"Safe At Home Forever"

7-17-87 - 6-27-04

By: Tara McBroom

Sammy boy, the day you went away,
We all wish you could have stayed.

A hero you will always be;

That was something everyone could see.

We'll never forget your brutal honesty,

Even when you told all the girls they were just a tease.

Everyone enjoyed your presence, we know.

Even at every party, you were there with a glow;
Football, baseball, and wrestling were your things,
But now you're in heaven with a new set of wings.

The day you moved to Oak Hill made us mad

But the day you left made us very sad

The way you always made us feel at ease...

If only that night, you would have never had your keys.

We still don't believe your death is true;

That night we drove to the hospital, just to see you.

We wish we could turn back the hands of time;

You were everything and more, but would you just give us a sign?

Now that you're gone and not coming back,

We just hope you know we love you, Sammy, that's a fact;

Now the Lord's taken your hand,

And led you down the path to the Promised Land.

We would give anything to feel half your breath;

We know you're still living your life, it's just after death.

"Sam, Sam, he's our man!

If he can't do it then no one can!"

I'll always remember that song we sang,

Rest in peace, Sammy boy; nothing will ever remain the same.

In Loving Memory of...
Samuel James Nolder
Rest In Peace

Robbi Idlewine

Describe the sophomore life.

"You're the middle man. You get more respect from the upper classmen. You don't have to worry about being the youngest anymore. You get more freedom but not as much as juniors and seniors. You're halfway to graduating!!!!!!!!!!!!!!"

Derek McPhearson

How is Madison-Grant different from Elwood?

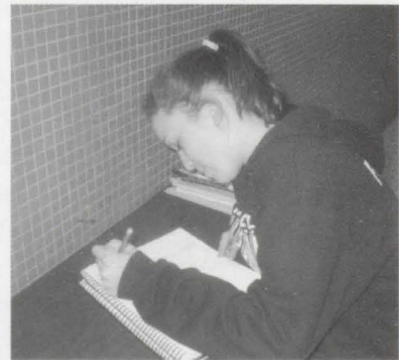

"The teachers here are a lot better because they work through problems with you. At Elwood they wouldn't help at all."

Amanda Pollen

How would you describe your sophomore year?

"I would describe my sophomore year as a learning experience I'll never forget. I really enjoyed this year more than my freshman, because I knew more about what was going on, and I didn't feel like as much of an outsider as I did last year."

Rachel Olesyck, Kelsey Gibson, Traci Morgan, Casey Fields, and Allison Lyons get pumped up before the tricycle race during homecoming week.

Turning Sixteen...

By: Tara McBroom

...to most this milestone would seem like a big deal. You receive a license, get the car you always wanted but never thought you would get, and you have the opportunity to leave whenever you want. You might even have the opportunity to take your friends everywhere. Most teenagers say turning sixteen means that their curfews get extended, and they are now allowed to date. However, along with these privileges comes responsibility and that is what most parents want to see from their children as they grow up.

Being a freshman means that you get to experience all the new activities that high school life has to offer. Finally, you get to be a part of homecoming as Grant Idlewine and Cassie Dodson show as they were the freshmen attendants this year. As you step into high school, the level of sports competition increases. T.J.

W YOUR SPORTS

Whether it is football, volleyball, basketball, or track, many students participate in sports at Madison-Grant High School. For some, sports are a way to have fun and meet new people. For others it is all about the competition. Whatever the reason, M-G athletes do their best all year long to show their hard work and dedication in whatever sport they may be playing. From the middle of August until the very end of May, the Argyls persevere through tough match-ups and strive to make their coaches, parents, and teammates proud.

"Basketball is my favorite sport because I love the excitement of being in the game."
Junior
TYLER SIZELOVE

2004-2005 VICTORIES

Onward Mighty Argyls...

Grant Four

December 30th turned out to be a very exciting day for the boys basketball team when both the varsity and JV teams became the 2004-2005 Grant-Four Champs. The varsity team defeated Mississinewa and then went on to win the hard-fought championship game against Eastbrook. The JV team also outmaneuvered Eastbrook and Mississinewa.

First Ever

The girls Cross Country team had a very successful season. They started off by capturing the very first girls cross country Grant-Four title by having five girls in the top ten. They also advanced as a team to the Regional for the first time in Madison-Grant's history. To add to the excitement of the season, sophomore transfer student, Kirstin Rager, broke the school record for the girl's cross country race.

A group of hard-working football players receive instructions from the coach during a time-out.

Varsity volleyball players congratulate each other on a great play during their game against Wabash.

Tony Presley, one of four senior tennis players, concentrates on his opponent at one of the many home matches. This fall was the first year for the brand new tennis courts to be used.

