SERVICE . . .

To all those who formerly walked the halls of Elwood High School and now guard the shores all over the world, this book is gratefully dedicated.

In the conquest which is service,
In the victory which is peace.

—Ibid.

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

SERVICE: AN IDEAL REALIZED AT E.H.S.

Everywhere you turn you see proof of service, any type you can think of, all being performed in Elwood High School. Our service organization is the Student Council.

We set up a system under a constitution, which provided for the organization of a student council made up of representatives from the home rooms. It has become a major organization, serving as an instrument for contact between the student and the school organization.

Committees for various needs work for the good of the school, donating time and energy to carry the burden in order to serve their fellow students.

Attitude is one of the most valuable of tools. As essential as the actual work itself, no undertaking can successfully succeed without it.

Service, the very word itself tells a complete story. Helping others, serving others, it goes on wherever there is one person or a thousand persons who unselfishly think of more than themselves.

EDUCATING THE INDIVIDUAL IS SCHOOLS' GREATEST SERVICE

There has often been the question, "In time of war when my country needs me to fight, should I choose the armed forces instead of finishing school?"

Your country does need you but it needs intelligent and capable men and women and school provides the opportunity to become intelligent and capable in your efforts.

Now, more than ever, subjects should be stressed that so aid and inform the individual and educate him in the needs of today.

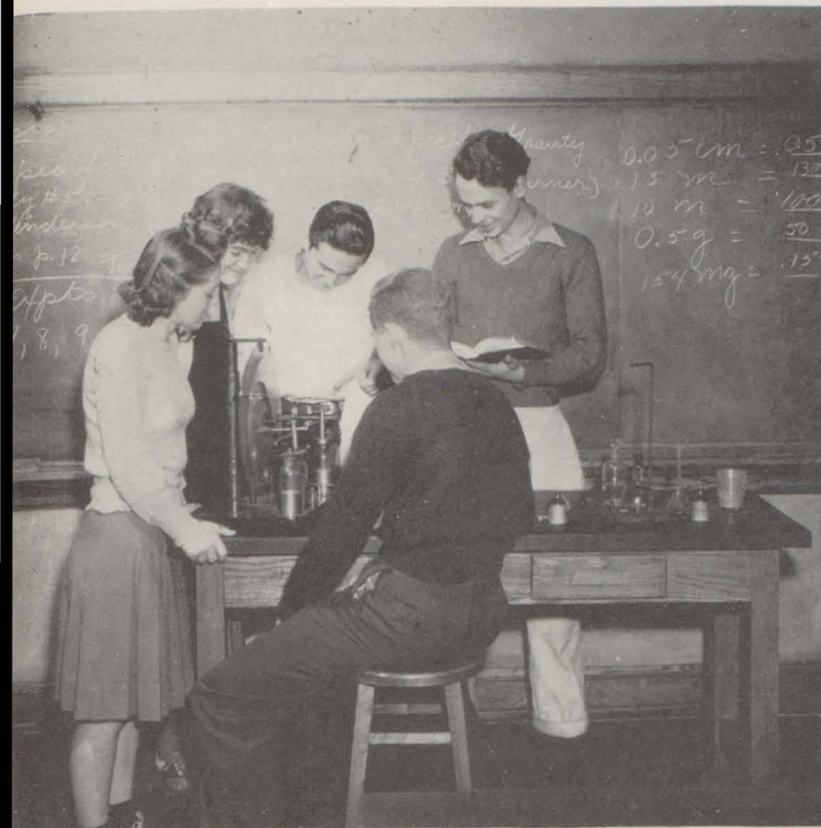

Important as fighting men may be they cannot win victories without knowledge of tactics and scientific solutions to problems.

This year Elwood High School gave its students an opportunity to enlarge this knowledge. Refresher courses in mathematics were given to those who were found to need them. Advance shop and electrical courses were offered and the science subjects, chemistry and physics were emphasized.

Probably the one that affected more persons was the Physical Fitness Program. This, a government issue, required a period a day for Juniors and Seniors. To build the youth of the nation and toughen them for the fight ahead was the purpose of this program and it is sure to result in success for the enthusiasm of the people will not allow it to fail.

SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

In time of War the Students of E. H. S. are not asleep at the switch. One of the most outstanding organizations at the present time is that of the Messengers organized for the purpose of assisting air raid wardens in their work during blackouts.

To be a Messenger these people took ten hours of First Aid Training some going onto take a more advanced course. Besides this they attended classes teaching them the fundamentals in combating bombs or fires due to air attacks. During Practice Blackout and Dimout these messengers served unfailingly, determinedly, at their posts never leaving them until the all clear signal was given. It is in times like these that people of High School age show their real love of country and democracy, being willing to give their all for that cause.

To honor those already gone from Elwood and now in the service of their country a Roll of Honor has been placed in a position of prestige that all may know those who fight so courageously and so silently.

