MADISON-GRANT

A New Perspective

A New Perspective

*Madison-Grant High School

Fairmount, IN 46928
(765)948-4141*

We can easily say that out of all of the years at Madison-Grant, the 2014-2015 school year has been the most technologically advanced, record breaking, and overall the most memorable. First of all, we were granted a new perspective under the guidance of a new principal, Mrs. Roth, who has done a tremendous job spreading encouragement with her kind spirit. It was a change than many of us had never experienced before. While traditions stayed the same, many things changed for the better.

Instead of having snow days to make up, we started having school at home, which is officially called an E-learning day. Students worked on their iPads and turned in assignments through various websites and apps. Classes started relying more on the use of iPads, making them an essential tool of the school day. This year was also the year the boy's basketball team won sectional. It had been almost twenty years since the Argylls had won that title. Many athletes broke personal records while coming close to breaking school records. The school also supported many crucial organizations that help those in need. The Spanish Club raised money for UNICEF and the Grant County Humane Society. The school participated in a pajama challenge and class fundraising to raise awareness of childhood cancer and for the childhood cancer research organization, Cure Search. Finally, all of these impressive achievements were documented through social media with the hashtag #WeAreMG. These new perspectives have helped us in positive ways and have made the school shine.

"QUOTE ME"

The first step to Madison-Grant High School, I was so nervous. I was scared not having any friends here, but it wasn't like what I thought it would be. The first day many people wanted to get to know me and talk to me, but at that time my English wasn't good enough, so I didn't really answer and ask questions. But everybody still wanted to talk to me which made me feel so good, and I really appreciated that because that means they really wanted to know me and be my friend. A few months pass by, and my English skills get better. I am able to talk more and catch up on what people say and then I started to get more and more friends. I got to do many activities in school and most are my first time such as choir, academic team, and softball team. Thank you for accepting me and thank you for not giving up on me when my English wasn't good.

Faculty and Staff

Behind every successful school is a backbone of dedicated and spirited faculty and staff. Madison-Grant's teachers, administrators, and staff are no exception. Cheerful, helpful, supportive, and kind are only a few of the words that would describe Madison-Grant's faculty. The students of MG are incredibly lucky to attend a school with such a great variety of staff and faculty.

M G Clubs

At Madison-Grant High School, clubs mean a lot to the students. Clubs are a great way to be active in their school spirit while making life-long friends and memories along the way. These fun-loving, involved students pour their energy into the things they enjoy most. Whether they enjoy the booming excitement of a basketball game and want to be a part of the screaming and cheering student section, love the spotlight being on them as they take the stage to sing and dance their heart out, or enjoy the simple, yet exciting, round of a Jeopardy-esque academic team meet, there is something for everyone at Madison-Grant.

A-Team isn't just a bunch of rowdy kids who dress in crazy outfits to yell at the opposing teams during the games. A-Team is a special group of students who go above and beyond to show their spirit for their school and the players on every team. With such a group of supporting students, you can not only hear the applause and shouts for the team, you can hear the laughter and cheers coming from each person in the crowd. "A-Team was an awesome way to support our athletic teams this year and I love how involved we got in the games." Says senior, Faith Kitts. The A-Team works their hardest to bring the Argyll spirit and excitement to any major sporting event at Madison-Grant.

The academic team is one of a few teams that does more than just compete. Coach Pugsley wants the players to learn how to work as teammates and how to be good hosts to the other teams. Friendships have been made from seeing each team twice a year. Senior Marshall Carey says the best part of academic team is, "Interacting with the students from different schools and simply having fun." The academic team didn't have a stellar year as far as winning, but they did have several close meets which could have been won with quicker buzzes. The varsity ended the season with a record of 6 wins and 5 losses, and the junior varsity ended with 3 wins and 7 losses, but they had fun along the way.

(Below) The Northeast Indiana and Northwest Ohio Regional Scolastics Art Awards Competition had 2,889 art entries this year, and two of them were some of our very own students, Matthew Fletcher and Abby Manwell, both seniors. The two were honored at the Grand Wayne Center in Fort Wayne. Matthew's colored pencil drawing Thirty More Miles and Abby's Wagon Wheel Basket were exhibited at the Fort Wayne Museum of Art from February to April. Mathew's piece went on to national judging and Abby's basket won 1st place.

This years Art Club was filled with an excellent and talented group of students that shine through with creativity and new perspectives. Multiple activities took up the club, thanks to Ms. Solms, and students had a blast from field trips to meetings and even contest winners for amazing art work. These talented kids love to show off their abilities and always look for a creative outlook.

(Below) The Art Association of Madison County has shown a deep interest in Madison Grant students this year. This association sponsored a contest to create interest and a higher standard of art among all 10 schools in Madison County. Winners included Abby Manwell, Sara Scott, Holly Webb, and Mackenzie Hall. Thier work was displayed at the Anderson Center for the Arts from April 2nd-14th.

Concert band members made amazing memories during the football season by keeping up the school spirit and standing in the bipolar Indiana weather. From extremely hot afternoons to freezing cold rainy nights, concert pep band members are motivated by music.

Not only do the band members work hard all year, Mrs. Caudill works the hardest to teach every member. As seen above on the left, she is conducting at a home basketball game. To the right, there are more band members performing pep band music at their last home basketball game of the year. Members have worked hard all year to bring happiness to the crowd and cheer on basketball players.

(Above) Before pep music is played at football games, there are outdoor arranged practices to perfect the performance for players and fans.

Striving to become better every day, concert band members are dedicated to what they do best. Members do a variety of things such as creating school spirit by playing at football and basketball games and performing at multiple concerts such as band spectacular and the Christmas concert in December. During spirit week, concert band members parade through the hallways to pump up other other students for the football games. Concert band is a full time job that students gladly take on.

Throughout the year there are concerts, such as the Christmas concert above, held in the school auditorium that create a fantastic musical environment for the audience.

Throughout the school year, the jazz band plays at many places and wows many audiences. They work together to incorporate dedication, music appreciation, talent, and, of course, fun into what they do. They perform in the James Dean parade, at both elementary schools, at the Scholastic Awards Banquet, and at the Festival of Trees, just to name a few. One of the many adventures of the jazz band is going to a Pacers game. On their way to perform this year they experienced another adventure of having their bus break down. Finally, when asked what her favorite memory from jazz band is, Senior Elizabeth Mathews said, "being in the James Dean parade and seeing people dancing and enjoying our music".

Right and Below: Showing that ArGuys and Gals is more than being serious performers on stage, the members take multiple not-so-serious pictures together.

The ArGuys and Gals are comprised of talented singers and dancers who devote their time to giving spectacular performances. The club gives the students an outlet to do what they love most. Once in the group, the members instantly form a close bond with one another. These two factors allow for amazing friendships to be made and for amazing performances to happen on stage.

Below: The girls line up for their final bow after a performance showing off their nicknames on the back of their shirts.

Starfire is not a typical group of choir students. Starfire is more than that, they are like a family. Each girl in Starfire has a talent that carries them through their Starfire experience and makes the group sound beautiful. Not only do the girls practice in class each day, they spend hours each week after school rehearsing and practicing for upcoming shows. Starfire is taken very seriously, and the hard work is evident. But while working hard, the girls also manage to have fun too. Memories are created that each Starfire member will take with them for the rest of their lives. Senior, Maria Shelby says this about her experience in Starfire: "The last four years have been a blast with all the girls. I have made so many fun memories".

This year's Concert Choir has done an exceptional job in their performances. Hard work and effort proved itself on stage and off. Between performances and class time, friendships formed and allowed not only outstanding singing, but wacky moments and off stage activities. Some of those moments included the dress up days during homecoming week and holiday spirit between Halloween and Christmas. Pictures really captured the smiles and bonds between classmates, proving yet another talented year for our one and only Concert Choir.

Solo & Ensemble

The preparation for Solo and Ensemble is a very time consuming and vigorous few months. Students join ensembles to either sing or play their instruments together, or they go solo. According to senior Elizabeth Mathews, "Solo and Ensemble helped me to prove to myself, my peers, and my school that you can accomplish anything that you work hard enough for, and that if you want that gold medal bad enough, you will have to earn it and pray that you get an awesome judge." Whether the students walk out with gold, silver, or bronze medals, the pressure and fun of Solo and Ensemble is one that is unforgettable. Friendships are built and memories are made that will last a lifetime.

Bonjour! We've had an exciting, and fun, field trip filled year in French Club! We've done everything from busy club meetings, visiting a French Circus and even eating at the fancy French based restaurant, "The Melting Pot." Throughout these trips, we have each created new friendships and recognized how wonderful the French culture really is. With our club officers all being underclassmen, we are guaranteed a thrilling club for next year!

Over the course of a year, the Spanish Club accomplished many great things and threw many fiestas. Some of their major accomplishments were raising more than $400 for UNICEF and hosting a community euchre tournament to raise money for a humane society. Some of their fiestas included a movie night and a trip to eat at Casa Brava. The Spanish Club is a great opportunity to integrate culture and fun to accomplish great things. Senior Jamie Moriarity says, "El Club de Español es bueno para los estudiantes porque en esta club nosotros aprendemos y ayudamos otras personas. Estos estudiantes son algunos de los mejores en esto colegio, y son orgullosos ser en el club".

Peer Tutors

Peer tutors are some of the most caring and willing people at Madison-Grant. They go beyond their school stresses to be amazing friends to their fellow life skills classmates, making them such great role models. They help with homework, read along with them, take trips to the gym, and participate in many field trips. Some of their field trips consisted of going to the corn maze, the park, the zoo, and of course their trips to walk around the mall every Thursday. Not only are these kids being helped, they are also taught how to have fun along the way. Junior Chesney Shonk says that being a peer tutor is a great experience because she "gets to help the kids and learn more about them individually".

Cadet Teaching

Every year, a group of students sign up to become a part of the cadet teaching program. These students take a period out of their day to volunteer their time helping students at either Park or Summitville Elementary School. This course provides an excellent opportunity for students who may have an interest in teaching or childcare to gain real life experience in the field. Senior Cheyanne Hasty says, "I don't want a career in teaching, but I know for the job I want, I am going to be around children, and this class is good experience."

Q: "What is your favorite part of Student Council?"

A: "My favorite part about student council is being able to be a part of the decision making process for things that affect the entire student body. It's one thing just to have an opinion; but it's another thing to actually do something about it."

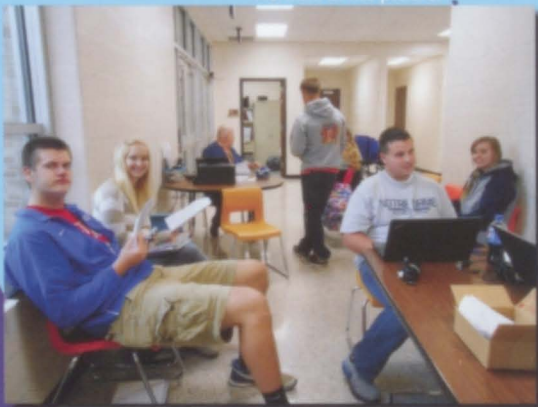

Right: Class officers line from seniors in the front row to freshmen in the very back, showing the how hard the seniors have worked to earn their spot in the front of the picture.

