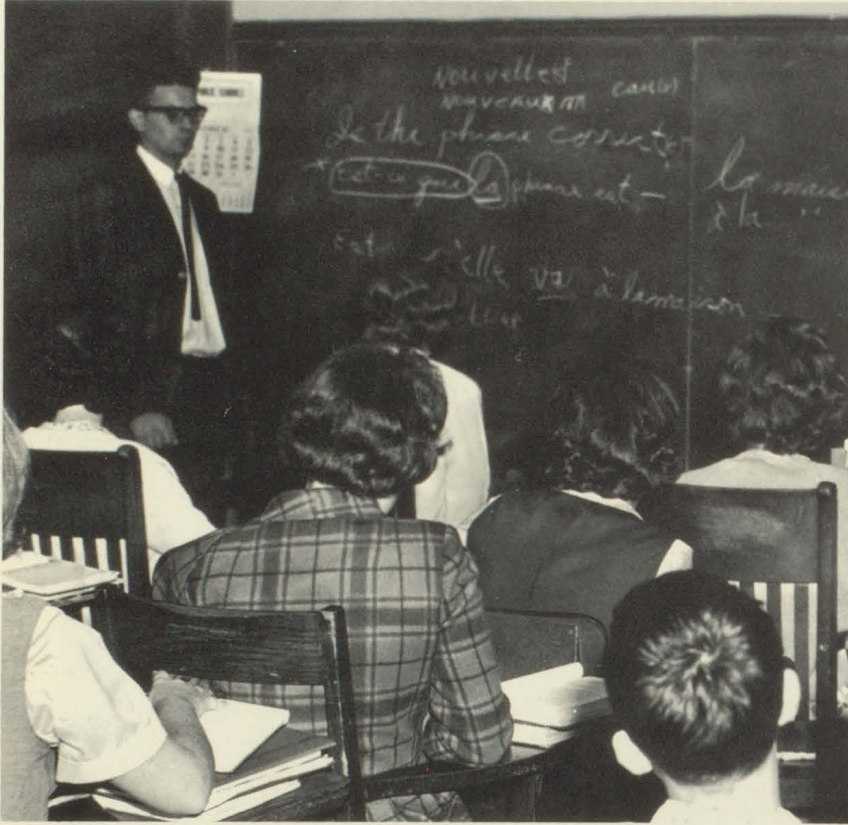

Brains are taxed as students struggle with advanced algebra test.

Dick Greenfield explains a perplexing trigonometry problem to the class.

Going along hand in hand with science is mathematics. This year Willkie's math department went through a process of reorganization. The course formerly offered as experimental algebra is now considered modern algebra. From this beginning course with its equations, through geometry with postulates, axioms, and proofs, students proceed into the accelerated courses. Advanced algebra, trigonometry, and solid geometry are offered to puzzle, profound, perplex, and prepare our outgoing seniors for this changing city, country, and world, whether they plan futures as skilled scientists or mathematicians or simply as well informed citizens.

Students Gain Skill in Our Native Tongue and

"Is the phrase correct?" Mr. Herndon asks his attentive French students.

One of the major objectives of the high school curriculum is the mastery of our native language. All Willkie students are required to take three years of English and many devote four years to attain this vital key of communication. The English courses are divided into two sections, grammar the first semester and literature the second. It is a common sight to see students passing in the halls muttering lines from Julius Caesar, or frantically filing note cards in the library a few days before the term paper deadline.

Advanced composition for seniors and speech and journalism are offered as electives to vary the approach to the subject.

Members of the journalism class scan the news of other schools in the Call-Leader as a comparison for their own handiwork in the "Willkie World."

Diana VanWinkle and Terry Murray find that Mrs. Guerrero's helpful hints and the use of a tape recorder add interest to the study of Spanish.