These things are only two small examples of what the citizens of Elwood are willing to do in order to more effectively serve their community and their country.

SERVICE TO THE NATION MEANS

We all know how important the buying of War Stamps and Bonds are in the winning of this War. All during our school year there has been a committee for the purpose of keeping the students alert to this need. They have worked tirelessly and painstakingly as all people must do in times of emergency, unrewarded and often unthanked.

An Award Committee is now functioning in our High School to prove to students that though a war is being fought, there are still things at home worth striving for, worth being recognized as important and permanent. Among these things are basketball, football, band, track, debate, Student Council, and literary work.

WORKING TO WIN THE WAR

Another important committee of our high school is the War Committee. This committee searches out new ways in which high school students may take an active part, directly or indirectly in the war effort. Such things as scrap drives, benefit dances, and the like were instigated by this committee.

Today, as in 1918, soldiers are marching all over the world, but today, those soldiers are the boys that used to make all the baskets at the Friday night games, the boys that sat across from you in study hall, and the boys you danced with at the Senior Prom. Let's see that history doesn't repeat itself and the same thing happen to our children.

As a sergeant has authority over his two squads, a captain over his crew, so must a school have someone to lead them. The faculty of Elwood High School does not reign with a raised whip but rather guides with a friendly hand. Where students and teachers are on close speaking acquaintances and co-operation is a by-word. We give you some of the grandest people in the world, fondly known as the "Upper Crust" and the "Cellar Gang", the faculty of Elwood High School.

ADMINISTRATION

Superintendent of Elwood Public Schools
C. C. Hillis

Perhaps the greatest example of service in our school is that shown by the two leaders and guardians of our fates. Mr. Phillips and Mr. Hillis are always ready and willing to aid us in any problems we may have whether social, mental, physical or just an old fashioned case of the "gripes." As students we consider ourselves lucky to have such men as these always standing by us, backing us up.

Principal of
Elwood High School
G. Warren Phillips

IN MEMORIAM

When we met here together yesterday there was one among us who, very real and alive then, is today only a memory. In the presence of that shocking realization we have been humbled. Any tribute in words we may try to pay to William F. Smith must seem all too trivial and inadequate.

The least we can do, however, in his honor is to recall but a few of his many contributions to our schools, to our community, and to the whole cause of education. For twenty-five years he has been a real and significant part of the Elwood Public Schools. In whatever capacity he has served our schools he has worked hard and conscientiously and, always, with the welfare of the student as his first interest. In his civic life, in his church, and in every movement or enterprise in which he has taken part he has given his best.

He was a man of ready wit, keen wisdom, and deep insight; a man of kindness, tolerance and understanding. Mothers and fathers of many of you here this morning knew Mr. Smith when they were students in high school. They will tell you he was then kind and understanding just as you saw him yesterday. Writing in the 1934 high school annual, and his subject was "Sportsmanship," Mr. Smith said, "If carried out into life after school and given a fair chance, the spirit of good sportsmanship will bring less of exploitation and cruelty and more of justice and well being." There is the essence of his philosophy "less exploitation and cruelty and more of justice and well-being."

Long a victim of recurring physical distress, he did not complain. And what, to me, was most remarkable about the man, and I know that teachers who knew him well can appreciate this most, when he became the victim of mental, of psychological distress, he did not cringe, or alibi, or revolt, but met the situation bravely, with disarming humility and a quiet, smiling tolerance. Thereby he grew in spiritual stature to a height that few of us can ever hope to reach.

If anyone should ask of you, "Did you ever meet a true gentleman," you can say, "Yes, I knew William F. Smith."

If anyone should ask you, "And what did that gentleman leave as his legacy?" you can reply, "He left us his good works; they were his great riches, and he gave them abundantly."

—Donald Brown.

William F. Smith left us April 8, 1943.

WE FOLLOW OUR FOOTSTEPS BACK--

Problem children. Yes, that has been our title from the start. Most usual freshman classes are expected to and usually do get lost in their first initiation into high school life, but even there our class was different. It was during the Sophomore year that our class distinguished itself by getting lost three-fourths of the time.

We do boast one of the most outstanding basketball stars in Elwood High School basketball history, Jim Copeland. Besides Jim there were many other excellent veterans of the hardwood and gridiron in our class. Not only do we have brawn but we have brains. A large percentage of the class are not strangers to good grades, some of them winning high honors for themselves in their special field.

These are only a few of the exceptional merits of this outstanding class. Problem children we may be, but at the same time we are ambitious enough to use our unusual energies to carry on from here.

JUNIORS

The Junior class of Elwood High School, 1943 edition, is a class with many "firsts" in its career.

As Freshman they were the first class to organize and elect freshman officers. They were also the first class to have a party as freshman and the first class to achieve a perfect record for behavior from that time to the present.