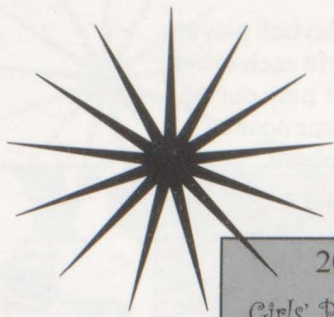

Preparing for a game against Yorktown, senior Cody Riggs warms up his pitching arm. Cody has been pitching for the Argylls since his freshman year.

Freshman cheerleader, Allie Blessing, cheers on the Argylls at a home boys' basketball game.

2004 was only the second year Madison-Grant High School offered Girls Golf. Although they were not a very experienced team, all the girls had fun laughing and learning to play with Coach Hoppes.

“Drive for show, putt for dough,” was Michaela Conner’s motto during the 2004 season. Michaela was known for her extravagant drives but was a bit less skillful when it came to putting.

“I enjoyed having all of the girls who came out. There were two returning seniors who provided leadership for the team and three new seniors who had fun learning. The underclassmen improved every game and provide a promising future for Girls’ Golf at Madison-Grant.”

How did you like your first year of golf?

"I need to work on my putting, but overall the season was fun."

M-G Football

The 2004 football season started out with a lot of injuries. The team stepped up and took all the injuries as a challenge upon themselves. They ended the season winning 4 games and only losing 6 games.

Shea Idlewine awaits his return in the football game.

Start to Finish

How do you think the football season started and ended in 2004?

"From the loss of the graduating seniors, the replacements we had to make, and the strength of the top half of our schedule. The start of the season is what we expected, but we improved tremendously."
-Coach Wells

"It ended in disappointment for the seniors. The team was sad and disappointed so because of the hard work we put in the season to build a championship fell short."
-Jake Stroup

Jake Stroup, Brandon Ricks, and Nick Chapel work hard together as a team to get a touch down.

"The season started slow because of injuries. So the boys had to adjust positions and when they did the season ended well. I was very proud."
-Coach Noone

"We played better at the end than the beginning. The season ended a little depressing because the last game was cancelled."
-Grant Idlewine

"I think our season went pretty good. We lost a lot of starters last year but we made up for it this year. Everbody we played underestimated us and just thought we would be a blow off.

We gave the opposing team everything we had. Every week at practice was hard and intense.

It showed how hard we worked every Friday night."

This year's 2004 volleyball season was one to remember. While the new gym was being renovated, they overcame the obstacle of playing in the Jr. High. Even though they lost Sectional Championship, they played their hardest and it brought the team together for the first time the whole season. Allison Holloway had an amazing game and broke a school record in kills. Great Season Ladies!

Boys Tennis

Matt Houston

"It takes a real man to play tennis. We were awesome this year. I think Mr. T was totally stoked with our performances."

T. J. Herniak

"Tennis is awesome."

Being able to have a home tennis match in more than two years helped the Madison-Grant tennis team have a respectable record of 6-7. Also, number two singles Alex Ray was honored as a member of the all CIC squad. The number one doubles team of Andrew Morrical and Toney Presley was also an all CIC honorable mention.

Number one singles player Jared Powell describes the moment, "I was going after the ball like an angry badger going after a ripe apple."

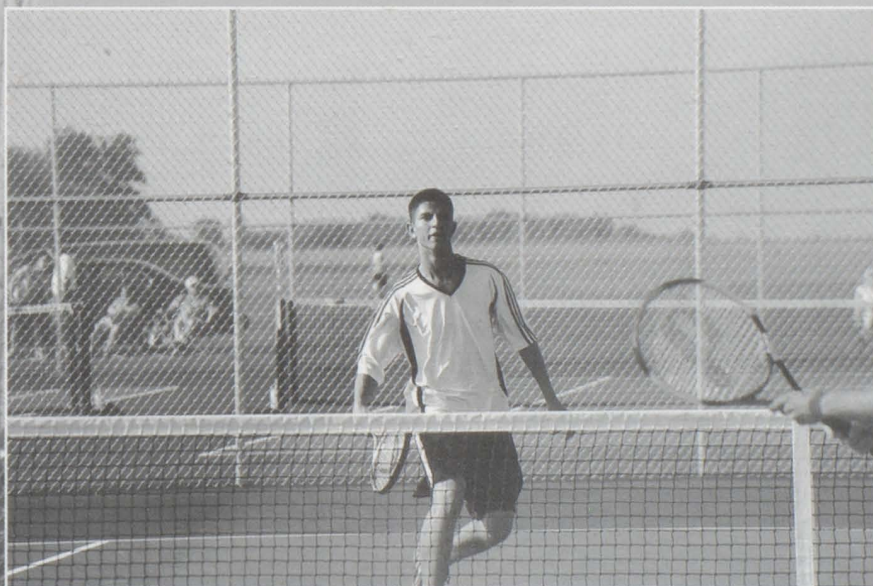

Picking out his favorite ball, M-G's elite member of the all CIC tennis squad, Alex Ray walks back to the service line to inflict another devious serve on his opponent.