Only a few students from each class are elected by their peers to represent their fellow classmates as a student council officer. These hardworking and determined students collaborate to make decisions that will reflect each class. This year they had multiple jobs, including helping decide events and prepare for the eventful week of homecoming and running the blood drive twice a year. They view and admire the work of officers from previous years, so they can be representatives for their classmates that are just as good if not better than those of the past.

National Honor Society is a select group of students who participate in things to benefit others. These kids put on the annual Silent Christmas Auction in which all the money raised goes towards giving Christmas to others. This year they also received a grant for the community, so they packed boxes with food for families to have over Spring Break. NHS "shows how hard work and dedication can pay off. The best part of NHS is when you get to help the community and be able to have fun with friends and make new ones," say Seniors Elizabeth Mathews and Faith Kitts. These kids are all about character, leadership, scholarship, and service, but that doesn't stop them from having fun along the way.

Above and left: Being typical teenage hooligans, part of the yearbook staff climbed out a window and onto the roof to take some fun pictures. While being lectured by cautious "moms," the hooligans weren't allowed to get too close to the edge, but it still made for some fun pictures to document how fun yearbook really can be even with all the stress of making deadlines.

Along with the official staff members, this year we had an honorary staff member, Elizabeth Mathews (12). Elizabeth helped the staff by taking pictures of many sporting events and helping with the captions for some of the more complicated sports. Elizabeth was more than willing to do anything asked of her even when she wasn't technically a part of the staff.

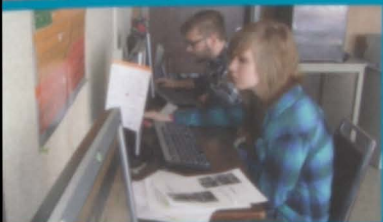

Being spread across three class periods first semester was definitely a challenge for a staff of seven people. The challenges continued when one staff member dropped the class, and we had another staff member join the class. Only two of the eight had previous experience making the yearbook which put the year to a slow start. Kelsey Laycock summed up the year in one word as "stressful" while Jake Kozlowski summed it up as "mystical." The differing opinions show how the year really went. It's always stressful leading up to a deadline with Herff Jones, but when we make the deadline it's a huge weight lifted off our shoulders, as if it is mystical. Alexis King's favorite part of being involved with yearbook is, "Capturing fun moments of big events throughout the year." The book represents a small year in the lives of the students and faculty, and the book stands to represent a small portion of Madison-Grant history. While the history may not change much year to year, the staff does their best to document what a year is like at Madison-Grant so that in years to come, the book can be looked at as a moment frozen in time.

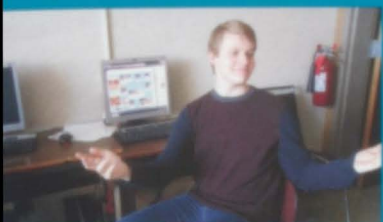

Left: New to the yearbook staff, junior Robby Neubauer came into this class with a positive attitude and lots of great ideas for the yearbook. He took on the role as copy editor and worked everyday to make sure the book was becoming the best book possible. Robby says, "My favorite part of yearbook is the community-esque feel of the class. Everyone in the class is connected and works together to reach a common goal: making a successful yearbook. No one is excluded. I feel that is what separates yearbook from other classes."

Left: Senior Faith Hawkins has been a loyal staff member for two years. Although she had to miss first semester this year, she came back with a positive attitude to help finish the yearbook and make it fantastic. Faith says, "The best part of yearbook is seeing it all come together in the end. It's worth the stress and hard work."

Above: Robby Neubauer (11) and Emily Armstrong (10) work hard.

Jake Kozlowski and Robby Neubauer

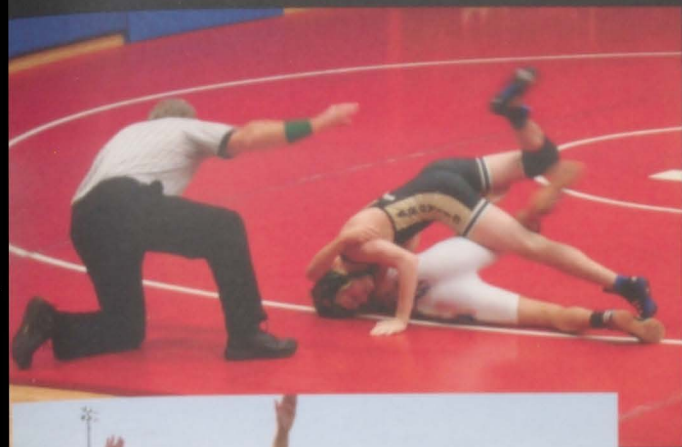

The surrounding photos of juniors Jake Kozlowski and Robby Neubauer show a brotherhood that was formed during third period second semester. They both have killer fashion sense often times wearing button ups and then just buttoning the top button. At times they twinned by wearing the same button up. In difficult, stressful times for Robby, Jake was always there to console him. They did everything together like making runs to sell ads, making trips to talk to teachers, and making trips to the bathroom to take pictures.

Sports

2014 - 2015

Argyll athletics is something that is not taken lightly here at Madison-Grant. Years of hardwork, sweat, and determination is what fills every one of the Argyll athletes. From fall sports to winter basketball all the way to spring, dozens of students participate in Madison-Grant's athletic system. This year it was full of events that made memories to last a lifetime, such as the boy's basketball team winning sectional for the first time in 10 years. This year was just the beginning for some students in their high school athletic career, while it is the last year for some students who have dedicated much of their life to the sports they love. The love of the sports shine through every athlete and at any event held you can hear the excitement and support from every fan in the crowd cheering on their Argylls.

remember when...

All seemed lost, and the team was down after two straight losses. After having an action packed 28-28 first half against Elwood, the second half was rained out. The Argyll boys came back the following Saturday morning and dominated the second half. The final score was 66-42, and many realized the true potential of the team. The coaches and the fans realized this, but most importantly, the players realized this.

This year's group of Argyll football players overcame a lot of obstacles. There were many doubts about this year's team due to the small number of players. Although the team may not have been large, they definitely worked hard. From summer practices twice a day, to early Saturday morning film, every player did their part to make sure the team was successful this season. With all the emotion and effort put into the year, the team reached their goal, a winning season record. Now, of course like every year, the seniors will move on. However, this year's group of seniors really helped shape the foundation of the Argyll football program.

Taking the hand off, Sophomore Luke Stroup (#23) runs hard for an Argyll first down.

Senior quarterback and kicker Dakota Brooks (#3) prepares to kick the ball deep down the field.

Rushing through the open holes of the defense, Senior running back Cam Myers (#44) is off for the endzone.

Senior Dakota Brooks (#3) follows a great block by fellow Senior, Jacob Johnson (#53) on a quarterback keeper.

Confidently carrying the ball, sophomore Adam Dreaden (#1) heads down the field against Eastern.

Junior Chase Bramel (#11) prepares to juke his way through the Eastbrook defense.

Excitement flies as a few of the Argyll players celebrate a touchdown.

Set, hut! The Argyll boys line up before the snap.

Senior running back Cam Myers fights for, and gets another Argyll first down.

The 2015 volleyball teams accomplished many outstanding goals throughout the year. The Argyll varsity volleyball players ended the season with 24 wins and nine losses. The JV team ended the year with 22 wins and five losses. The girls worked very hard throughout the season playing their best and utilizing their fantastic teamwork skills. When asked what made this year of volleyball different than any other year, Coach Holloway said, "At the beginning of the season, we were ranked 6th in the state. Our team fought through many tough matches and times to finish the season ranked 3rd." Overall, the team had a great season.

Scholars and athletes strive for success in the classroom and on the court. These boys work hard in the classroom so they can work hard on the basketball court. Their hard work led to some great victories that took valiant effort. With five seniors, four of whom start varsity, next year will give the team a new perspective. The seniors led the team in scoring averages, rebounds, blocks, assists, and steals. While the boys didn't do as well as they had hoped in some areas, the varsity boys ended the season with a winning record of 15-10, the JV boys with a record of 13-8, and the freshmen boys ended the season strong winning four out of their last five games. For many, the highlight of the year was winning sectionals for the first time since 1996, the year the seniors were born. They were the biggest underdogs in the sectional which led to one of the biggest upsets in the state. Jordan Crume wraps up the season as saying, "We have Tipton's nets." of course, refering to when they beat Oak Hill in the sectional game at Tipton High School and got to cut down the nets.

The Girls Basketball team had a pretty great record this year, as noted by coach Tom Leas. The girls team has impressed and is continuing to impress many people with the growth that they've gained from the dedication to the sport and to becoming better athletes. With each team being mostly or all underclassmen, the progress being made will continue paying off into the next season. This season, the three graduating seniors and the abundance of incoming freshman allows for a great diversity of players. This has given the seniors the opportunity to pass on their knowledge of the sport to the freshman. The progress among the players has pleased many during this season and has left many eager to see how their progress will advance.

The Argyll cheerleaders are some of the most committed and peppy people in the school. Hours of practicing and stunting goes into every season of the year. Every cheerleader works their hardest to bring school spirit to every game and show the Argyll pride, even in the hallways by sporting their uniforms and bows. Co-captain of the cheer squad and four year varsity member, Elia Marshall shares her experience while being an Argyll cheerleader: "Being on the cheer quad was one of the best choices I have ever made. It has taught me many life lessons I can use in the future." Jenna Engelhardt coaching her last year this year leaves an impressionable impact on her cheerleaders and will always be known for her positive attitude and the passion she had for coaching. Engelhardt's wise words and advice will always be something left behind to keep the girls striving forward. The smiling faces of every cheerleader can be seen at every football and basketball game cheering on their fellow Argylls!

"Coaching cheerleading has always been something I have enjoyed. Watching the girls perform on the court at games and realizing all the hours of hard work that went into that performance is rewarding. These girls will always be close to my heart."

Lifters

Lifters this year included Seniors, Brady Simpson and Jacob Sallee, as well as Sophomores Jacob Moore, Joey Harrell, and Freshmen, Mason Meranda, Jonny Meisner, and Alex Thompson. Not only have the boys brought humor and fun to the squad they have helped master many stunts that would never be possible without their strength and patience. Unfortunately, with all of their busy schedules it was nearly impossible to get a group picture.

The tennis players worked incredibly hard all season to have a successful year. Behind their success were many different things: supportive coaches, dedicated managers, teamwork, and always having fun. Brantley Butcher (12) says what sets tennis apart from other sports is the amount of fun had during the season. "We have a lot of fun playing tennis, especially on Taylor Swift Tuesdays." Early in the year Brantley Butcher and Jordan Crume (11) went all-conference. Also, Brantley Butcher was named first team academic allstate. Overall, the tennis team had a successful year ending the season with 11 wins and 12 losses.

