AIRMOUNT HIGH SCHOOL" is a very broad term, but it is to this institution that the 1934-35 journalism class wishes to dedicate this book.

"Fairmount High School" includes the building and campus, all the students, the teachers, and the loyal patrons of the community. To them we offer this review of school activities of the current year.

CHAMPIONSHIP YEAR

HE CLOSE of the present school year marks a closing of a championship period, not only in athletics but other things as well.

First, there came the baseball trophy which was the result of much work and training. As the basketball season came around, Fairmount's Quakers were full of the old fighting spirit. They experienced several defeats, but in the end they came through. They captured the invitational tournament with ease, as did the second squad.

In track the Fairmount thinly-clads have been going strong, winning trophies right along and breaking old high school records.

Aside from athletics, we turn to scholastic standing and learn that F.H.S. is ranked among the best. This fact, along with many others, convinces us thoroughly that the past school year has been one of championship throughout its entire course.

1931-1935

E FRESHMEN started with a shout

To start our work, without a doubt, Into the four long years to come. Oh, how we made the class rooms hum! Our sophomore year then made us feel As if high school were something real. The time then came for us to say What we should give as our class play. Chosen, rehearsed, and given well, How much we made we'll never tell: Then came the time for us to fling The senior reception in the spring. The senior play was all the talk Do you recall "Pomander Walk"? This year we tried without protest To have commencement at its best So out to Bethel we all went To recall the years we've spent In finding ways of education To help us each in our vocation.

ABOARD INTER - PLANETARY SPACE - SHIP "CENTURY" MAY 21, 1955

THE SENIOR CLASS of 1935 is having its first inter-planetary trip which they hope will become an annual affair. William Harmas, designer of the "Century", is the chief guide to assist the passengers over the huge rocket ship. His assistants are Ronald Ricks and Max Clifford. Captain James Huston, who is in charge of the ship, has just entered the blue room to perform the wedding ceremony of Kenneth Martin and Mary Mills. The bride is dressed in the latest type of gown, designed by Mme. Ruth Retz of Paris, and made of Dasette, the new cloth manufactured from the pulp of the daisy, invented by Russel Venitz. Junior Parker has appeared as best man and Margaret Miller and Marguerite Spence are carrying the bridal train.

THE BREEZE

There has just been a little excitement aboard while a small two seater gyrotype ship from the earth landed on the observation deck. It contained Keith Hockett, who overslept and missed the "Century", and Web Knight who wouldn't go unless Keith did. Now that everyone is here, we can have a grand old time.

Bill Brewer, third watch on the aft deck, just reported seeing Art Salisbury sitting on the railing with a fishing pole in one hand and a sack of peanuts in the other. By the way, Art runs a pop-corn and peanut stand on the ship.

Jim Brewer has just announced dinner in the salon on the lower deck. The guests are seated at four tables, which are marked to show what planet is represented.

Arthur Titus, second ex-husband of Mary Mills, and who is president of the Oogaloe Republic on Mars, is host at the Mars table. Among the guests at this table are Max Pemberton and Wilbur Lewis, his mechanic, who are now perfecting a ship that will defy the law of gravity on the rings of Saturn and will be able to land on that planet. Wilbur Lewis' wife, Geraldine Moorman, is hostess, and to her left is Wilmuth Pernod, a nurse in the Oogaloe City hospital. Next to her is Treva Linville, matron of the Oogaloe City Orphans' Home, and wife of Marion Newlin. To the right of the hostess are Helen Eddy and Dorothy Duling, both teachers in the Ooogaloe City public schools.

Captain James Huston is host at the Earth table, and his wife, Jane Ann Hiatt, is hostess. Among the guests at the Earth table are Mayor Harvey of Fairmount, and his wife, the former Bonita Crowe. Also Charles Sutton, third ex-husband of Mary Mills, and Adrienne Davis, soprano in the Benbow Opera house at Radley. Samuel Wells, black shirt dictator of Italy, and his wife who tells him what to do, Hattie Draper, are also seated at the Earth table.