Back Row: Coach Chris Tanner, Matt Houston, Tony Presley, Jared Powell, Aaron Vogel, Robert Shull

Wrestling

The 2005 Wrestling season was one of the best in years. The team ended the year with seven wins and ten losses. Matt Roberts and Daniel Jenny had very rewarding seasons and both received awards for Most Pins and Most Takedowns. Nick Chapel recieved the award for Most Improved.

Ricki Frye, Nick Chapel, and Jesse Stitt watch from the sidelines as Matt Roberts pins his opponent.

Coach Fox has been coaching the boys' varsity wrestling team for seven consecutive years. He is known for being a tough coach while maintaining a good relationship with his wrestlers.

Daniel Jenny struggles to pin his opponent from Blackford Highschool.

What was the highlight of the 2005 season for you?

"Placing 4th in regionals was the best part of the season for me."

From the end of March until the middle of May, the girls and boys track teams are working hard to get their times down, get their handoffs just right, and to throw the shot just a few more inches. Since the track season is so short, the team members have a limited amount of time to get prepared for the meets.

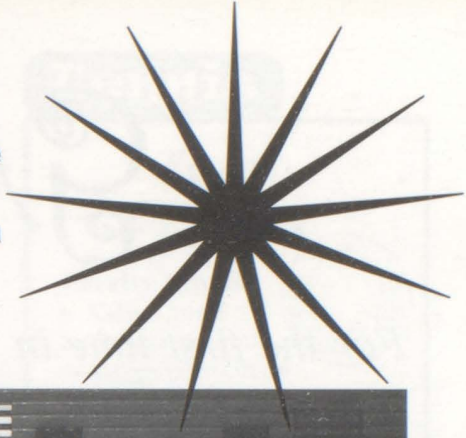

With all his might, Jesse Stitt comes out of the blocks for the 100 meter dash.

2005 Girls Track Team: Front: Stacy Houston, Cody Barkdull, April Jenny, Lex Myers, Allie Blessing, Cynthia Wilkins, Briana Kerr, Elizabeth Savage, Bry Russell, Kylie Ray, and Amanda McMahan. Back: Coach Brooke Justus, Brittani Herniak, Georgia Smithee, Cristyn Wenn, Tiffany Colburn, Breezy Melton, Carey Williams, Julia Petro, and Coach Crissy Vetur.

Shea Idlewine and Alex Ray run a close race as they make their way down the backstretch of the 400 meter run. Shea and Alex are both seniors and have been running track for two years.

Senior Aaron Croussore runs with all his effort in the 400 meter run at Mississinewa.

Sophomore
Brennen Ricks
gets a good lead on her opponents in the 100 hurdles.
Brennen has been
the number one hurdler for the past two years.

Girls' Tennis

For the first time in 33 years, the M-G girls' tennis team began the season with three wins and zero losses. The team finally had brand new courts and was able to host matches.

-Michaela Conner and Shea Smock

Tennis

Katie Croaff, only a sophomore, was forced to provide team leadership as the number one varsity singles player. She did a great job representing the team both on and off the court.

Sophomore Allison Lyons played on the number two JV team with her good friend, Traci Morgan.

“Coaching the girls’ tennis team was a great experience. Even though I was new, I received the same amount of respect and hard work from the girls as would any other coach. All of them were very nice and we had a great time together.”

Becca Carey and Katie Scott played together for the first time this year as the number two varsity doubles team.

Baseball

How does having only one other senior teammate affect you?

Brandon Ricks

"Mostly being one of two seniors has made me more of a leader, as well as closer to the rest of my teammates."

Cody Riggs

"It is different from having a big group of seniors, unlike the other years, but Brandon and I have been playing together our whole lives."

This spring was a reloading year for the Argyll baseball team. The Argylls lost eight senior players last year that provided most of the varsity statistics. With only a handful of returning lettermen, many new players stepped up and came together to have a successful year for the Argyll baseball team.

Devastating the opposing batters with his knuckleball for four years, senior Cody Riggs pitches while junior Aaron Tomlin awaits the play during a convincing win over the Southwood Knights.

Junior Varsity

Girls Softball

The Lady Argylls softball team had four returning seniors to lead the young Argyll team. The team endured many close, hard fought games this season and worked hard to earn their victories. The girls became very close throughout the season because of all the hard practices and games.

Senior Kate Cogdell pitches against the Marion Giants where in the previous year she hurt her knee warming up for the same game. She worked hard in physical therapy and on her own to rebuild her knee as best she could for her senior year.

Senior Bethany Wilson stands ready for a throw from home plate to get a Tipton runner out at first base.

ACADEMICS YOUR CLUBS STUDENT LIFE

What makes you? There are many different clubs and activities that many Madison-Grant's students participate in. From drama, to foreign language, science, and math, M-G offers a variety of all. Most students enjoy being involved in a group and feel like they are doing something with their lives other than just holding an academic career.