This Girls Tennis season was a very important one. The MG Girls Tennis team fought through many challenging matches and always put forth full effort to conquer. This tennis season didn't quite turn out the way most of the team had hoped, but the team was still successful in effort and spirit. Every member of the tennis team gives everything they have to be as successful as possible. Time after time the team managed to pull off excellent victories and well fought losses. The Girls Tennis team is spirited, determined, ambitious, and overall successful.

Argyll baseball has made many changes to the team, including being led by a new head coach, Cody Riggs: "I had a great group of kids for my first year as Head Coach. They are always entertaining and give me effort day in and day out." Madison-Grant's baseball team is full of dedicated and passionate athletes who know how to work hard and have fun. The team will be saying goodbye to a few great seniors who have put so much time in on the team since freshman year, and have left a huge impact on every player. The baseball team has a lot of potential in talent, and are very likely to have years of success in the future.

Six players was a small number for the golf team this year, but that didn't change their attitude towards the game. Three boys had never golfed before the season started this year, and that gave them some challenges to overcome. They were the underdogs in the majority of their meets, but managed to still come out victorious in many of their meets. Although the season didn't go as well as they would have liked, they proved that their teamwork was more valuable than their record. The boys were led by two seniors, one of whom had never played but kept a positive attitude through all the frustration of golf, and one of whom had been playing since he was ten. With three new golfers, there was a lot of learning to be done by the boys in order for them to be successful. There were two things they didn't have to learn: sportsmanship and teamwork.

Q&A

What is your favorite memory from this season?

- A: "Playing seven iron golf after our match on senior night."
Zack Meisner
- A: "Racing everyone down one's green playing with just our seven irons on senior night."
Jacob Johnson
- A: "The first time we won."
Zach Andrew
- A: "When Duke layed on the green."
Cole Bramel
- A: "When Jacob Johnson almost got a hole in one."
Duke Sneed
- A: "The car."
Grant Wilson

Senior Spotlight:

Right: In the midst of a back swing, Zack Meisner keeps his eye on the ball preparing to rip through it and send it down the fairway. Zack was one of two seniors on the team and the only returning player with varsity experience. Zack was a member of the golf team all four years at Madison-Grant and managed his senior year for the girls team. He enjoyed helping the new golfers learn the game and spread continual encouragement to all the golfers. He says, "I've been golfing since I was ten. I play golf because of the challenge it presents. So many fundamentals go into a good golf swing, and if just one of those fundamentals isn't precise, the entire swing is off. Golf requires flawless precision. I hate it, but I love it."

Left: Senior Jacob Johnson chips toward the flag on the first hole at Walnut Creek. This is Jacob's first season golfing. He decided that he should learn this year to prepare for a future in the business world.

Right: In the midst of his back swing, sophomore Duke Sneed concentrates on hitting the ball towards the green.

Right: Watching his putt, freshman Grant Wilson hopes for it to roll towards the hole. Grant never golfed before this year and proved to be a valuable asset to the team this season.

Left: Putting on the second green at Walnut Creek, sophomore Cole Bramel watches his ball in hopes that it will go in the hole. Cole's golf fashion, shown by his hat choice, was always noteworthy.

Right: As his ball falls in the hole, sophomore Zach Andrew breathes a sigh of relief after a slow start to the hole. Zach rotated between the number one and two spot throughout different times in the season.

Girls Golf

Left: Climbing into a cone tree on the thirteenth hole at Walnut Creek, Junior Tori Halford searches for her ball while taking a break for the camera. Tori was new to the golf team but she enjoyed the season at all times, except when people cheated. Right: Using her head covers as mittens at a very cold scramble with the faculty, Junior Kelsey Laycock tries to avoid the camera. This season was Kelsey's second year playing golf; she enjoyed meeting new people and getting ice cream. Kelsey was one of three girls to rotate through the number five varsity position throughout the season.

It was a successful year for the girls golf team. They beat one of the county rivals, Eastbrook, and had two all-Conference golfers, Ali Small and Gabby Rahrar. They placed third in the Central Indiana Conference and Grant Four tournaments. With the majority of the team, ten out of thirteen, playing for two years or less it was more about having fun and learning to golf than winning. Zionna says, "What I will miss the most is the girls of the golf team. I've learned so much from them and they have made golfing so much fun." The team continually had fun, and even after some tough losses, they made many friends along the way from other teams.

Right: Hoping for the best, Senior Ali Small swings into dense fog at Chippendale Golf Course in a pre-season tournament to prep for her final season as an MG golfer. The summer tournaments paid off towards Ali getting named all-conference for the second year in a row. She was also all-county her junior year at Grant Four. Ali started her freshman year and then played varsity all four years. She was a member of the CIC and Grant Four winning team her sophomore year. A near miss of all-county for Madison county by one stroke her senior year was a disappointment, but a highlight of her junior and senior year was being the MVP by earning the low stroke average of the season.

Left: Catching a snooze before sectional action, Senior Sara Scott dreams about going to regional. Sara was a loyal varsity player her junior and senior seasons; she's always the one to keep her head. Sara earned the best attitude award at the completion of her junior season. Sara's big highlight was being named all-conference her junior year. Sara says, "You can do anything as long as you think in a positive matter. Positive attitude equals positive outcome. You are only as good as you think you are." Even when Sara had a bad round, she didn't let it show.

Right: Putting on the third green at Walnut Creek, Senior Jamie Moriarity shows off her abilities after only playing for two years. Jamie had a lot of fun during her two seasons of golf. Jamie says, "This year's golf season was great! I was happy to see so many girls take an interest in golf." Jamie participated in the opening tournament of the year, the Monroe Central Invitational, at Hickory Hills and shot an all time personal best which was the highlight of her golf career.

Left: Climbing out of the creek bank, Junior Rachel Coppess gets caught off guard by Ali Small taking a picture. After doing "Nothin'" to prepare for the season, Rachel was one of three to rotate through the number five varsity position, but she hated doing badly and not improving.

Cross Country isn't a thrilling sport to go and watch. It doesn't have the aspect that football and basketball have: the ability to bring out big crowds and pack the stands with cheering fans. However, like football and basketball, cross country has dedicated teammates that support and help bring out the best in each other. Cross country runners dedicate their time to the improvement of their abilities as a runner and strive to improve their time at every meet. All of the running may seem like torture to some, but to the runners on the cross country team, it's what they love. Senior Aaron Patton has endured four long years of being on the cross country team and made it to regionals again this year. In the words of Junior Wesley Hull, "We run hard and sweat a lot," but that doesn't keep them from coming back year after year, putting in their great effort, and making each year fun and memorable.

Hours of hard work and training goes into track. Every member of track has to improve themselves in order to help the team. Most think of track to be an easy sport, but if you were to ask sophomore Kelsey Rieskamp, she would say, "We each work very hard for what we get, and we all rely on each other's talents to come out with good numbers for the team." Many people assume track to only be an individual sport, and there are many divisions in which the athlete relies on themselves, but there are some that include the support and help of their teammates. Not only is track an exhausting sport, it is one of the most rewarding in the end due to the personal improvement each member experiences. This year had many personal records set, and many new members joining the team making it an overall great season.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Dylan Miller

Q: "How did your first season of track go?"
A: "It was a good time being able to compete and hangout with my friends. It was a good experience for me. I feel being my first-year of track, it was pretty solid."

Travis Rogers

Q: "What is your favorite part of track?"
A: "Winning."

Cole Sloderbeck

Q: "What will you miss most about track?"
A: "I am going to miss my teammates."

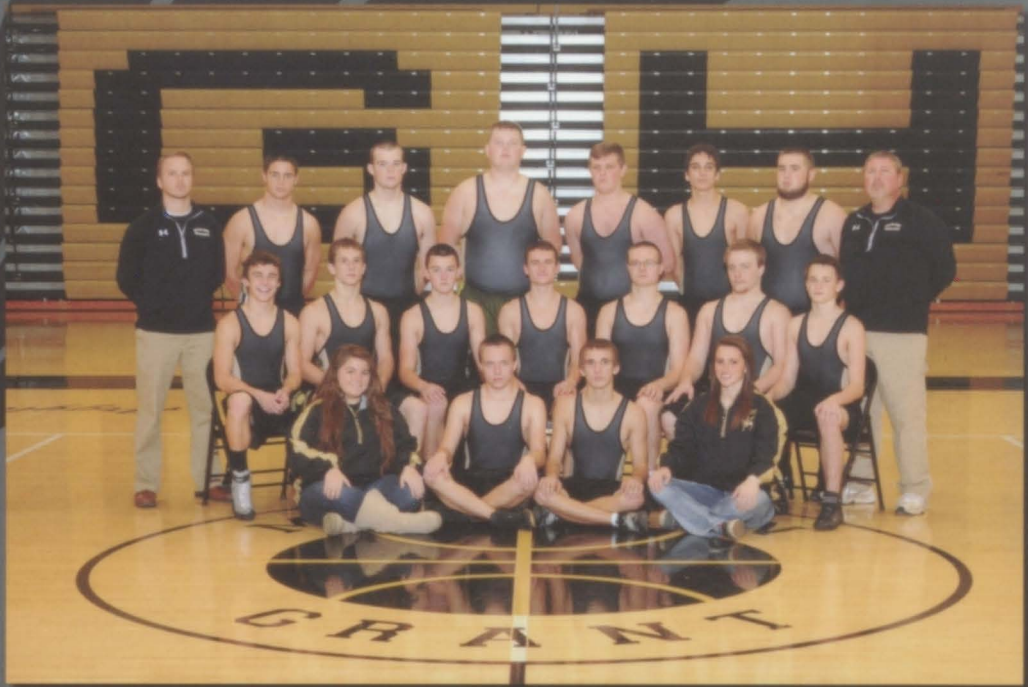

Aaron Patton

Q: "What is your best memory from this track season?"
A: "Finishing top four places in the 800 with Wesley, Kevin, and JCrume."

"Once you've wrestled, everything else in life is easy."

-Dan Gable

Wrestling at Madison-Grant has some of the most dedicated, hardworking, and determined boys on the team. They work their hardest to bring a good season, not only for the team, but for themselves. The boys are very passionate and are not ashamed to say they wrestle for the school. They proudly represent each other and their team every match, even outside of the season. At every match you can hear the cheers coming from all of the family members and friends in the crowds supporting our wrestlers. Not only do you see the wrestlers work hard to stay in shape for the season, but they all work hard in the classroom to make the grades to do what they love. Each team member had a good turnout in numbers, which in effect created an overall season of improvement.

Bowling at Madison - Grant is one of the more underappreciated sports. It isn't one that draws a huge crowd of students that fill bleachers. However, to the dedicated and talented bowlers, bowling is something they love and appreciate. Most of the bowlers on the team are returning members, showing their faith and dedication to the sport. Anyone who believes that a bowling tournament is a boring event has clearly never been to one, considering that it is usually always packed with parents and other family members from multiple school districts whose chants of support fill the bowling alley.

What has been your best personal moment of your bowling career?

“During the sectional qualifying round we were down 0-4, but we came back and beat Elwood in the last six games, winning 6-4.”