Dale Smalley and Raymond Pattison are Planet- trotters having no special home, so they are also seated at the Earth table.

Fred Buffington is host of the Venus table, and is surrounded by his greenclad henchmen and their gun-molls. His gang is composed of Glen Hipes, Frances Carter, Harry Warr, and Donna Thompson. They earn their living by holding up the gold-carrying rocket ships that travel from the Earth to Jupiter.

Frances Kempher, Martha Millspaugh, and Maxine Riley, who now reside on Venus, are planning to move to Saturn as soon as Max Pemberton perfects his ship. Charles McCartney is employed as a FERA worker on Venus.

Wesley Skinner, second watch on the forward deck, has just brought in a rock that he picked off a Saturn ring as we passed. Chemical analysis shows that it is 99.9% pure gold. Gold will surely become quite cheap since there are 108,000,932 tons of such rock around Saturn. Wesley said he would divide up evenly with the rest of the class of '35. We need more men like him!

Wilson Hasty is host at the Jupiter table, with Margaret Bliss as hostess. Jupiter is known as the winter playground of the Universe. Some of our former classmates who spent the winter there were Hannazola Davis, Almetta Havens, Mary Ellen Hueston, and Martha Everhart.

Well, dinner is all over and the next treat on the program is a special presentation of the famous Rush-ian follies. Phyllis Knight and Elizabeth Morrish just sang the popular song written by Madeline Smith, "Let's Hitch our Rocket to a Star." Next on the program was a team dance by Edna Townsley, June Roth, Geradine Pattison, Fay Main, Pauline Davis, and Mary Hodson.

Bill Brewer, 3rd watch on the aft deck, has just reported that we have landed on the earth, so it looks like the reporter will have to tune off and go home. Here's hoping we can make this an annual affa'r!

JUNIOR CLASS

"GOOD-MORNING, folks! This is station F.H.S. I take great pleasure in introducing Miss Himelick and Mr. Dragstrem who will give you a review of the activities of the junior class of '35. They have successfully sponsored this peppy class for three years. Miss Himelick and Mr. Dragstrem."

"Hello, everybody! We are pleased to be allowed to bring this review. This class has seventy-one students enrolled. Soon after beginning the school year, the class elected their officers. They were: Charles Ford, president; Dale Leach, vice president; Fern Morrison, secretary; and Charles Albert, treasurer. The business of the school year has been successfully carried out by these officers. Smart blue and white class sweaters were purchased, not to mention those good looking class rings.

"One of the high lights of the year was the class play, "Her Incubator Husband." The cast and Miss Hile presented the play which provided excellent entertainment.

"Another high light was athletics. Several of our boys played on the basket ball team. The junior class is well represented in all other sports.

"Nine students in the class were eligible to join the Honor Society.

"Plans were made for the annual junior-senior reception which helped close this eventful year.

"We thank you!"

SOPHOMORE CLASS

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS of 1935 found smooth sailing during this past year. At the beginning of the school year, a class meeting was held to elect class officers. They were Jack Hannon, president; Melvin Fisher, vice president; Mary Lewis, secretary; Homer Scott, treasurer; James Ribble, social chairman; Joan Simons, girls' athletic manager; Joe Shane, boys' athletic manager; Marjorie Hunt, Breeze reporter; Yvonne Sutton and Leona Day, yell leaders.

The class has held one successful party this year. It was a theater party at Marion, and a large group attended. The transportation was furnished by school busses from the high school.

During the past year the sophomores have had two losses and five gains. Our losses were Melvin Fisher who went to Jonesboro and Marjorie Hunt who went to Marion. Our gains were Kenneth Mitchener from Matthews, Robert Everett from Noblesville, Dollie Hueston from Plymouth, Indiana, Mary Ellen Fort from Swayzee, and Imogene Alkire from Hoopston, Illinois.

In the boys' inter-class basketball tourney, the Sophomores were second. The girls won both their basketball and baseball tourney. Altogether, it looks as though the sophomore class promises an excellent basketball team in 1936-37.