Math

1,2,3... Math is the key.

Whether you're head smart in the math curriculum or just trying to pass, you must take it. However, you don't have to worry. You won't ever be lost with teachers like Mrs. Hawk, Mr. Small, Mrs. Parker, or Mrs. Sizelove. These teachers have devoted their time and effort into making sure that you understand the numbers, variables, and equations of math.

Mrs. Hawk helps sophomore Shadoe York correct a few of his math problems during his Algebra class.

Senior Alison Strasser gives an oral report on Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy for Mrs. Hamilton's Genetics class. "Genetics class is fun because we get to work with partners, and Mrs. Hamilton is a very nice teacher."

Science

I can't believe it's... Science!!!

The Study of....

Science couldn't get any more interesting than any other course taken at Madison-Grant. In Mr. Martin's Zoology class, you learn about the anatomy of animals. Most kids enjoy this class because they get the opportunity to dissect cats. However, most kids don't like it because they have to put up with the dreadful smells that pour out of the classroom. In Mrs. Hamilton's Genetics class, you learn about the bloodwork in your body. She assigns creative projects like filming a commercial and giving oral reports.

Mr. Martin

If you could take three things with you on a deserted island what would they be?

YOUR ENGLISH CLASSES:

HOW TO DEAL 101

From reports and essays, to literature and grammar you will never find yourself without something to do in your English class. However, here is a little heads up on what to expect during those dreadful English years. During your freshman year, Mrs. Dosh and Mrs. Brown will teach the fundamentals of English. Going through pronouns and adverbs in grammar, to reading novels like Sounder and plays such as, Romeo and Juliet for literature. These teachers will definitely keep you well informed. They will also give you projects to do, such as writing business letters to companies in return of getting a response. During your sophomore year, Mrs. Haviland will take you underneath the surface of English and try to get you to understand the concept that many of us cannot seem to grasp. From keeping track of accelerated reader points to memorizing lines from the play Julius Ceasar, Mrs.

Haviland will definitely keep her classes busy with work. Mrs. Burnett is one of our many versatile teachers, teaching from all different areas of English. From freshmen to seniors, she has a variety of all. Keeping her classes interesting, Mrs. Burnett gets them involved by acting out plays. Mrs. Herring teaches the junior and senior classes. Two of her biggest projects for the seniors, include research papers and speeches. The junior projects this year included making up a song to ordinary life and putting it into a familiar song or jingle. For example, Al Jamieson and Andy Sharkey performed an excellent version of "Riboflavin" using the musical arrangement from the hit song that was very popular in the 1980's, "Total Eclipse of the Heart", by Bonnie Tyler.

Rounding Second Headed For Fame by Pat Williams

A single, a double, a triple play,
A homer, a strikeout, a perfect game,
All spectacular feats in baseball lore,
But none of the above is the play I adore.

It's September now, playoff calls being heard,
With a two-two count, in the bottom of the third,
The pitcher glares at the batter in the box.
The batter returns it, looking for a base knock.

The pitcher winds, strides, and throws,
A slider on the corner, away and low.
The batter, with two strikes, slaps in protection.
And drives it down the line with absolute perfection.