Hoyt Young

“The best personal moment of my bowling career has been advancing to regionals twice, because that is something that no one else has done in Madison-Grant history.”

Special Events

Some of the best ways to involve a vast amount of the student body at Madison-Grant and many families throughout the community are by holding events that are special to the school. One of the biggest events towards the beginning of the school year is homecoming week. It's an easy way to get students involved and spirited for the homecoming game. Another big event that was special to the 2014-2015 school year was the varsity boys basketball team winning sectional. It was a championship title that hadn't been claimed by the school in almost twenty years, and it was definitely an event that will always be remembered. The Scholastic Awards banquet takes place in the spring, and it is special because some of the most academically talented students are recognized and awarded. Then comes the special night of prom where the upperclassmen get their dance on. Both the choir and band put on very special performances for a large crowd of people to hear. Finally, graduation takes place and the school and community celebrate all of amazing achievements of the graduates.

Homecoming week

Kicking off the pep session, Madison Grant's cheerleaders get the audience excited for the homecoming game.

Juniors and Freshmen fight for the win in an aggressive tug of war battle.

*"Onward mighty, mighty Argylls,
We pledge our loyalty,
Let our spirit soar above us,
As we fight for our M-G
Fight! Fight!
Win or lose, we'll shout brave Argylls,
Let us fight to win this game.
To our black and gold
Brave Argylls,
We'll support you in your fame!"*

"Kiss me, I'm a freshman"

Freshman

"We're a little messed up, but we're all alright"

Sophomores

Juniors

"We will ghouly you"

Seniors

The kickoff to homecoming week was definitely a memorable one as holiday themes took over the halls. The junior class showed true Christmas spirit, helping them win first place. Second place was taken by the sophomore class, letting their red, white, and blue shine through. Not far behind, our scary seniors come in with a third place ranking, and last year was especially eventful. There were plenty of fun and games, including a chilly evening of action packed football against school rival, Mississinewa, who left us in the dust with a final score of 22-8. In other news, Seniors took the overall Homecoming win for the week with 355 points followed by Sophomores, Juniors, and Freshmen, but winning wasn't the best memory. It was the five days of cheering, dressing up, decorating and coming together as a school to cheer for our mighty team. Our week may have ended, but our fond memories will not. Homecoming brought a whole new perspective to future games, athletic activities, and competition.

Scholastic Awards

Right: Giving the student response, Zack Meisner reflects on what got all the kids to where they are now.

Left: Jacob Johnson waits as Mrs. Roth reads off everything he has achieved while in high school.

Right: Smiling, Hope Kitts reflects on memories made through her years at Madison-Grant.

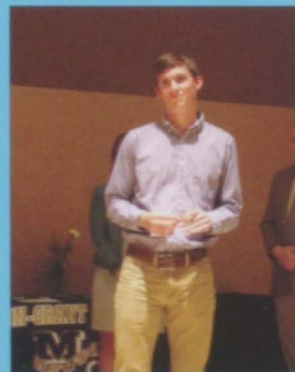

Left: Helping Mrs. Roth through her first Scholastic Awards Ceremony, Tanner Wise makes sure she doesn't miss anything.

Right: Waiting patiently, Elizabeth Mathews smiles as she is reminded of all the things she has done throughout her four years of high school.

Left: Marshall Carey waits for Mrs. Roth to read what he's been involved with such as academic team.

Right: Aaron Patton smiles as he recalls some of his favorite memories from hearing his activities and achievements at MG.

Left: Holding the flashdrive that she received, Faith Hawkins waits as Mrs. Roth reads some of the things that she has been involved in such as band, tennis, and yearbook.

Right: Stephanie Jones smiles as she recounts all her time at MG involved with extracurriculars, most notably ArGuys & Gals

Often times, sports are a main focus of a school the size of Madison-Grant. As a student body, many of us look forward to going to the football games or basketball games on Friday nights and taking a break from homework. However, all the dreaded hours of homework have paid off for many of our scholars who have excelled to get a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or better. The annual Scholastic Awards Ceremony recognizes these students who have earned a GPA of 3.5. Sophomore honorees received a keychain, the juniors received a pen that doubled as a stylus, and the seniors received a flashdrive. The juniors who have maintained a 3.75 GPA also received a scholar patch. Hayley Thomason says, "I like that students are able to be recognized for their academic achievements, not only by the school, but also to show family and friends how much effort actually goes into academics." The Scholastic Awards is a great opportunity for the school to show off the students abilities.

Junior honorees: Kayla Bair*, Hannah Blalock*, Thomas Comer*, Olivia Crouse*, Jordan Crume*, Kerri Daniel*,
 Tori Galloway*, Adam Harner, Mallorie Havens*, Victoria Halford*, Wesley Hull*, Kelsey Laycock*, Logan
 Mason*, Michael McCord*, Robert Neubauer*, Nathan Ott, Bridger Price, Clayton Retherford*, Carly Skinner,
 Bret Small*, Brenna Turner*, Madison Whybrew*, Kennedie Young *Scholar patch recipients

Left: Madison Whybrew smiles as she is awarded for all her hard work in the classroom and is recognized for all her hard work outside the classroom, like on the tennis court.

Right: Accepting his stylus pen from Superintendent Trout, Adam Harner recollects on the things he has done at Madison-Grant, like playing basketball.

Right: Mrs. Bragg claps for Tori Galloway as she is recognized for all her efforts that went into maintaining her 3.75 GPA.

Right: Abbey Gunning waits for Mrs. Roth to read her extracurricular involvement like tennis, basketball, Art Club, and French Club.

Left: Watching Mrs. Roth, Garrett Watson waits for her to finish his list of extracurriculars that includes tennis, basketball, baseball, and Spanish Club.

Below: Emily Barr accepts her keychain from Mr. Trout for maintaining a 3.5 GPA.

Left: Mackenzie Hall listens as Mrs. Roth reads her extracurriculars, like softball, for which she had to leave the banquet early.

★ Choir Spectacular ★

Choir Spectacular was a huge blowout to the end of a music filled year. Sparkling dresses and gold vests, finished with bowties, filled the stage as the Broadway themed musical took over the auditorium. Dance moves, soloists and everything about this night proved that hard work pays off and great moments can be captured. This was an emotional goodbye as this performance was the seniors last. In return for an awesome year, Mr. Hicks received a gift from seniors, which was his very own apron, so he no longer had to wear his wife's when he cooks panakes for his students. This was the last opportunity for choir students to come together and create an unforgeable night. After Spectacular, the Awards Banquet was held to allow students to be recognized for their achievements. This show couldn't have been a more awesome end for Mr. Hicks, the audience, and the students within the choirs.

Above: Starfire wows the audience as the ladies take a seat and sing "I Can Hear the Bells" from Hairspray.

Above: Glittering dresses only add to the moment as Starfire dances around the stage under bright lights.

Below: ArGuys and Gals boys take center stage as they sing "Seize the Day" from Newsies.

Below: Kevin Kellogg (11) dances along to the music as the other boys wait for their next move.

Left: Lexxie Fletcher (12) and Shelby Stewart (11) stand by the side of Mr. Hicks at the Awards Banquet. His cheesy grin doesn't begin to tell us how proud he is of not only these two ladies, but all of his talented students.

Below: Adding to the emotional goodbye of the year, seniors below from all choirs pose together one last time with their golden metals. These metals were worn during Graduation with caps and gowns to show participation within the choirs.

Band Spectacular

Concert Band

Jazz Band

Jazz band is known for creating a positive atmosphere for the crowd. This year was no exception as they played the popular song "Uptown Funk" by Bruno Mars.

Band Spectacular is when all the band classes from both the Junior High and High School come together to create one of the biggest concerts of the year for the school. Students work hard all year to perfect their craft and create a night that will live up to its name: spectacular.

Showing school pride, the clarinets and alto saxs perform a song, Ne Obliviscaris, written many years ago for our school.

This year, some of the seniors got to come up before each song and tell a little about themselves and the song about to be played. Through this, they are creating a new perspective on how band spectacular is put together.

Above Jamie Moriarity and Kaytlynn Clinch announce the famous song "Imagine" written by the also famous Beatles band member, John Lennon.

Jessica Milliner and Ashley Moyer laugh as they tell about the song commonly known for its movies, "Lord of the Rings."

Ryan Wright and Jacob Trader announce a well known rock song, "Stairway to Heaven."

Elizabeth Mathews and Faith Hawkins introduce themselves and the song written for our school years ago, "Ne Obliviscaris"

Prom Court

Prom is something a lot of high school students are excited to attend. Every one of them dream of it to be perfect, and this year was nothing short of that. With the theme being a black tie affair, people flaunted their elegant dresses and sharp tuxes. Along with the attire, the elegance continued with the beautiful fountains and lights that filled the room. As always, prom was a night filled with fun and memories.

Seniors Lavon Haney and Richie Prancik enjoy their last prom together.

Never one to miss an opportunity to be silly, Robby Neubauer (11) poses for a photo with his date Jamie Moriarity (12).

Since prom is a night dedicated to dancing, below are a few pictures of the dance floor.

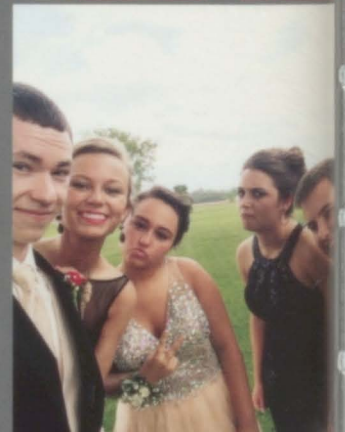

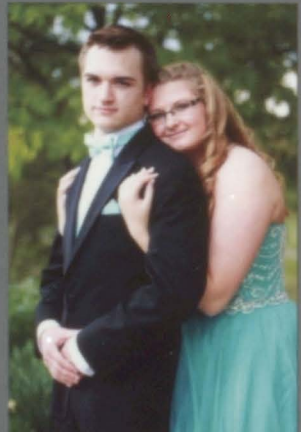

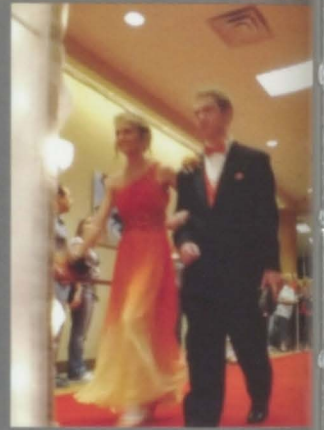

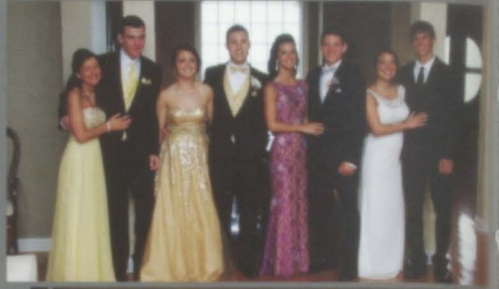

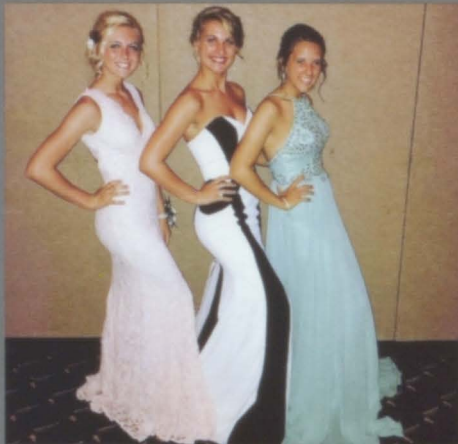

Carnival Under The Big Top

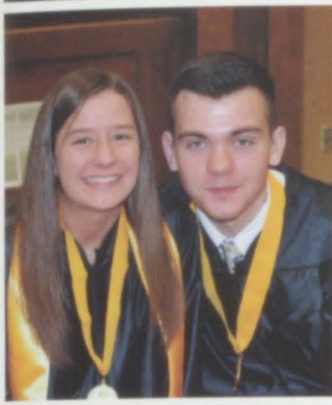

Every year, the dedicated parents of the junior class come together to plan an exciting and spectacular morning following prom night. This year, the junior parents turned the gym into a boisterous big top filled with games and fair food. The attendees had a blast with the various games such as the popular pedal car racing, ring toss, football throw, and the classic cornhole.