"Keep going, Sophomores!"

FRESHMAN CLASS

S EPTEMBER 17. 1934 dawned upon a new class of freshmen. The class consisted of seventy-three.

Most of them are great athletes. Their chief sports are chewing gum and flipping paper-wads. They are pretty good travelers, too. They went to Indianapolis to visit various places, but it hasn't been decided yet whether it was for better or for worse.

They have been fighting with Roderick Dou and his clan, but someone thought they should learn more about their citizenship and vocations. After they became more civilized, they made their own clothes and their furniture. It was then found out that they had more insects than they had crops, so they studied biology. When it came to figuring out how many more bugs they had than crops, they had to consult a math teacher.

Thus they completed their education and might become a good example for other freshman classes in years to come.

HONOR GROUPS

THIS YEAR, after a lapse of several years, a student council was organized. The purpose of this organization is to promote better citizenship and scholar-ship among the students, and to maintain a spirit of cooperation between faculty and student body. Two representatives, one boy and one girl, are elected by each class. The council elects its own president, and also a vice president and secretary. Representatives are elected each semester, while the president holds his office for the school year. Meetings are held on alternate Fridays. Miss Lewis is sponsor of this group, as well as of the Honor Society.

The Honor Society is made up of seniors and second semester juniors who have averaged ten honor points for the preceding semester, and are then elected to membership by the high school faculty. No more than fifteen per cent of the total membership of the senior class, or more than five per cent of the juniors, may belong. A new kind of initiation was given this year for the new members. One of the projects completed during the first of the year, was the sponsoring of the organization of the Student Council. There were twenty-one active members of the society during the second semester.

An average of thirty-five students made the Honor Roll each six weeks during the year. Anyone who makes ten points and maintains a satisfactory citizenship record qualifies. The Honor Society and Student Council promoted a greater interest in the Honor Roll this year than had been known for sometime.

'Music Hath Charms'

OUR HIGH SCHOOL has been quite active where musical education is concerned. We have a band, an orchestra, a girls' glee club, and a mixed chorus. During the past year these clubs and organizations have taken quite an active part in all kinds of high school activities.

The high school orchestra played for the plays that were presented. The band played at all sports occasions and for pep sessions, and it has also entered in different band concerts in the past. This year it played in the May Festival in Muncie. The glee clubs presented the Christmas convocation this year, and have appeared before several church groups.

F.H.S. has had an annual musical revue for the past two years. These revues have been enjoyed by both the audiences and the actors. A special high school orchestra was organized for these activities, and helped make the operetta and revue a success.

Fairmount has quite a lot of musical talent and it is appreciated greatly by all who know about it. Not every school can boast of such musical organizations as can our high school, but we would like to encourage even more students to participate.

"The Play's the Thing"

THE 1934-35 school year saw several successful plays presented before the student body and public. Although there were no dramatic clubs sponsored by any of the teachers, stage work proved highly beneficial to interested students.

The first play of the year consisted of a convocation playlet entitled "The Whirlwind." It took place in a hospital, and the cast consisted of four high school students.

The junior play proved to be highly entertaining. It was a three act farce entitled "Her Incubator Husband." The plot was that of two mothers who had brought their daughter and son up, intending they should be for each other.

The next high school entertainment was an all school musical revue called "Tunes 'n Tidbits." This play was put on for the purpose of furthering work on the stage and library. The glee clubs assisted in the evening's program.

The speech class, under the direction of Miss Hile, presented a one act farce before the high school group. It was entitled "Doctor In Spite Of Himself" and took place in a wooded clearing.

"Pomander Walk", the senior class play, was a play that was different from others presented in the high school for quite sometime. It took place in London on a street named Pomander Walk. Taken in the early eighteen-hundreds, it proved to be quite quaint as well as entertaining.

A group of plays was presented in the auditorium under the auspices of the Phi. Beta Psi sorority. Players from Indiana University presented these performances.