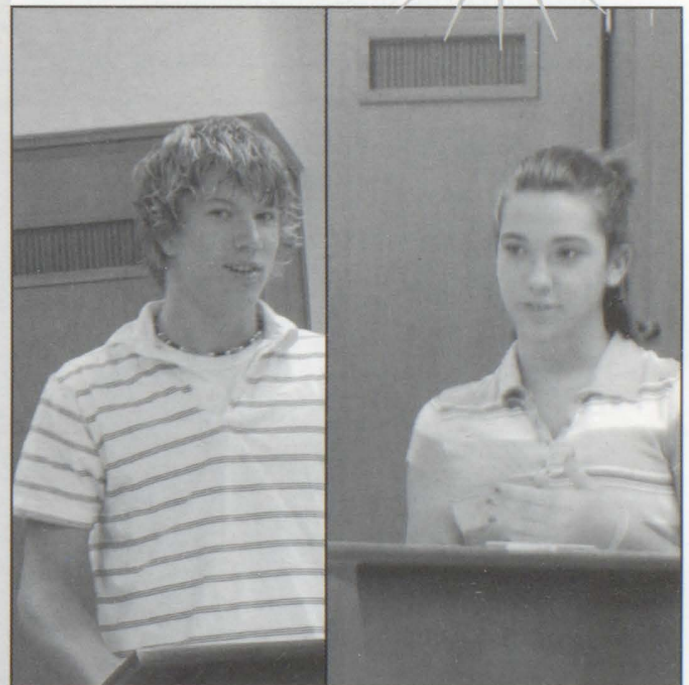

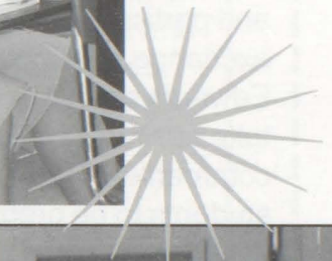

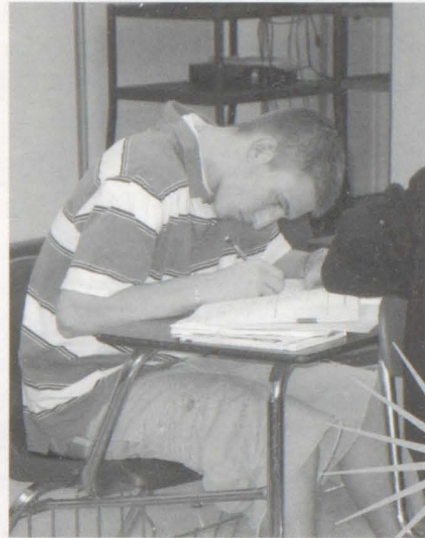

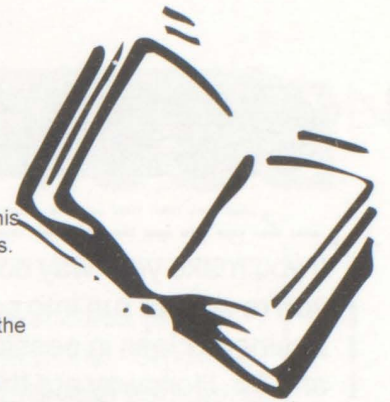

The ball goes sailing, over the first baseman's stare,
As the umpire yells, "It's fair, it's fair!"
A line drive bouncing off the right field wall,
The batter rounding first, not slowing at all.

His coach at third is giving him the call,
While the fielder in the right is chasing the ball.
The fielder finally picks it up at the track,
While the batter, head down, is focused on the bag.

The throw comes in, and it's right on line.
The batter slides head first, in the nick of time.
When he hit the bag, dust filled the air.
The umps call was heard but not seen, "He's there!"

Under the crowd's cheers and the lights' gleam,
The batter stands up and brushes himself clean.
This is the triple, the king of them all.
This is the triple, the most exciting play in baseball.

Shadoe York works on his business letter during Mrs. Brown's fourth period English class. Writing a business letter is one of the many projects that Mrs. Brown has her students complete.

During your junior year, you will also be assigned poems that you write for your English class. Pat Williams wrote a wonderful poem about his favorite sport, baseball.

Brandon Ricks gives his speech over the malpractices of doctors in the United States, along with Brittany Pollen, who delivers her speech over discrimination of women. These are the follow up speeches that seniors give after they have completed their research papers in senior English class.

BUSINESS

If you make your way down A-Hallway you're sure to run into some type of business class in session. Mrs. Edwards and Mr. Holloway are the business teachers. With classes ranging from Business Foundations to Computer Applications, students will learn things like what it takes to run a business, how to balance a checkbook, and how to make flyers on the computer. Students do a variety of projects throughout the year including producing a commercial, creating a research/powerpoint project, and participating in an online stock exchange called Stocksquest. Mrs. Edwards strongly encourages students to take business classes. Mrs. Edwards commented, "They are fun and help students to be prepared for life in the real world."

Mr. Holloway helps a student on an assignment while junior J.J. Justus does some homework in his Computer Applications class.

Sophomore students Lindsey Pierce and Cynthia Rankin make excellent progress on a worksheet in Mrs. Edward's Business Foundations class.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

A group of freshmen plays a basketball game called 42. This is one of the students' favorite things to do on free days in gym class.

For some, P.E. is the best class of the day. For others, it is the worst. Students are required to take a physical education class for one semester in their freshman and sophomore years. Learning to play tennis, participating in the badminton and ping-pong tournaments, and playing dodge ball rank among the favorites of students at M-G. Although gym class is fun most of the time, the majority of students would probably agree that running with the heart monitors is one of the worst aspects of P.E. For those who enjoy gym class, an advanced class is offered for juniors and seniors as well as a weightlifting class.

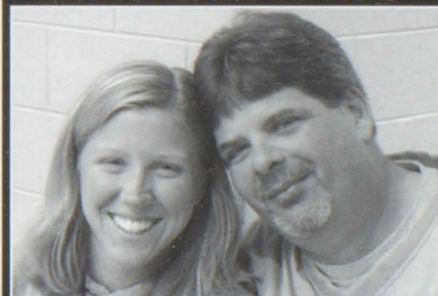

John Watson shows off his muscular arms while doing curls in his weightlifting class.

Miss Justus' 7th period class works on a group project where the students invent a new game and then teach the class how to play.