Prom 2015

Graduation 2015

Commencement Exercises

Class of 2015

As seniors, graduation is one of the most long awaited moments of high school. At the beginning of the school year, June 5, 2015, was a date that all the seniors had in the back of their minds as they thought to the future and what they want to do. It has taken a great deal of hard work and dedication to get to this point in their lives making it a huge accomplishment that has taken thirteen years in the making. Graduation represents an end, but also the beginning of a journey for these seniors. Everything that they've been used to for the majority of their lives is soon to be just a memory. They get to start a new chapter being free to make their own choices, and with these choices they get to shape their own futures. Madison-Grant has made an impact on each one of these kids in some way, but it's time for the class of 2015 to spread their wings and learn to fly without the guidance they've always had. The school will go on without the seniors, but you can't deny the impact the seniors had on the school. Seniors led the boys basketball team to a sectional win, seniors led the way in band to help younger students, seniors broke records and did what some thought couldn't be done. Now they will go on to lead the way in college, the workforce, and even the military all in an effort to better the world. As the graduating class of 2015 walks across the stage, they walk into a future that will give them a new perspective on life. They will learn what makes them happy and what to do with the rest of their lives.

"Strive not to be a success but rather to be of value."
-Albert Einstein

Right: Valedictorian Brantley Butcher sends a message to the senior class that is important to hear at a stressful time like the end of high school. A lot of the time, the pressure is on to figure out what we want to do for the rest of our lives, but his message to us is to live a happy life. Just do what makes you happy even if it's not what society wants you to do. Ultimately, it's your life, not anyone else's for them to tell you what to do.

Left: Salutatorian Tori Crouse gives a speech on how the senior class has evolved into what we are now. As young kids we had dreams of being illustrators, astronauts, or ballerinas, and now we have dreams of being doctors, material scientists, or teachers. To achieve these goals we have to constantly be overcoming obstacles that stand in our paths.

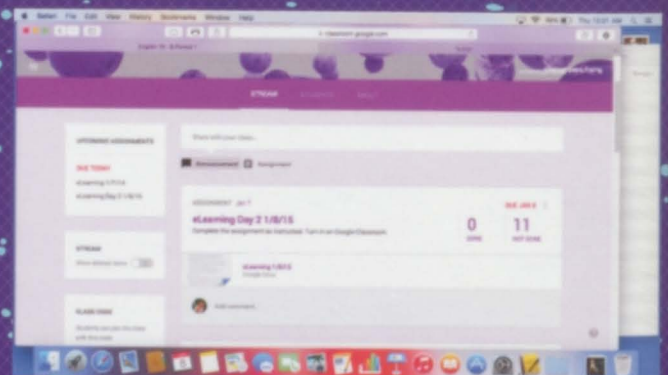

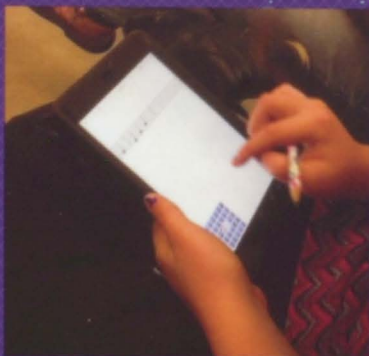

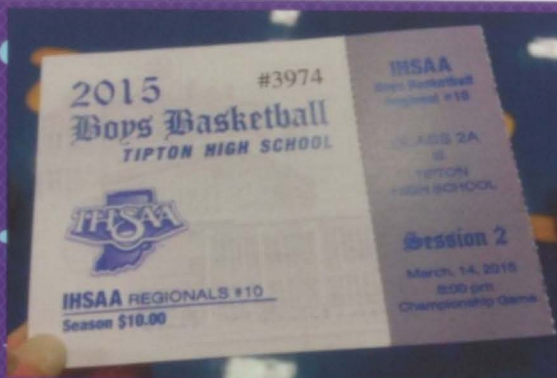

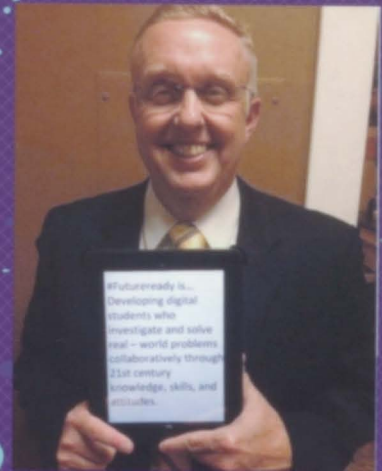

Left: Welcoming family and friends to a joyful night, Tanner Wise recalls some memories of things that the senior class has done such as having a shot at winning the basketball sectional and having an ivy league scholar. He recollects other memories also like hanging out with friends and having a good time with his classmates throughout our thirteen years together.

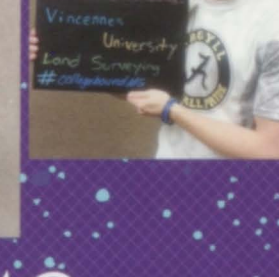

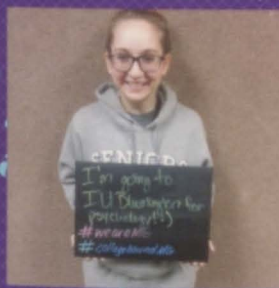

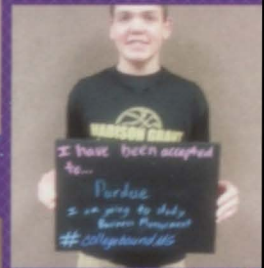

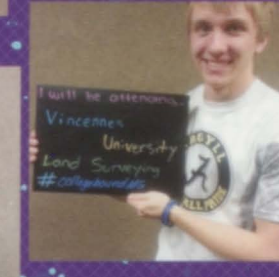

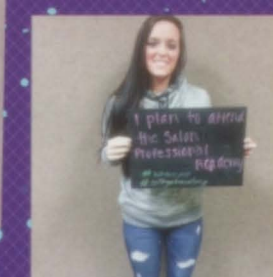

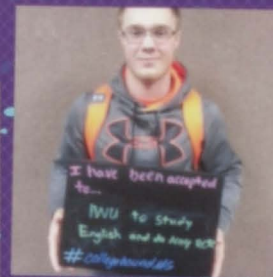

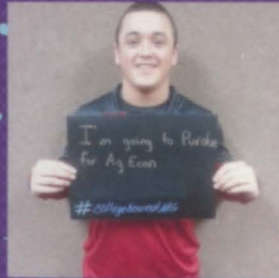

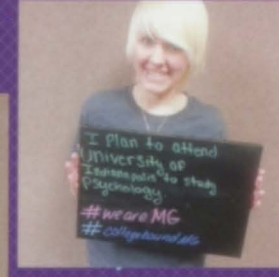

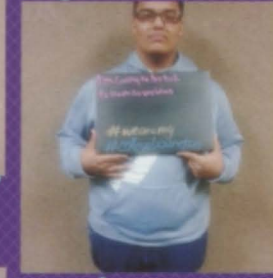

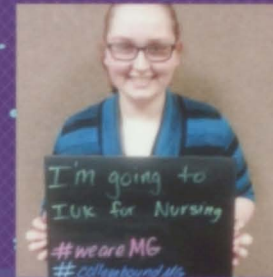

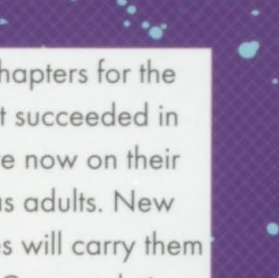

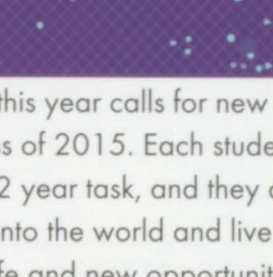

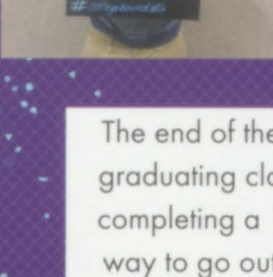

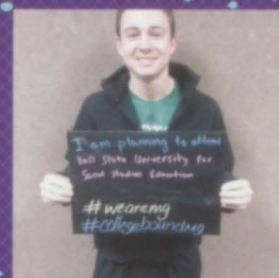

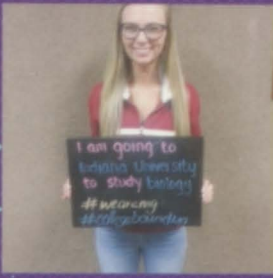

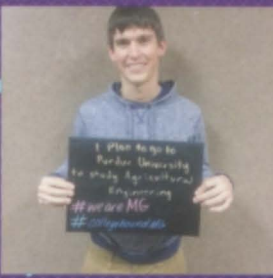

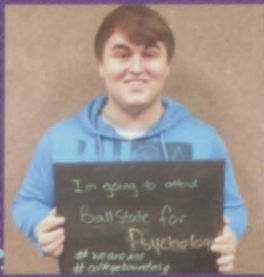

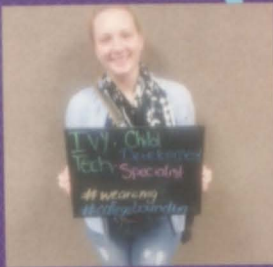

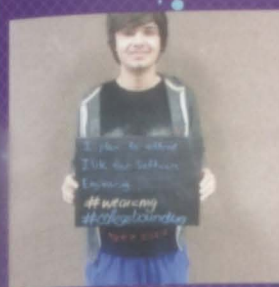

Left: Sara Scott gives the closing student response. She reflects on how "people change people" and although the school changed us, we didn't change it that much, and the school won't really be that different without the senior class because time goes on with or without us. However, the friendships formed during high school will go on to have a positive influence in their lives as they change the world.