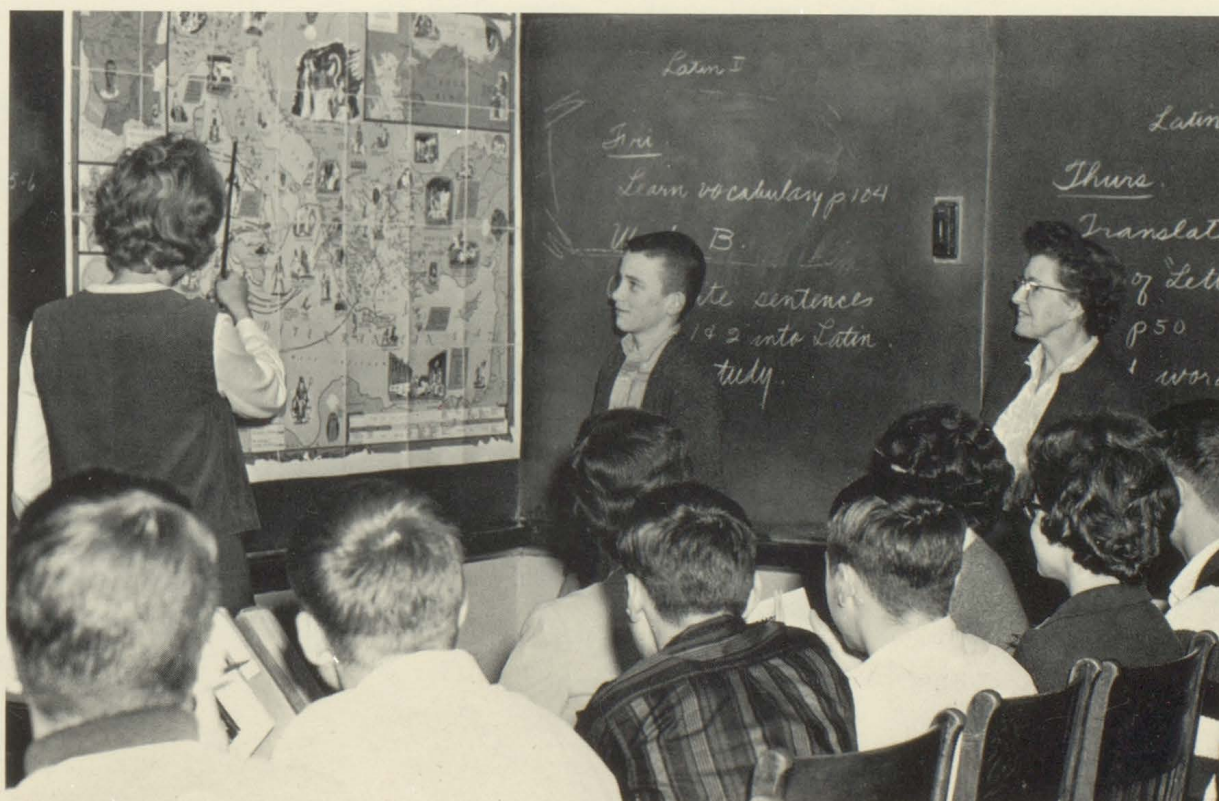

Attempt to Break the World's Language Barriers

As foreign language students try to baffle each other by tossing such phrases as "Salve," "Buenas dias," "Bonjour," or perhaps "Je vous aime" around, they are also aware of the importance of learning to communicate with peoples of other countries in this age of tourists, world conferences, hot lines, and the shrinking mile. To advance this understanding of foreign nations and to improve the usage of our English language, Willkie High offers two year courses in French, Spanish, and Latin.

The library provides additional information for comp class and Mrs. Barr supplies friendly advice.

"And here is Rome." The addition of a colorful, new map in Mrs. Sharp's Latin class was appreciated by all.