Mr. Summers points out the correct way to use a tripod to his students: Breanna Eden and Anthony Weigand.

Two thousand-five was a very accomplished year for the art program at Madison-Grant High School. Brandon Ricks received a Gold Key at the Scholastic Awards in Fort Wayne for his colored pencil drawing "Big Tom's Hogg," pictured below. Aaron Croussore also received a Gold Key for his self portrait in computer graphics "J'ai peur." Both received one thousand dollar scholarships and their projects went on to nationals in New York City where Aimee Zaragoza won a Gold Key.

Mr. Summers teaches Visual Communications, Cisco, and Computer Design.

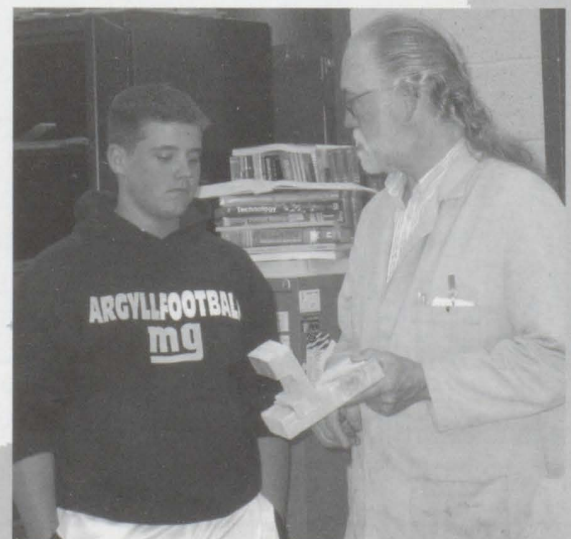

"Argyll Field of Dreams" was painted by the high school art teacher, Mrs. Cherie Solms. The painting is now displayed at the softball/baseball complex and has been quite a head turner to both the home and away fans.

Travis Trusty concentrates on sawing straight and makes Mr. Bridwell proud.

Mr. Bridwell helps Justin Cornelius in his 7th period Industrial Arts class.

Foreign Languages

Students take a foreign language for many different reasons. "I took French because it seemed like fun, and I am always up for a good challenge. Plus, it's required for my diploma," stated freshman, Breezey Melton. Although French is tough, Spanish may be even harder. "I heard Spanish is the second most spoken language in the United States, so I thought I might need to know it when trying to find a job and possibly use it when working," stated sophomore Kirstin Rager. Although Spanish and French may be complicated, students find that it helps them achieve more.