To round out the year, the Seniors gave their convocation in the form of an all class revue, which was entertaining but somewhat sad for that dignified body of able classmen.

Miss Helen Hile was the dramatic director for the year.

« CLUBS »

A Paste-ing club Miss Hile did have For junior high school ages; The first of the year they pasted books, And last, miniature stages.

Miss Rush's club all studied charm.

In clothes they proved good planners;

Self-confidence they all admire,

But most of all, good manners.

On mathematical puzzles of uneven shape

Miss Lewis' club tested muscle and brain;

If puzzles were hard, they would never give up.

They'd simply attack them all over again.

The radio club has studied radio From the first unto the end; And now the high school has An aerial on which to depend.

Mr. Kilgore and his songsters
Had a busy year.
The chorus sang in Muncie once
And at Christmas time, right here.

The Sew-So Club has learned to do

A lot of things for which they had always yearned.

The girls all worked along with their fun

And are very proud of what they have done.

Mr. Galey's Archers
Are handily endowed
They made their own equipment
And their marksmanship is proud.

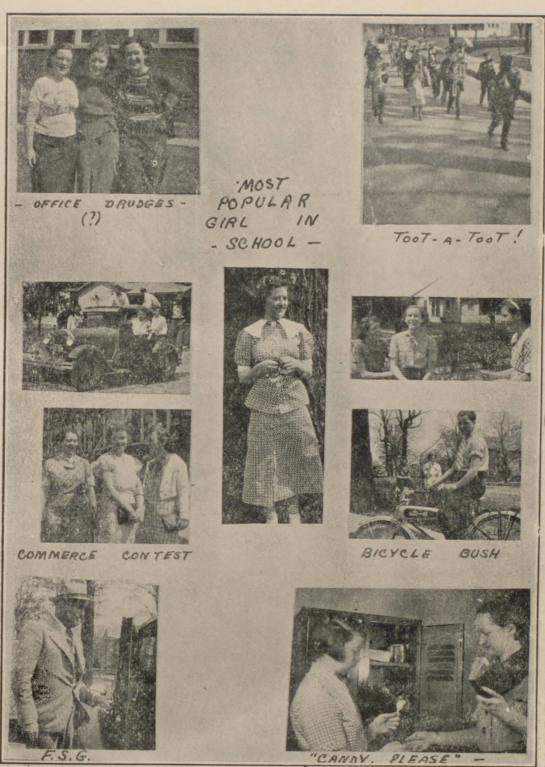

A high ideal of service
The Hi-Y boys all claim;
Sponsored by Mr. Elliott,
Their year was crowned with fame.

Remember, we saw some girls
In uniforms of blue;
Their purpose was to promote pep,
The girls of the Curtain and Cue.

Lawrence Gotschall
And his Athletes
Sponsored baseball
And all track meets.

They sing with the greatest of ease The girls in our glee club. They always try to work and please Dressed up in their best duds.

Without a Hobby
Life is very low
So Mr. Clanin's club
Did not make boys so.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

IN SPITE of the fact that the 1934-35 varsity basketball squad of Fairmount high school won eleven and lost nine of their regular scheduled games, they finished with a very successful season. They won the invitational county championship and were defeated in the final game of the sectional, 37 to 9, by Marion.

There were eight seniors on the club this year, and they will be missed by the 1935-36 team. The seniors that have played their last high school basketball are Hockett, Harmas, Clifford, Warr, Skinner, Huston, Martin, and Parker.

JAMES HUSTON - - Center

"Jim" waited until he was a senior to come out for varsity basketball, but had little trouble in securing his position. Jim probably improved more in one year than any boy on the team.

WILLIAM HARMAS - - Forward

"Bill" had a foxy left hand shot that came in handy at the right time in many games. Bill was a quiet boy on the floor and slipped in many baskets. He is a senior and his left hand playing will be missed next year.

MAX CLIFFORD - - Forward

"Micky" was plenty fast and had that old fighting spirit that helped to carry his teammates on to victory. Micky's fast breaks will be missed on next year's squad.