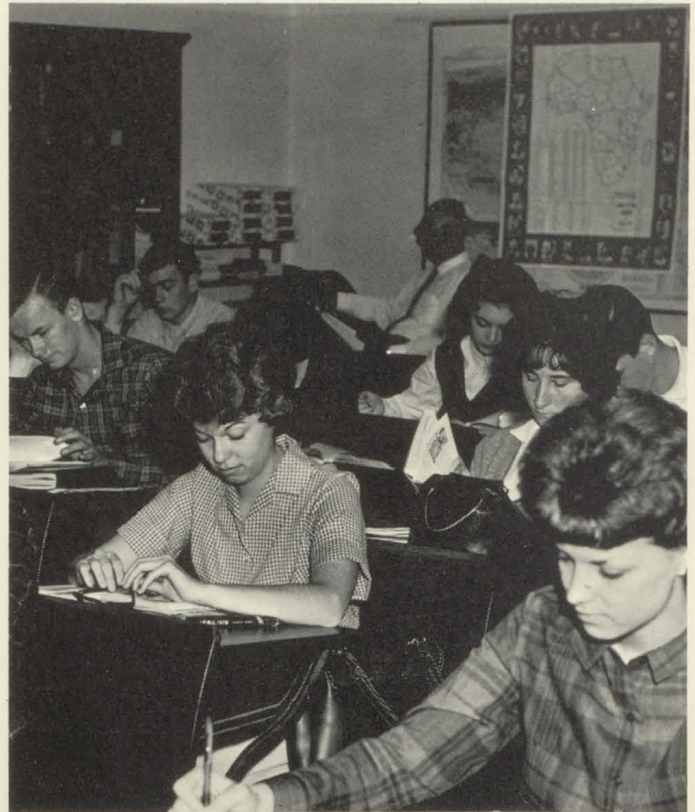

We Learn of Past, Present, and Future Through

Preparing the youth of our nation to become better citizens in a business-like world is the dual aim of two major fields of study at Willkie High, social studies and business.

Through American and world histories, psychology, economics, sociology, and government classes, we are informed of the defeats of the past and present so that we can build a more unified America in the future when the students of today will take their place in our democratic society.

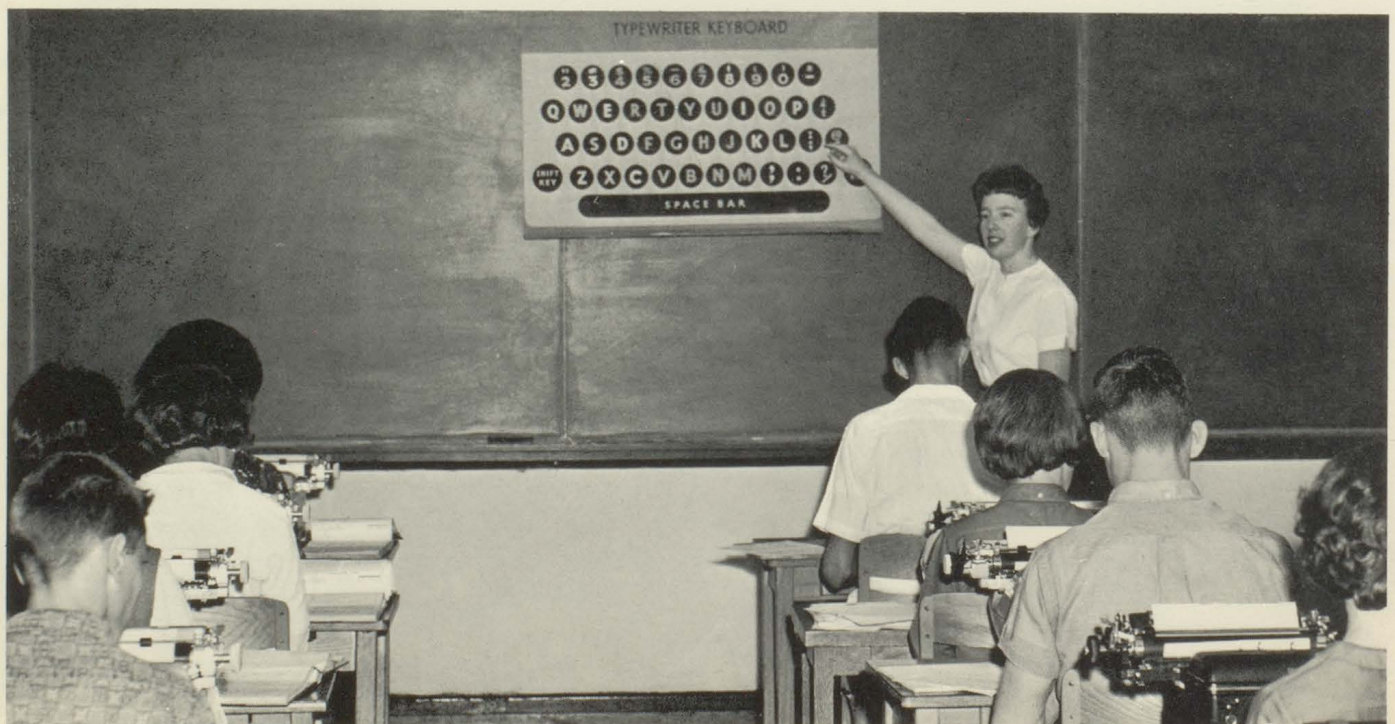

Going along hand in hand with social studies in preparing the student body for future years of life is business. A variety of subjects, ranging from typing to bookkeeping to business law, direct students toward business careers and the functions of these subjects in almost every conceivable walk of life.