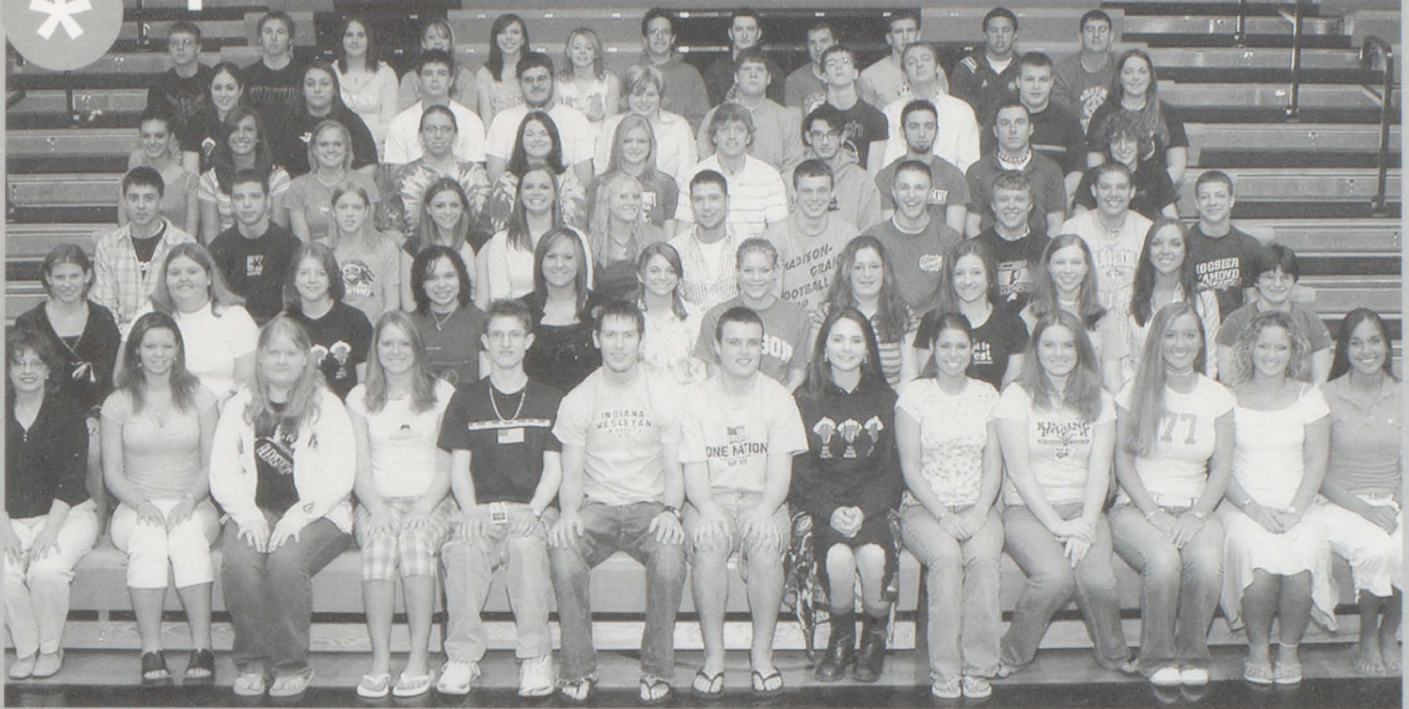

Madame Harrold and Senora Melson work with many students throughout the day to grasp the fundamentals of a foreign language.

The Social Studies department hired a new teacher because of the retirement of Mr. Bennett. Mr. Zeigler came to M-G not knowing what to expect since he taught at a private school before coming to M-G. He also became the new Varsity girls basketball coach. "I enjoyed my first year at MGHS. Family Consumer Science consists of Human Development, Family Wellness, Textiles and Fashion Technologies I,II,III, and Adult Roles and Responsibilities.

In Mrs.Clevenger's advanced foods class, junior Krystal McDaniel and sophomore Megan Smithson learn how to cut up chickens and cook them from scratch.

Mrs. Clevenger has taught all Family Consumer Science classes since 1971. Nutrition and Wellness I and II teaches students how to cook simple snacks to full course meals. Human Development and Family Wellness teaches students the development and wellness of individuals and families throughout the life cycle. Textiles and Fashion Technologies I, II, and III shows students how to design and make clothes from simple shirts to prom dresses. Adult Roles and Responsibilities teaches students how to get out on their own and budget their money. Everyone that has been in Mrs. Clevenger's classes have said they love her class and the experience.

Music

What is the most enjoyable thing you have done this year in choir?

“The most enjoyable thing I do with my classes is just the thrill of teaching them and being able to see them accomplish the music in so little time. It makes me so happy to see the lights hit them on stage and they perform,” says Mrs. Crull.

Music can be fun but also very hard when you get down to the last two days of a show and don't have all the songs memorized. Choir is also somewhat competitive in the things they do such as singing and dancing.

Band

Many band members have been perfecting the play of their particular instrument as early as 6th grade. Band offers many options, such as being selected for an elite group of players for jazz band or going to contest with solo's or ensembles. This year the jazz band got the best rating in the the most difficult division at contest. Aside from playing in concerts, band members also entertain the crowd during home football and basketball games.

HOMECOMING

How is the homecoming game different than other football games?

senior- SHEA IDLEWINE

"Football is life in high school. The homecoming game glorifies that."

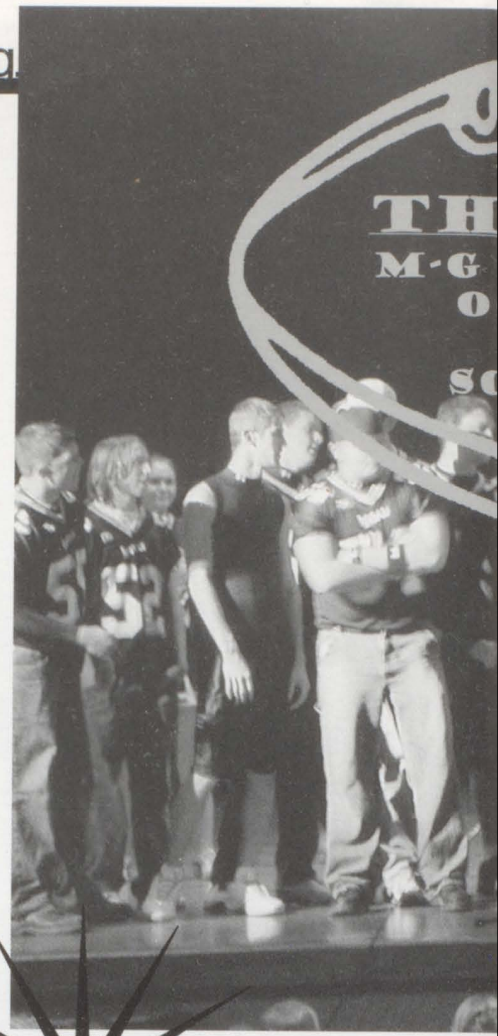

Homecoming is definitely a week that many students look forward to every fall. This year the theme for homecoming was music. Each class picked a genre of music and used their genre to decorate the fence around the football field and to decorate their class sheets. Other festivities throughout homecoming week included dress-up days, the Argyll Grand Prix Tricycle Race, the karaoke bonfire, and the spirit volleyball game. All of these exciting events led up to Friday when Mr. Small led the student body in a very action-packed pep rally in the auditorium before the Big Game. The Argylls played a very hard-fought game and beat the Wabash Apaches 25-18. After the game, the students made their way to the cafeteria to finish out the fun-filled week at the homecoming dance sponsored by the Student Council.