Looking forward to a newer perspective...

This is it. A year of new perspectives has finished only to leave many new years to come. Many memories were gained this year that will someday be looked back on and cherished. Our new perspectives of having a different principal, newer technology trends, and new records will become older and more regular, but only to make room for what the future has in store. We will each carry the memories from this year with us for the rest of our lives. We all have now mastered how to make transitions and be kind to new teachers and administrators. We can all successfully use Google Drive, reflect pictures from our iPads onto Smartboards, and turn in assignments through Google Classroom. Finally, we know that in order to win a sectional basketball game, there needs to be a fan bus carrying lots of Argyll spirit. The students returning next year are experts at dealing with new perspectives, and will have at least one more when we gain a new leader next year with a new superintendent.

The end of the this year calls for new chapters for the graduating class of 2015. Each student succeeded in completing a 12 year task, and they are now on their way to go out into the world and live as adults. New perspectives on life and new opportunities will carry them to where their hearts are destined to be. Congratulations and good luck class of 2015!

With only two returning staff members, this book was full of many challenges. First semester, our staff was spread out across three different class periods; second semester we were in two. We had a much smaller staff, and we had a deadline over our new, longer Spring Break. Throughout all of the difficulties, this staff persevered and created a yearbook of which they can be proud. Many long hours, sweat, and tears went into making this book, but they never gave up, though I know they probably wanted to a time or two.

I am extremely proud of these young ladies and gentlemen. I thank them for all of their hard work. To my editors: you are the best. Thank you so much for your dedication to this book. To my seniors, Ali, Faith, and Alexis: Good luck in your future endeavors. You will be amazing in whatever life has in store for you. ~Mrs. Cheney

The 2014-2015 edition of Ne Obliviscaris was printed by Herff-Jones in Kansas City, Kansas. Mr. Doug Alexander served as our sales representative. All spreads were completed on eDesign.com, a website created for yearbook design by Herff-Jones. Portrait photos were taken by Prestige Portraits. All other photos were taken by staff members. The staff was lead by advisor Amber Cheney.

A LOOK AT WHAT HAPPENED DURING THE 2014-2015 SCHOOL YEAR

A YEAR CAPTURED

Some parts of the year were mysterious, others were awesome and empowering, and still others — tragic. Take a look back at this collection of the year's highs and lows, from music, science and weather to fashion trends, technology and sports, and lots of things in between.

WORLD YEAR BOOK

SHIFTING POWER...

INDIA'S NEW LEADER

President Pranab Mukherjee appointed Narendra Modi as the new Prime Minister, succeeding Manmohan Singh.

UNEASINESS AFFECTS OTHER NATIONS

Problematic situations in Russia — fueled by a less than desirable economic state and varying opinions of immigration challenges — emphasized struggles within the country and caused other nations to react. The unrest led to Sweden's plan to re-train citizens previously enlisted in the Swedish army.

SCOTLAND REMAINS

Given the chance to be an independent nation, 55% of Scottish citizens voted to remain a part of the United Kingdom. Celebrating ensued after new life was given to a nation contemplating succession.

CUBA AND U.S. MAKE AMENDS

President Obama restored full diplomatic relations between Cuba after 50 years. This led to the release of suspected American spy Alan Gross who was being held in a Cuban prison. Obama, in turn, released three Cuban spies who had been imprisoned for years.

MH17: WHO TO BLAME?

Definitive evidence showed that Malaysia Airlines MH17 was shot down by a missile. Investigation continued as no group took full responsibility. However, speculations pointed to Russian forces.

AIRASIA INDONESIA

CRASH Flight QZ8501 crashed into the Java Sea near Borneo in late December, carrying 162 passengers. The aircraft was only halfway to Singapore when its signal was lost due to bad weather conditions.

Impacted

TALIBAN Seven militants were killed after leading a Pakistani school siege in December. More than 140 people were killed; 132 of them were children.

FIGHTING ISIS The extremist group controlled regions in Iraq and Syria and caused heavy unrest in a variety of violent and unsettling militant ways.

CHARLIE HEBDO Terrorists raided the French magazine office, killing 12. At the same time, 19 people were held hostage at a kosher store; four were murdered.

BOKO HARAM MASSACRE A major attack on Nigeria occurred in January; it was thought to be the largest ever conducted by the militant group.

EBOLA

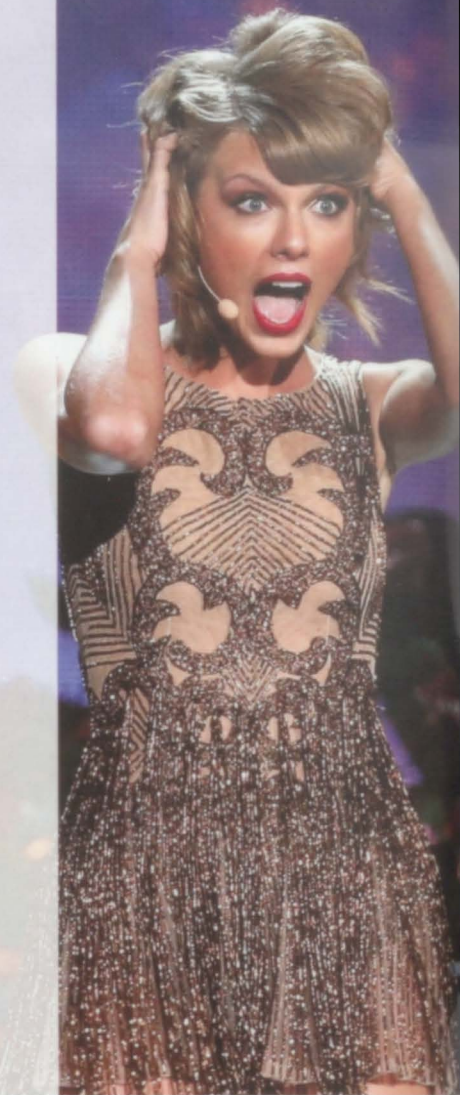

Ebola Epidemic in West Africa A severe, usually fatal disease in humans, broke out in West Africa — the largest epidemic since the disease was discovered in 1976. It was transmitted through direct human-to-human contact and included symptoms of fever, diarrhea, weakness, aches, internal bleeding and organ failure. The countries most highly affected were Guinea, Sierra Leone and Liberia; the Center for Disease Control and Prevention reported roughly 9,380 deaths in those three countries alone. The U.S. dealt with limited cases, involving several recoveries and only two deaths — both involving men who had been infected in Africa and traveled back to the U.S. before becoming ill. Even so, Americans panicked and more than 50,000 tweets followed. The World Health Organization raced to develop and test effective vaccines.

TALK ABOUT SUCCESS

Swift History and Some Lovable Brits

There was no denying the crazy success generated in 2014 by Taylor Swift, Sam Smith, Ed Sheeran and One Direction — they all continued making headlines (the good kind). Swift made history as "Blank Space" replaced "Shake It Off" on Billboard's Top 100; she was the only female to ever accomplish this. Her newest album, 1989, sold more than one million copies its first week. And there was clearly something about the British. One Direction had the highest grossing tour, raking in $131.5 million in just the first six months of 2014. Fellow Brits Sam Smith and Ed Sheeran were big winners during awards season. Smith took home four Grammys — Record of the Year and Song of the Year for Stay with Me, Best New Artist and Best Pop Vocal Album. Finally, Ed Sheeran won numerous awards, namely People's Choice Favorite Male Artist, Favorite Album for X, Teen Choice Male Artist and MTV VMA's Best Male Video for "Sing" with Pharrell Williams.

THEY LOOK SO PERFECT

2014 was a busy and successful year for Australian rock band, 5 Seconds of Summer. The group took home the Teen Choice Breakout Group award, American Music Award's New Artist of the Year, released a self-titled debut album in July and wrapped up a tour. I'M SO FANCY Australian hip-hop artist Iggy Azalea won a People's Choice Award, a Teen Choice Award and an AMA for Favorite Hip-Hop Artist. Her single, "Fancy" was named Best Song by iTunes and won Teen Choice Award's R&B/hip-hop song.

SUPER BOWL STARDOM

Katy Perry performed Super Bowl XLIX's halftime show. She entered on a huge prismatic, metal tiger, but the surprises didn't end there. Missy Elliott joined Perry to perform a set of three hits. Elliott had not produced an album since 2005 which led many to question who she even was. QUEEN BEY Beyoncé's successes continued. She was named iTunes Best Artist, opened for the Grammys — where she won both Best R&B Song and Performance — renewed her vows with Jay Z, and starred in the 17-city "On the Run" tour.

The Award Goes to...

ARIANA GRANDE Teen Choice Female Artist and People's Choice Favorite Breakout Artist were only two of the awards Grande added to her collection.

MIRANDA LAMBERT This Texas-born country star won several notable awards including a Grammy for Best Country Album and three separate CMA awards.

HUNTER HAYES People's Choice Favorite Country Male Artist went to 23-year-old Hayes, who also released a second album for which he co-wrote every track.

CARRIE UNDERWOOD In addition to winning the Favorite Female Country Artist AMA and People's Choice awards, she debuted a baby bump in September.

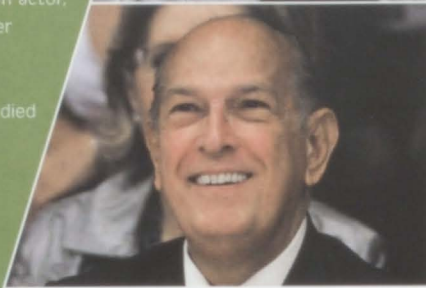

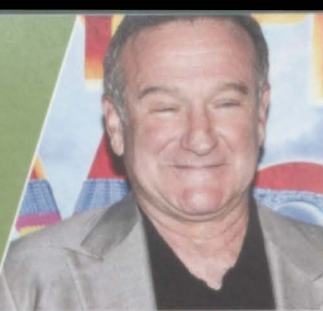

Lost Icons

05.28.14 Legendary author and civil rights advocate Maya Angelou, 86, died due to continued heart conditions.

08.11.14 Comedian and well-known actor, Robin Williams died at age 63 after having dealt with depression.

09.04.14 Fashion Police's Joan Rivers died at 81 after going into cardiac arrest during a surgical procedure.

10.20.14 Distinguished fashion designer Oscar de la Renta died at age 82 after battling gastric cancer.

DEATH WITH DIGNITY

Brittany Maynard was a 29-year-old Californian who learned that her brain cancer would ultimately kill her. She was told her condition would only worsen, so she decided that death with dignity was the best option. Her family relocated to Oregon, one of just three states that honored this decision, where she ended her life on November 1, 2014. Before her death, she worked closely with Compassion & Choices, an end-of-life choice advocacy group, in hopes to make choice an option for other terminally ill individuals.