The past, present, and future are in this way linked together by social studies and business.

Reading magazine articles or preparing the next chapter are these students in Mr. Peebles' sociology class.

Willkie Highers Demonstrate Dexterity

Industrial arts and agriculture are certainly two of the major factions of our nation. Without these, much of America would be lost. To prepare and educate our students, who would be teachers, engineers, and farmers of the future, is the intention of the industrial arts and agriculture departments of Willkie High.

Electricity, printing, mechanical drawing, woodworking, blue print reading, and machine shop are the major courses available to Willkie Highers. All of these phases are taught with the newest knowledge and equipment, and the strictest safety rules are enforced to provide our school with the maximum of industrial opportunities.

Readying our agriculture students for future vocations of farming, farm management, and research is the aim of the agriculture department. Farm shop and all phases of farming are offered. For those who do not necessarily desire to enter the different phases of farm life as an occupation, general agriculture is offered to develop an increased understanding and appreciation of the important place agriculture holds in the economic life of the nation.

D.C.E. and Home Economics Advance the

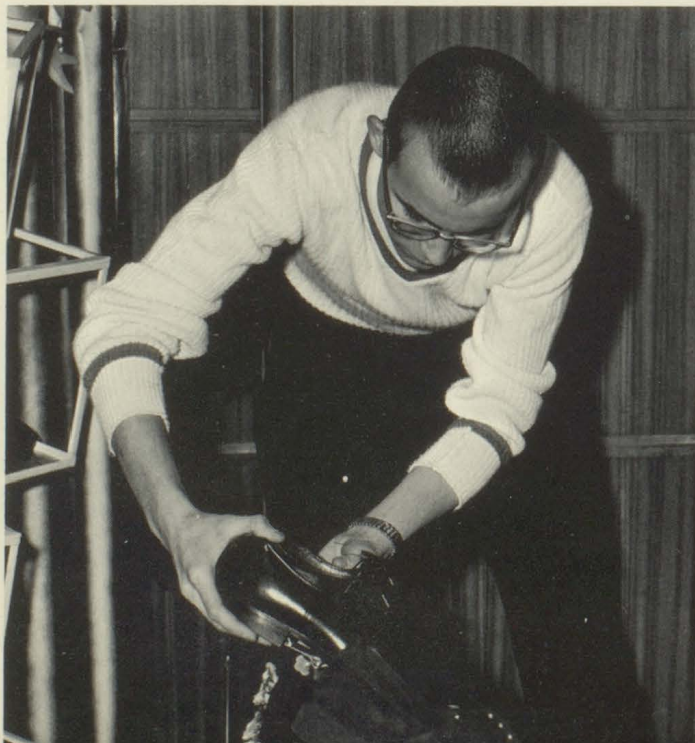

D.C.E. students combine school studies with employment as they learn by doing.

Diversified Cooperative Education, popularly known as D.C.E. is a vocational education program dedicated to preparing youth for useful employment. The student-learner is able to gain a practical work education, along with his regular high school course, and is preparing himself for full-time employment. All students are enrolled in a related study class which meets for a minimum of one regular class period each school day. Linked with these regular classes is the work experience, itself. Opportunity for learning is achieved under actual employment conditions, according to a plan or schedule jointly worked out by the teacher and the employer.

Jim Burwell prepares the crest for class rings, as he works at the J. Lewis Small Company.

Practical Aspects of Willkie Youth

Making a jelly roll is only one of the required projects in home economics class.

Home Economics is offered in high school to teach students about homemaking. These classes also offer a basic training for both girls and boys who plan to become clerks in clothing stores, waitresses, chefs, or nurses.

There are beginning and advanced classes in foods and clothing, in which consumer buying and nutrition are stressed. Child care, interior decorating, tailoring, and family relations are also available. There is a special two semester class for senior girls who have had no previous training in home economics. A boys' class is also available for junior and senior boys.

Clothing is a very essential section in Willkie's home economics department.

Health, Hustle, and Highways Combine with Freshman and sophomore boys learn the anatomy and care of the human body from Mr. Ward.