VERL OVERSHINER - - Guard

"Shiner" is only a junior and has plenty of ability. He is another boy with lots of fight and drive. He will probably be used as pivot man on next year's club.

KENNETH MARTIN - - Forward

"Ken" was the smallest man on the team, but had his way of getting the ball through the basket. Ken was probably the best foul shooter F.H.S. has had for several years. He is a senior this year.

HUBERT FLOREA - - Forward

"Ike" has plenty of ability to play ball. His fancy dribbling has fooled many of his opponents. Ike is a junior and his dribbling will come in handy next year.

HARRY WARR - - Forward.

"Sam" was a crack shot on the F.H.S. squad this year. A field goal by Sam in the last minute has won several games for his school. Sam is another of this year's graduates.

WESLEY SKINNER - - Guard

"Wes" was a boy that didn't cease to improve. He played his best basketball for F.H.S. when it meant the most, in the Sectional tournament. Wes is a senior this year, and his fighting spirit will be a loss to the future team.

KEITH HOCKETT - - Forward

"Rosy" was voted by his teammates to be the most valuable on this year's club. Rosy has his own patent on his pivot shots, and those foxy pivot plays will be missed next year.

JUNIOR PARKER - - Forward

"Lucky" is small but as fast as lightning. His left handed playing has fooled many opponents. He wasn't a heavy scorer himself, but he made it possible for the other fellow to score. Lucky is another of this year's seniors.

« BASKETBALL »

THE SECOND TEAM had a very successful season, winning all of their games but one and also winning the county second team tourney.

The young fighting Quakers started out the season by defeating Sweetser, which was followed by successive victories up until the middle of the season when they were defeated by Eaton. Throughout the conclusion of the season, victory after victory was marked up. On February 25 the seconds played in the yearly second team tourney, defeating the strong Jefferson Township crew in the finals to win the tourney.

The "C" team had a very successful season winning the majority of their games. The "C" team is a senior high team next in line after the second team. In many home second team games in which the "C" team has participated, it has shown its ability and efficiency as a strong basketball squad.

The Agriculture team, a senior high team composed of boys from agriculture classes, was very successful this year, winning a majority of their games.

The freshman team showed good possibilities of a future team, but were defeated in a majority of their games this season. The freshman team is generally considered as the next year's second team, and as they show very good possibilities, we will probably have an outstanding second squad next year.

The seventh and eighth grade team won about half of their games last season, including a grade tournament held in the Fairmount gymnasium.

« INTRAMURALS »

IN THE FALL opening of the past school year, sports events were about the first to take place.

This first event consisted of a cross country race staged at the fair grounds with Eugene Wright of the junior class winning. The freshman class won second place in the event.

Next in importance came the soft-ball season, and of course a tournament climaxed the season. The mighty seniors took this tournament with little effort.

Now came the hardwood clash between the classes. Some of the teams practiced a little but all in vain. The juniors won over the freshmen, and the seniors pulled through with victory over the sophomores. Then came the night of the final game to decide the class championship. The seniors won by a margin despite the clever plays of their foes. As a reward of their championship of the classes, a pennant was presented them which bore the names of the various players.

All spare time was next spent in the ping-pong games which proved very exciting. At last after much practising, a tournament was played. Here again the seniors scored with Richard Benbow leading. In spite of this fact, we must not forget William Johnson; he deserves honorable mention.

Now on the tennis court we find Bryson Wells and James Huston winning in the doubles, and James Ribble and Arthur Titus leading in the singles.

Then we remember the Hungry League of basketball games at noon. This league was won by Richard Benbow and Raymond Pattison's teams. This noon hour basketball was enjoyed thoroughly by the boys and provided entertainment for the students as well.

Freshman Flag day annually presents an opportunity for inter-class competition, and this year the forces of freshmen and juniors emerged victorious over their fellow students. The score was close, however, and so were many of the track events.

Now our sports are over and school is drawing to a close, and we shall forget these sports until school begins again.