GUN CONTROL & MENTAL HEALTH

Due to school shootings like the one at Sandy Hook Elementary and more than 20 others in the two years since, gun control became an issue that demanded attention. But the focus turned toward mental health and the attention it deserved in regard to tragic shootings. It was perplexing to some that only 27 states increased funding for mental health in 2014. There were hopes that other states would pattern plans like Virginia, Minnesota and Wisconsin in their efforts to provide proactive mental health services for clients of all ages.

MEMORIAL MUSEUM DEDICATION In May, 2014, the September 11 Memorial Museum opened to the public in New York, and displayed familiar 9/11 sights and artifacts. OPEN FOR BUSINESS Thirteen years after 9/11, One World Trade Center — the tallest building in America — opened its doors.

Community Tension Escalates Michael Brown, an African American teen in Ferguson, Missouri, was shot and killed by white police officer Darren Wilson in August. Violent and ongoing riots erupted in Ferguson and other U.S. cities, especially after the jury decided not to indict Officer Wilson. In Ferguson, windows and storefronts were shattered, stores were looted, shots were fired and police squad cars were set aflame. Crowds gathered in other parts of the country to protest, claiming that justice had not been served. To make matters worse, the events in Ferguson occurred just three weeks after 43-year-old Eric Garner was approached by officers in New York who observed him selling untaxed cigarettes. Garner reportedly had his hands in the air for police, but was put into a chokehold and thrown to the ground where he muttered, "I can't breathe! I can't breathe!" After lying motionless on the ground, Garner, an asthmatic, died on the way to the hospital. Protests nationwide regarding his death followed — including one with his family marching alongside Reverend Al Sharpton in Upper Manhattan calling for a full investigation of his death.

MAKING HEADLINES

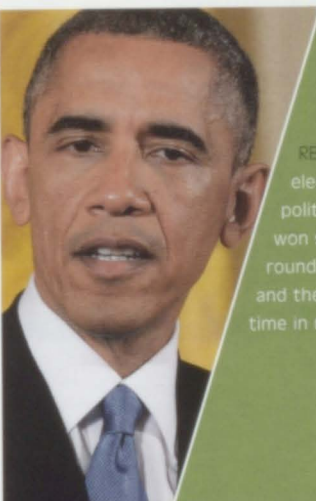

Raising Awareness

ALS CHALLENGE Social media allowed the "Ice Bucket Challenge" to go viral. Designed to raise awareness of ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease), people would post a video of themselves dumping ice water over their heads and then challenge someone else to do the same or alternatively, donate money to The ALS Association. The campaign raised more than $220 million worldwide.

#ICEBUCKETCHALLENGE

GONE, BUT NOT FORGOTTEN A memorial honored police officers Wenjian Liu and Rafael Ramos, who were shot and killed in their squad car in Brooklyn. The shooter, Ismaail Brinsley who then killed himself, had earlier posted on social media expressing distaste for the police.

America Decides

REPUBLICANS TAKE SENATE The midterm elections rendered a dramatic shift in political party dominance as the GOP won seats from the Democratic Party — rounding out the House with 247 seats, and the Senate with 54 — for the first time in more than 80 years.

TWIN TORNADOS Pilger, Nebraska, witnessed rare twin twisters in mid-June causing two deaths, 16 injuries and flattened homes.

TYPHOON RAMMASUN The Philippines, China and Vietnam fell victim to a July super typhoon that claimed more than 150 lives, destroyed thousands of homes and wiped out crops.

PINEAPPLE EXPRESS STORM While the strongest rainstorm in years hit California and the Pacific Northwest in February leaving thousands without power and causing flooding and mudslides, the storms were not enough to eliminate drought conditions.

EARTHQUAKE A 6.0 tremor, the strongest since 1989, shook the Napa Valley. Dozens were injured, thousands lost power, and several buildings and roads were damaged.

TECHNOLOGICAL...

NETHERLANDS SOLARROAD The world's first solar road was built in Krommenie, Holland — a 230-foot long bike path that turned sunlight into energy to power street lights, traffic lights and even households. Officials planned to continue testing the solar road to develop even more energy-producing roads.

SPACESHIP TWO Co-pilot Michael Alsbury died in Virgin Galactic's SpaceShipTwo as it disintegrated above California due to a premature unlocking of its feathering system. His co-pilot was injured, but parachuted to safety.

ROSETTA MISSION History was made as spacecraft Philae landed on a comet 300 million miles from Earth. Harpoons shot into the comet's surface, anchoring the craft to the ground. Philae was set to drill for samples and help European astronomers study the composition and magnetic fields of the comet, but the inability to recharge its solar panels caused Philae to go missing.

MARYAM MIRZAKHANI For the first time ever, the Fields Medal went to a woman. Iranian-born Mirzakhani spent a decade mathematically analyzing billiard geometrics to understand the symmetry of curved surfaces.

NEREUS DEEP SEA SUBMARINE The $8 million U.S. craft imploded under intense pressure 10 kilometers down during an exploration of the Kermadec Trench near Northeast New Zealand. The robot was built in 2008 and offered insights to unexplored oceans within its brief life.

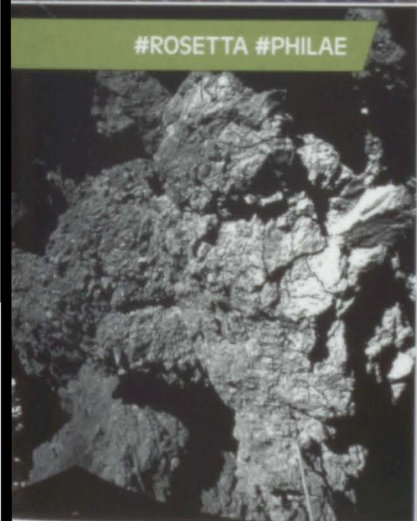

NOT THE NORM

Volcanic Action in Hawaii and Iceland

Lava from the Bardarbunga volcano flowed after a series of earthquakes in late August, expanding the size of Iceland. The spreading of the Eurasian and North American tectonic plates allowed lava to fill the gap, increasing Iceland's land area; enough molten rock was released to cover an NFL football field every 5.5 minutes. Unlike the eruption in Hawaii, no one lived near Bardarbunga's lava flow. Mount Kilauea on Hawaii's 'Big Island', one of the world's most active volcanos, erupted in June, threatening surrounding communities with a continuous river of lava. It surged toward the town of Pahoehoe causing most residents to evacuate, as there were few other options. Gravel roads were built as escape routes, but some residents requested to watch their homes burn in order to cope with the loss.

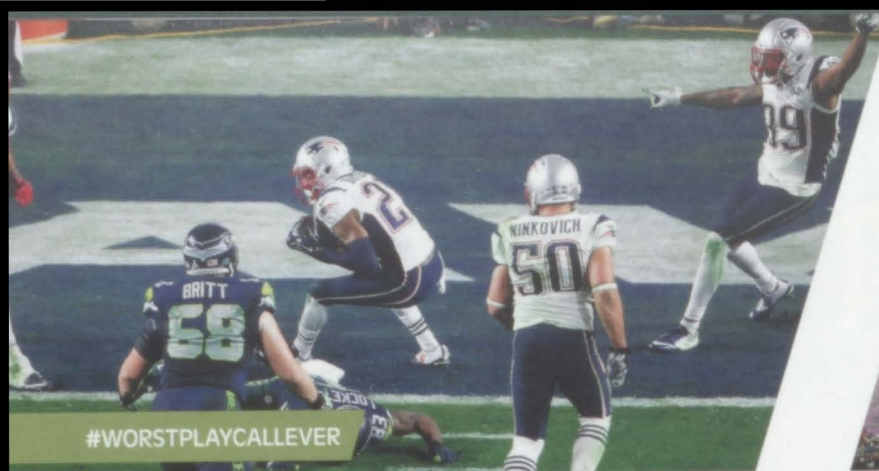

#ROSETTA #PHILAE

DREADNOUGHTUS Bones from possibly the largest dinosaur in existence — approximately 85 feet long and 65 tons — were unearthed in Argentina's southwestern Patagonia.

PELAGORNIS SANDERSI The Charleston Museum held the fossils of a newly discovered species and presumably the largest flying bird ever. P. sandersi had a 20-24 foot wingspan and was thought to be alive 25 to 28 million years ago.

#PELAGORNIS

#WORSTPLAYCALLEVER

SUPER BOWL XLIX The New England Patriots celebrated the game-saving interception by Malcolm Butler in the fourth quarter, beating the Seattle Seahawks 28-24. Tom Brady was named Super Bowl XLIX Most Valuable Player, and joined Joe Montana as the only three-time quarterback winners of the MVP.

Game Changers

GIANT WIN SF Giants defeated the KC Royals in the World Series with the heroics of pitcher Madison Bumgarner who clinched with only two days' rest. This was the Giants' third championship in five years.

#BCS

NHL HOCKEY Los Angeles Kings revelled as Stanley Cup Champions after beating the New York Rangers 3-2 to take the best of seven series in just five games.

NBA MEN'S BASKETBALL The San Antonio Spurs celebrated their fifth NBA Finals Championship with a 104-87 victory over the Miami Heat in game five. The Spurs won by an average of 18 points per game to deny Miami a three-peat.

FIRST FEMALE NBA COACH The Spurs hired Becky Hammon, a six-time WNBA All-Star as an assistant coach.

RETURNING HOME Cleveland welcomed forward LeBron James back to the Cavaliers after he blogged the announcement of his decision to return.

#LEBRONING

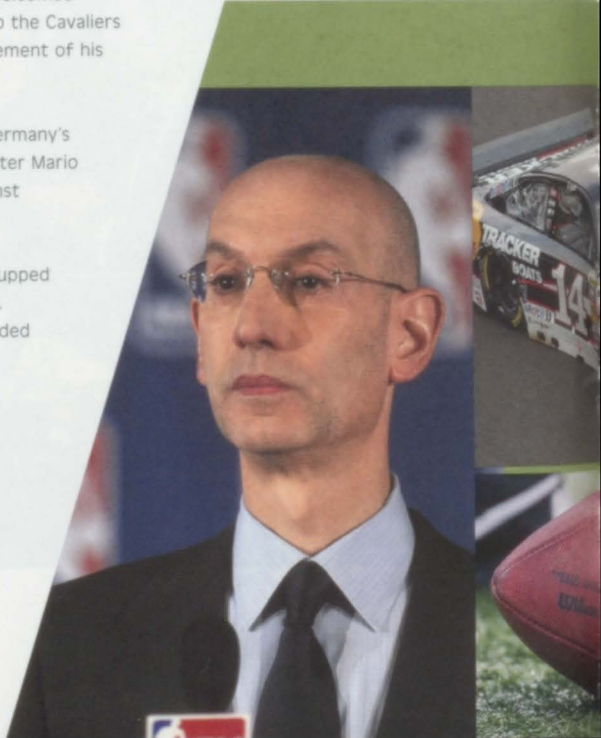

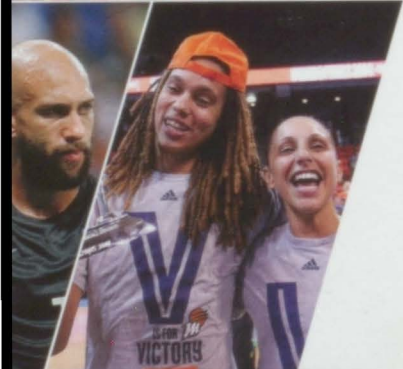

FIFA WORLD CUP Fans celebrate Germany's fourth World Cup Championship after Mario Götze scored the winning goal against Argentina. The final score was 1-0.