The boys' gym class demonstrates complex wrestling techniques.

Rounding the lives of Willkie students so that different fields of study can be recognized is the reason such practical courses as physical education, health, and driver's training are developed in today's curriculum. These studies can be used throughout the student's entire life.

To answer the current plea for physical fitness, Elwood offers an extensive program of physical education in the first two years of high school life. This course is alternated with health, another important phase of a well-rounded education.

One of the major responsibilities of a teenager's years is learning to drive carefully and considerately. In Willkie's driver education course students are taught with study and actual participation to ready themselves for this important part of life.

Developing the cultural tastes of the students is the object of the studies of music and art. The band, choir, glee club, beginning and advanced art provide an outlet for expression for those interested in these specialized fields of study.

Mr. Johnson prepares his driver's education students for that important trip to the license bureau.

"Ah, that third period harmony." The choir, under the direction of Mr. Stites, practices diligently for its many choral presentations throughout the year.

Art students, surrounded by displays of their many other achievements, concentrate on their sketches of the human body.

THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS

Athletics is indeed one of the most important segments of life at Willkie High School. The football field, the basketball court, and the track of today are the foundations of the lives of tomorrow. Athletics are encouraged for two primary reasons. These principles are team spirit and good sportsmanship. The important thing in athletics is not winning but taking part. The important thing in life is not conquering but fighting well.

Although the thought of victory provides the impetus in all sports, happiness also assumes a momentous role. The thrilling spectacle of the Star Spangled Banner, the screaming and yelling of fans supporting their team, the beautiful halftime victor and loser are truly examples of The Pursuit of Happiness.

Boosting the spirit of Willkie High even higher and performing many useful acts connected with Panther athletics are the major duties of the E-Men and the Pep Committee. Planning early season pep sessions, making plans for the decorating of the school, selling at basketball games, and providing the new flag and flagpole at our football field have all been accomplished by the E-Men and Pep Committee in 1963-1964.

Climaxes Panther Grid Wars

After three weeks of hard, aggressive summer practice and with sixteen return-lettersmen, the Elwood Panthers brought to a close the 1963 football season with a 4 win and 6 loss record. The Panthers quickly zoomed to a winning 3-0 record after their first three encounters. The victories included a 32-6 defeat of Hartford City in the opener, a 27-12 smashing victory against Alexandria in Elwood's 1963 Homecoming game, and a rough 20-13 victory over Plymouth.

At this point in the season, it looked as if the Panthers were going to have a tremendous football record. But our winning string was snapped at Madison Heights in a 20-13 defeat. Then after falling again to Tipton 31-6, Wabash 27-18, West Lafayette 21-6, and North Central 19-14, Elwood's long sought after fourth victory came over arch-rival and state-ranked Anderson by a bruising 21-20 count. The season closed with the Panthers bowing to Noblesville 28-20.

Assistant coaches R. Merritt and R. Manis plan Panther strategy with Varsity Coach J. Lods.

Although inexperienced in high school football, the Panther Freshmen showed a great deal of promise in 1963 with a 3-4-1 record.

With victories over Madison Heights, Hartford City, and Alexandria, and a tie with Noblesville, the Freshmen showed what football players are made of in their initial high school step toward the varsity.

Tom Mengelt connects for another bingle to advance the base runners.

Diamondmen Tally Winning Scores

Willkie High's baseball aggregation fought its way to a well-earned 14-5-1 record this past summer due to great pitching and timely hitting.

The Panthers pitching staff combined to limit the opponent to a mere two runs per ball game while the Elwood batsmen contributed an average of over five runs for each contest.

Coach Moore's team placed second in the Mid-Central Conference with 7 wins and 3 losses, and then was defeated in the MCC Tourney by Highland.

Netmen and Golfers Supply

The Panther netmen, playing under Coach Ray Manis, exhibited their talents in the late spring. Three seniors and four juniors made up the 1963 crew, whose season record showed stirring wins over New Castle and Tipton. Although plagued by inexperience, the netters gained a fine fifth place finish in the ever-powerful C.I.C. Conference meet held at Peru.

This year's lettermen included seniors Charles Bock, who was the recipient of the tennis trophy at the annual All-Sports Banquet. Dion Goings, and Bruce Adair, juniors who rounded out the lettermen were Greg Gardner, Bruce Stevens, Larry Shaw, and David Klumpp.