A Whole New World

Prom is the one night when juniors, seniors, and their dates dress up for the only formal dance of the year. Most students love dressing up for prom, going to dinner, and dancing all night.

At eleven-thirty, Mr. Martin crowned the 2005 prom king and queen Matt Houston and Tammy McNutt. All eyes were on the king and queen as they danced to "A Whole New World" by Kelly Clarkson.

Senior Lauren Moulton commented, "My most enjoyable time at prom was when I got to dress up like a princess and see how the cafeteria was decorated." Prom turned out to be a perfect night for everyone involved.

Juniors Kayla Warner, Monica Bohlander, Lauren Moulton, Staci York, Faith Worl, and Krystal McDaniel all gather to get pictures at Krystal's house before they went out to eat.

Sophomores Katie Croaff, Courtney Clem, and Hollie Wright have a good time dancing to one of the many country songs played during the night.

Juniors Faith Worl and Krista Murgaw take a quick picture at Texas Roadhouse before going to prom.

Scholastic Awards

The Scholastic award night is a recognition for the students and their hardwork throughout highschool. They award keychains, plaques, and paperweights to juniors, sophomores, and seniors with a G.P.A of 3.5 or higher. The award winners, their parents, and the committee have dessert before the awards are given out.

Retiring Teachers

Saying Good-bye

This is the year Mrs. Clevenger, Mr. Martin, and Mr. Strasemeier make another step in their lives as retirement comes at the end of this year. Although they all say they are sad to go, they take with them many happy memories. They have all been in education for many years.

Mr. Martin says when he was hired on May 26, 1981 he enjoyed being with the students all of the time, and he knew that he would. "I love seeing the kids succeed. I also love when the kids come back, and I see how much they have accomplished." When asked what he'd miss the most, he stated, "I'm going to miss all the "THANK YOU'S" the kids give me and gave me all through the year's I've been here." Mr. Martin was a very good principal, and we're going to miss him very much. There will probably be no better principal than Mr. Martin.

Mrs. Clevenger has been here since May 28, 1970. Mrs. Clevenger taught two periods at the old Fairmount High School then drove to Summitville for the rest of the school day. When asked what her most memorable moment at M-G was, she said, "There isn't just one thing I remember about my job because it wasn't a job it was a big part of my life. I don't think I would have chosen anything else." Mrs. Clevenger was a big part of the school, and she will surely be missed.

Mr. Strasemeier has been here since May 19, 1965. Mr. Strasemeier has started many M-G traditions. He said that one of his most enjoyable memories of being a teacher is his involvement in starting the Christmas auction. "It's special. I started it in 1973, and we have had it every year since making the M-G auction the oldest in Grant County." This is a tradition we would love to see continue.

Too bad we won't have Mrs. Clevenger, Mr. Martin, and Mr. Strasemeier here anymore to help us through everything. We're going to miss the things that they've taught us, and all the good times we enjoyed in their classes.

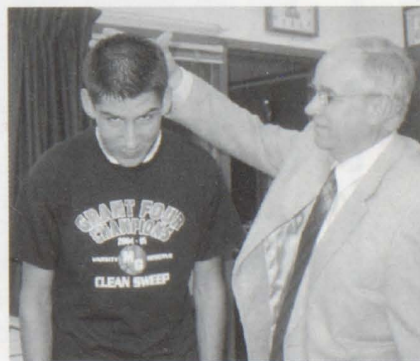

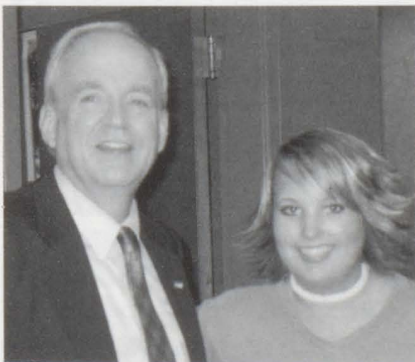

Mrs. Clevenger and Mr. Strasemeier through the years at Madison-Grant High School.

To many students, selecting a college can be boiled down to a user-friendly chart of majors, location and rankings. To these students, selecting a college is like buying a car - a simple matter of comparing options.

Yet don't you think choosing a college should be more? Isn't it about finding the place where you can take the next steps in your lifelong journey of growth? A place where your intellect can be challenged, your faith strengthened and your compassion stretched.

Sometimes
God asks us to stretch.