#BRAZILVSGERMANY

RECORD SAVES USA goalie Tim Howard upped the mark with 16 saves against Belgium. Team USA lost 2-1, but he was still regarded as one of the best goalies in the world.

WNBA SUCCESS After the most wins ever in a WNBA season, the Phoenix Mercury swept the Chicago Sky in the WNBA Finals. Star center Brittney Griner sat out game three with an injury, but Diana Taurasi, Candice Dupree and the Mercury prevailed.

WINNER, WINNER...

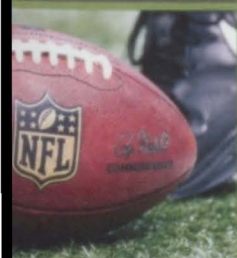

TOUR DE FRANCE Vincenzo Nibali was the 101st winner of the race that he led for 18 of the 21 days allotted for the contest. AUGUSTA MASTERS Bubba Watson earned his second green jacket with a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th green. U.S. WOMEN'S OPEN Michelle Wie, 24, won the U.S. Women's Open — her first career major — with a final-round even-par 70. NASCAR Kevin Harvick raises the Sprint Cup Trophy after he raced to victory at Homestead-Miami Speedway. CZECH VICTORY AT WIMBLEDON Petra Kvitova defeated Canadian Eugenie Bouchard 6-3, 6-0 to win the singles title. BCS CHAMP Ohio State Buckeyes won the College Football Playoff Championship over the Oregon Ducks with a final score of 42-20. WIMBLEDON CENTRE COURT Novak Djokovic defeated Roger Federer in a five-set match with scores of 6-7(7), 6-4, 7-6(4), 5-7 and 6-4. HEISMAN Oregon Ducks QB Marcus Mariota took honors as the first Hawaiian to win the Heisman Trophy after a three-year journey with the team. KENTUCKY DERBY California Chrome and jockey Victor Espinoza won the famed race in Louisville with Commanding Curve and Danza finishing second and third.

NO. 2 RETIRED Derek Jeter finished his career with an RBI single in the Yankees' 9-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox. He hugged his teammates and waved goodbye to 36,879 fans in Fenway Park. The stadium, social media and fans everywhere bid a heartfelt farewell to the Captain. SPORTSCASTER REMEMBERED After a lengthy battle with appendix cancer, Stuart Scott died at age 49. His talent, work ethic and dedication to the world of sports created the legacy he left behind. LITTLE LEAGUE STAR Philadelphia's Mo'Ne Davis was named SportsKid of the Year and was the first female pitcher to ever win a Little League World Series shut-out.

KEEPING SCORE

Spiraling Sports Controversies NASCAR, NBA and NFL found themselves surrounded by controversy accompanied by inevitable attention, opinions and the need for decisions to be made. LA Clipper's former owner, Donald Sterling found himself in the spotlight after being accused of making racist remarks that upset many. NBA Commissioner Adam Silver decided to ban Sterling from the NBA for life, fined him the maximum of $2.5 million and forced him to sell the team. Three-time NASCAR Sprint Cup Series Champion Tony Stewart was involved in an accident on a dirt track in New York in which his car struck and killed 20-year-old driver Kevin Ward. Controversy continued following an Ontario County grand jury's decision not to indict Stewart after finding no evidence that he actually committed a crime. Domestic violence incidents unveiled within the NFL pushed Commissioner Roger Goodell to enact tougher penalties for such behavior through new policies that held players more accountable for their actions, with little to no gray area.

WHAT COLOR IS IT?

White and gold or black and blue — the dress debate divided the Internet. N+2 JET Lockheed worked on a supersonic jet that would travel across the U.S. in 2.5 hours and hold 80 passengers. UBER The taxi alternative app made the list of Apple's most popular. THE MAN BUN A trending hairstyle was the self-explanatory man bun.

Harry Styles was among the men who sported one. ROYAL TWEETS Queen Elizabeth expanded her technological horizons and joined Twitter in October. GAS PRICES The price of gas dipped below $2 in several states, the lowest it had been since 2009.

GOOGLE GLASS Google decided to take their first-version technology wearables off the market. APPLE ADVANCES Apple attracted attention with the announcement of the iWatch and iPay, and they broke the previous record for pre-order sales with the iPhone 6. BEATS AND APPLE Apple bought out Beats by Dre and nearly tripled his net worth — more than he ever made, even while on tour.

WEARABLES Technology textiles became reality — like these that were worn to track health and workout habits. MINECRAFT Microsoft bought Minecraft developer Mojang for $2.5 billion after the game sold 16.5 million copies. BAE The popular slang word popped up in Pharrell's hit song and had people speculating what it meant. "Before Anyone Else" was one common explanation. TESLA As the electric car company aimed to increase brand awareness, Tesla charging stations began popping up all over the U.S.

BIG TIME

THE BIG SCREEN Google took over the largest billboard in Times Square with a 7769 x 329.65 foot Mitsubishi Electric display. The record-breaking billboard took up an entire block on Broadway.

#ALEXFROMTARGET

INSTANT TWITTER FAME An everyday Twitter user posted this photo of an ordinary Target cashier and it instantly went viral. Alex Lee, @acl163, went from around 144 Twitter followers to more than 600,000 and even made an appearance on the Ellen DeGeneres Show.

CAMERA CRAZY...

SELFIES ON A STICK These new devices gained popularity because they allowed users to take photos, specifically selfies, in a more inclusive way. However, many popular museums like New York's MoMA banned the selfie sticks for visitor safety and protection of the art. DRONES AND PRIVACY President Obama issued an Executive Order regarding the federal use of drones and the privacy concerns that followed. Obama said drones "may play a transformative role in fields as diverse as urban infrastructure management, farming, public safety... and disaster response." AMAZON AND GOPRO Leading into the holidays, Amazon announced its number one selling camera — the GoPro, a wearable type of camera often used when performing high-action sports like skiing, motorsports and other extreme outdoor activities.

The Art of 3D Printing

IN THE KITCHEN Culinary technologies like the Foodini and ChefJet advanced and increased the odds of 3D printing your food and desserts. IN THE OPERATING ROOM John Cousins began a 3D printing business and used it to create replicas of his kidneys to help doctors operate on him when he had appendicitis.

GAMES

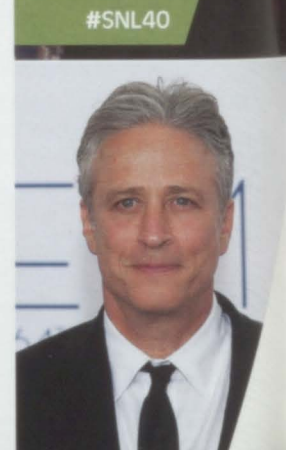

DESTINY Developed by the same creator as Halo, the game made more than $500 million the day it was released, making it the best selling video game ever. BAYONETTA 2 A sequel to the first Bayonetta, the game was published by Nintendo for Wii U and was awarded a Forbes Gold Award. MARIO KART 8 The popular kart racing game, released worldwide in May, won a Forbes Gold Award and took the number five spot on Time's "Top 10 Best Video Games of the Year" list.

north korean hack on sony

DRAMA WITH THE INTERVIEW

Sony Pictures was hacked in late November and North Korea was immediately blamed because of Sony's plan to release the comedy, The Interview, featuring an assassination attempt on supreme leader Kim Jong Un. North Korea denied the claim, but the FBI later confirmed that they were indeed behind the hack. Sony decided not to release the film after North Korea threatened violent attacks on the U.S. When Obama called the hack an act of cyber vandalism, the film was shown on Christmas Day in 330 independent theaters and was available for streaming online for just $5.99. The movie made $15 million in its first four days of release.

Books, Books & More Books

GIRL ONLINE 24-year-old Zoe Sugg started out posting beauty and fashion videos on YouTube, and then wrote her first novel Girl Online, which sold more copies in its first week than any other UK-released debut novel.

TOP READS The year's young adult fiction tended to focus on relatable, real-life situations; popular titles included I'll Give You The Sun by Jandy Nelson, Belzhar by Meg Wolitzer, Brown Girl Dreaming by Jacqueline Woodson and We Were Liars by E. Lockhart.

Movies & Television

SIMPSONS The show received Best and Favorite Animated TV Show on the Teen Choice and People's Choice Awards and celebrated its 25th year on-air.

THE FAULT IN OUR STARS The John Green novel turned into a movie released in June. It made $124,872,350 at the box office.

MODERN FAMILY The ABC show won three Emmys, including Outstanding Supporting Actor with Ty Burrell as Phil Dunphy.

THE HUNGER GAMES Mockingjay Part I was the highest grossing film of the year, raking in $336 million.

BIG BANG THEORY Jim Parsons won an Emmy for Outstanding Lead Actor; the show also earned three separate honors at the Teen Choice and People's Choice Awards.

ELLEN The comedian won Favorite Daytime TV Host at the People's Choice Awards.

GUARDIANS OF THE GALAXY The PG-13 film hit theaters in August and was the second highest grossing film of the year.

AMERICAN SNIPER Starring Bradley Cooper, this film made more than $280 million the month following its wide release.

PRETTY LITTLE LIARS The ABC drama won Teen Choice Award's Best Drama and People's Choice Favorite Cable TV Drama.

SNL The show celebrated its 40th anniversary in February with big-name appearances and hilarious skits.

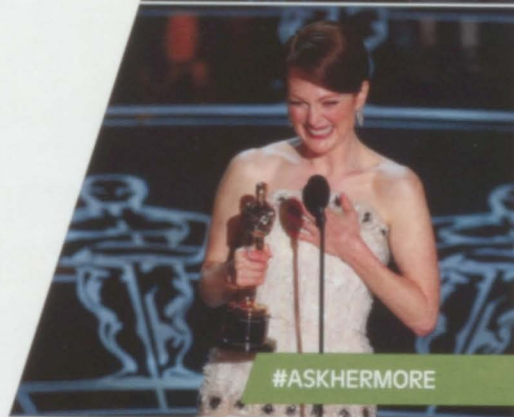

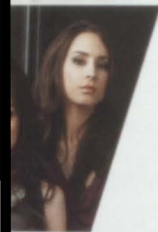

BEST ACTRESS Julianne Moore won an Oscar for her talented portrayal in Still Alice.

BEST ACTOR Eddie Redmayne won a coveted Oscar for his intense performance in The Theory of Everything.

JON STEWART The television host announced his decision to leave The Daily Show after 17 years of anchoring the show.

BEST ANIMATED FEATURE Big Hero 6 won an Oscar; the movie featured a large inflatable robot and a team of high-tech heroes.

MALEFICENT Starring Angelina Jolie, this movie won Favorite Movie/Favorite Family Movie at the People's Choice Awards.