Willkie with Swinging Seasons

The Panther golf team started the 1963 season with high hopes and an abundance of enthusiasm. Throughout the season they defeated Highland, Alexandria, Pendleton, Middletown, Tipton, and Frankton while compiling a 6-6 record. Bill Jarvis was the only graduating senior on the divot digger crew. Lou Gerig, with three years of varsity experience, received the golf trophy at the All-Sports Banquet.

The 1963 Panther Track Team was comprised largely of underclassmen. Jim Pantos was the only senior. He ran the 100-yard and the 220-yard dashes and was lead-off man on the 880 Relay Team. Ron Drake, a junior, and sophomores Richard Leavell and Lyle Robinson were the main scorers. Ron's speciality was the low hurdles in which he advanced to sixth place in the state finals after winning the sectional and finishing fourth in the regional. He received the Outstanding Track Athlete Award presented by the Panther Coaching Staff. The team attained a record of 3 wins against 8 losses, placed ninth in the C.I.C. and seventh in the sectional.

The 1963 Cross Country team eclipsed last season's all-time record of 7-4 by winning 10 out of 11 meets. Coached by Gerald Burton, the team seemed to have winged heels as they sprinted past their opponents. Jim Watters broke the Elwood course record by running a fast 10:05.5. His best time was 9:40 at Wabash. Jim placed fourth in the sectional to qualify for the regional. The team finished second in the C.I.C. and fifth in the sectional.

State Ranking of 13th Highlights Strong Season

Getting off to a shaky start, the Panthers of 1963-1964 lost three of their first five games, facing such highly-regarded opponents as Kokomo, Tech, and Huntington.

After clobbering the Noblesville Millers at home, the Panthers were shocked by a reversed decision of the Holiday Tourney. The consolation game with rival Alexandria, however, was salvaged.

Sparked by a convincing and state-acclaimed 74-72 victory over unbeaten and second-ranked Tipton, the Panthers, boasting a rating of 13th in the state, won the last five contests of the season. This excellent finish provided fans and players with a good 12-8 record and the silver horseshoe for the Panther trophy case.

The B-team of Willkie High provided fans with a glimpse of the future as they hustled to a good 14-6 season record. Victories over such well-regarded teams as Tipton, Kokomo, Noblesville, and Indianapolis Tech sparked the season. Showing the same full-court fight and determination as the varsity Panthers, Coach Jim Lods' B-team of 1963-1964 prepared for future Panther competition.

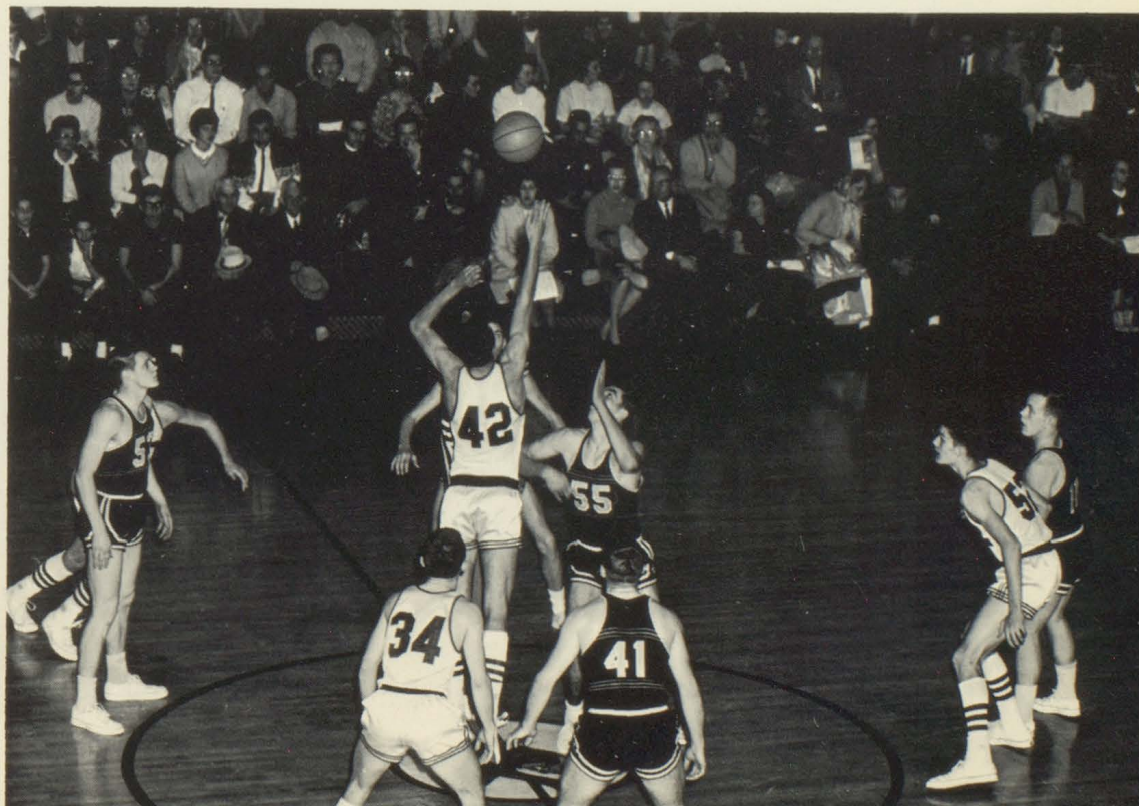

As They Await Their Turn for Panther Greatness

Eager Panthers await opening tip-off of Noblesville game.

Beginning their high school basketball careers, the freshmen of Willkie High fought to an excellent 12-4 season record. Gaining experience for later B-Team and Varsity action, Coach Jerry Burton's Freshman Team won Elwood's Tourney by defeating Alexandria, Tipton, and Highland.

"All for Elwood Stand Up and Holler . . ."

The Booster Club generates enthusiasm as it rallies behind the mighty Panthers.

During the pep sessions this year both coaches, Mr. Manis and Mr. Lods, emphasized the importance of school support for the athletes who represent us on the gridiron and the gym floor. In response to this plea, forty junior and senior boys joined together to form a Boys' Booster Club for the first time in Willkie High's history.

This club and the fine Girls' Booster Club met for regular practices with the cheerleaders every week during the basketball season to learn new yells and prepare for the games. The boys were required to wear white shirts and the girls obtained new red and blue blouses this year. This entire club, supervised throughout the year by Mrs. Watson, Mr. Jenkins, and Mr. Brugger, constituted a solid block of support to back the mighty Panthers in their sporting endeavors. As a result, school spirit was manifested and the team enjoyed widespread support.

Cheerleaders Initiate Enthusiasm As

"Go get 'em Panthers--go get 'em" was one of the cries of the Elwood cheerleaders as they cheered the mighty Panthers on to victory.

This year's varsity cheerleaders were Seniors; Elaine Etchison, Lynne Galbreath, and Nada Osting; and Juniors; Dodi Frost and Sherry Taylor.

These five girls have an endless job, which requires countless hours of practice. Practice, however, is not the only job for a good cheerleader. School spirit has to be kept at its highest level at all times, and the cheerleaders must make sure this is done.

Leading cheers for the B-team were Marilyn Bambrough, Marsha Burton, Marina Lane, and Martha Oldag. These four girls busied themselves by adding the extra support the team needed.

The Freshman cheerleaders for 1963-64 were Marla Rogers, Joyce Mountcastle, Kathy Tharp.

Midway through basketball season Marsha Burton was promoted to a varsity cheerleader position, and Sandy Dellinger was appointed to the B-team.

Varsity cheerleaders: Sheryl Taylor, Lynn Galbreath, Elaine Etchison, Dodi Forst, Nada Osting.

THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS

Personalities are essential to Willkie High. Personalities are Willkie High. A school is not a building, a collection of books, or rows of desks. A school is people: people who administer, people who teach, people who advise, people who serve, people who learn, people who are happy, all combine to produce the spirit of friendliness in our school. We greet friends as we pass them in the halls, eat with them in the cafeteria, ride the bus to school with them, sit beside them in the classroom, and dance with them at the Den.

The face of Willkie is constantly changing. As seniors march down the aisle to receive their diplomas, there is always another class preparing to take their place, and each influx of new students is a reservoir of potential friends. Although the classes, Den nights, Megaphone meetings, paper drives, and class plays will soon be left behind, many of our high-school relationships will mature into life-long friendships.

No man is completely isolated; our lives are enlightened and enriched, and our personal pursuit of happiness is furthered by the presence of the friends we cherish. Personalities ARE Willkie High.

Cooks, Custodians Are Busy and Friendly to All

High school cafeteria cooks are Lucy Manis, Hazel Warner, and Thelma Lowder.

Sophomores and Juniors Advance with the Lead

The Junior Class always seems to be the busiest, and this year was no exception. After the important election of class officers, with the capable help of their sponsors and steering committee they got their first big project, a car wash, underway. A Christmas bake sale and many other projects followed to provide financial aid for the Prom.

ership of Their Officers and Steering Committee

The sophomores elected class officers for the first time and started organizing money-making projects. To start the year they had a very profitable window wash, passed out hand bills, and learned to work together as a class.

The activities of the Class of '66 were guided by Steve Poole--president, Susan Pearson--vice-president, Linda Oliver--secretary, and Susan Forst--treasurer.

"Senior Ship" Kept Us True to Our Course

On September 2, 1960, Wendell L. Willkie High School unfolded another page of history as the Class of 1964 began its apprenticeship of learning. With the election of our class representatives, we uneasily settled down into the new routine.

The second step of our high school career brought new and larger responsibilities. Realizing these challenges, we elected our first set of class officers: Jim Baker, president; Tom Mengelt, vice-president; Mary Scea, secretary; and Bonnie Widmeyer, treasurer. Paper drives and bake sales were the largest sources of financial aid, as we prepared for our later high school days. The ordering of our class rings and sweaters were evidence to all of the pride we had for our class.

As the school year 1962-1963 began, we were assuming our roles as upper-classmen. President Gregory Tunis, Vice-president Greg Gardner, Secretary Nada Osting, and Treasurer George Stevens led us in this, our busiest year yet. More paper drives, bake sales, and our large class project, a stationery sale, gave us added funds for our exquisite prom, "Heavenly." This was also the year our scholarship was recognized as seventeen students, the largest number in the school's history, were inducted as probationary members into the National Honor Society.

And now we are seniors. Our goals have been achieved. Electing our final set of class officers, we chose Jim Baker, president; Dick Greenfield, vice-president; Cathy Yarling, secretary; and George Stevens, treasurer. Miss Marsha Buzzard was selected to reign over our 1963 Homecoming, which was sparkled by a victory over arch-rival Alexandria 27-12. Our senior athletes helped the mighty Panthers gain state-wide recognition as we defeated highly ranked Anderson in football and second-ranked Tipton in basketball. We sold candy to raise money for our final class project, a swinging prom band. After our amateur actors and actresses presented our junior class play, "Beauty and the Beef," another comedy was selected for the traditional senior play. "The Courtship of Eddie's Father" proved a success and was enjoyed by both the school and the community. The prom, senior week, baccalaureate, and commencement followed. Each step has now been completed. As we move on to new horizons and acquire new ideals, we will always remember these years at Willkie High. They were the great years in our Pursuit of Happiness.

Senior sponsors, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Hiatt, Mrs. Sharp, Mr. Singleton, Mr. Reeser, and Mr. Snyder, gave encouragement and assistance in our projects.

THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS

The practice of advertising is one of the basic elements of our nation's free enterprise system. It is the practice which is beneficial to both the distributor and the consumer alike, especially in a town the size of Elwood, which fosters a friendly relationship between the two. The same persons we support with our patronage are the ones with whom we attend church or with whom we chat at ball games, or whom we hail on the streets.

The advertising media has a profound effect upon our society, and its far-reaching influence can produce happiness: happiness in effective selling, in confident buying, and through a friendly, sincere means of communication.

Sure you do. (You just did.) You're curious. You have an inquiring mind. You're very fortunate. Inquiring minds have a lot more fun than if-it-was-good-enough-for-my-father-it's-good-enough-for-me-type minds. ■ Take a look at the young scientists at Delco-Remy's Research and Engineering Center in Anderson. They solve problems using everything from an electron microscope that can magnify the diameter of a human hair to a width of 150 feet to an instrument that can cut an inch of material into a million parts. They work side by side with other scientists who are developing things like electronic ignition systems for cars and control devices for missiles and rockets. ■ Beginning to think research can be fun? You're right. If you enjoyed your high school science courses, perhaps you should think about making a career in research. Don't get the idea that it'll be a snap, though. You'll need to tackle a lot of preparatory study and hard work in college. But if you've got what it takes, maybe we can get together sometime and play around with a new discovery or two.