As Juniors they were the very first class to have a play and needless to say, it more than lived up to everyone's expectations.

The Junior class is well represented in basketball, football, debating and band as well as literary work.

It has been said of the Junior class that they are ready and willing to cooperate whole-heartedly with any and all school projects. With such class officers as they have had, that has not been a hard task.

The Juniors hope to enter into the coming year, their last, as students of E. H. S. just as wholeheartedly as they have in the past, and make it their best.

SOPHOMORES

This year the Sophomore class found some difficulty in keeping together as one class, so a separation was made. As a result of this separation we now have two sets of class officers. The 2A class chose Jack Squier as their president with Michael Robbins to help shoulder some of the responsibilities. The 3B's chose Rodney Simmons with William Frye as a "side-kick."

The Sophomore class this year has been quite active in as much as they overtook the task of selling concessions at the basketball games, and also being represented on the annual staff, the Megaphone, the debating team, band, and practically all sports.

FRESHMEN

Seniors think that they're the stuff
Juniors think they're smart
But it takes a little Freshie
To break a fellow's heart.

—Kathryn Leeson.

Freshman—those little ones, who according to tradition are supposed to get lost in the hall and resign themselves to ask directions from upper classmen. The “ups and downs” of the stairways are supposed to mix them up and add to their confusion. Surprisingly the last two or three Junior High groups know their way around. They have taken high school in their stride, and have accomplished a few things. Not many of course, but give them time and they'll come through with flying colors.

The Freshman party was a big event in the life of a Freshman so far this year. Approximately one hundred of them went. Just the beginning of the high school program.

Many of the Freshman home rooms have started scrap drives to aid defense in the war effort. Several of the home rooms have been 100% in the stamp and bond drive.

Hats off to the Freshman!! A grand bunch of kids.

A CRESCENT'S AID

This year some students of Elwood High
Got to-gether, A Crescent to make,
They had as their motto, "to do or die,"
But they almost died and I'll tell you why.
They started out to get some money
They even called some people "honey"!!
But the school just didn't want to buy
I'm sure I can't tell you why.
The Crescent Staff said "Let's try once more"
And they tried the same as they had before
But the school just didn't want to buy.
And still I'm sure I don't know why.
Then came the Senior with a great big smile,
And said "My friends, we'll try for a while."
They tried with overwhelming success
Selling three hundred and not one less
These three hundred made the money we need
To make this book in which you read,
This poem which I so humbly made,
And made its name, "A Crescent Aid."

STUDENT COUNCIL

Last year, due to the fact that we did not prefer to be one of the very few schools without a home room system, a constitution was formed and now the Student Council is one of the major organizations of the school.

One of the social highlights of the year was the Student Council dance. There was a nice crowd and everyone had a wonderful time.

One of the major projects that the Student Council derived was the seating plan. We hope this plan will become a tradition in our school.

As a service to our school and our country two important committees were derived from the Student Council—the War Committee and Stamp Committee.

They plan to present a service flag to the school in memory of those who are in the service of Uncle Sam.

The school recognizes those students who have attained high scholastic standing and only hope that many more will join the ranks. The above picture represents that group.

In the school there are certain organizations which function for the benefit of the students and all concerned. Among these are the Ushers. The Ushers are very much in evidence at all basketball games, programs for the community, plays, etc. They are distinguished by their blue and white uniforms.

Another of these is the Library assistants. These people work under the direction of Miss Allen in the library, putting books back on shelves and helping students to find reference material for their various courses.

A comparatively new organization in our high schools is the Projection Club. These people run the machines for all movies that are shown or slides and do so very efficiently.

Although it may seem sometimes that these are thankless jobs the school really appreciates the work of these organizations without which we should be greatly handicapped.

DEBATE

This year, due to the shortage of gasoline, it was impossible for the Debate team, to attend as many debates as they formerly attended; but nevertheless, they have been able to debate with a few of their closer neighbors.

Their season this year, it is true, was not so successful as former seasons, but they have made an excellent showing against their opponents.

The big event that the debaters attended this year was the Purdue Conference. They were given a leave of two days from school and they really had fun while they were up there.

The Rushville Tourney was a disappointment to the team, but it didn't get them down.

The team also attended debates at Wabash and Warren Central. At Wabash they attended a dinner given in their honor.

The club played host to Columbia City and added a finishing touch by taking dinner at the Mangas Cafeteria.

The team really had capable officers this year with Don Noble as President; Shirley King as Vice-president, and Jenester Noland as Secretary-treasurer.

Each class was well represented this year. Don Noble and Eutha Rowe—Seniors; Frances Parker, Jenester Noland, Barbara Kimmerling, Allen Anderson and Earl Reasoner—Juniors; Shirley King, Marjorie Bohlander—Sophomores; and Beverly Mann, Florence Hiatt—Freshman.

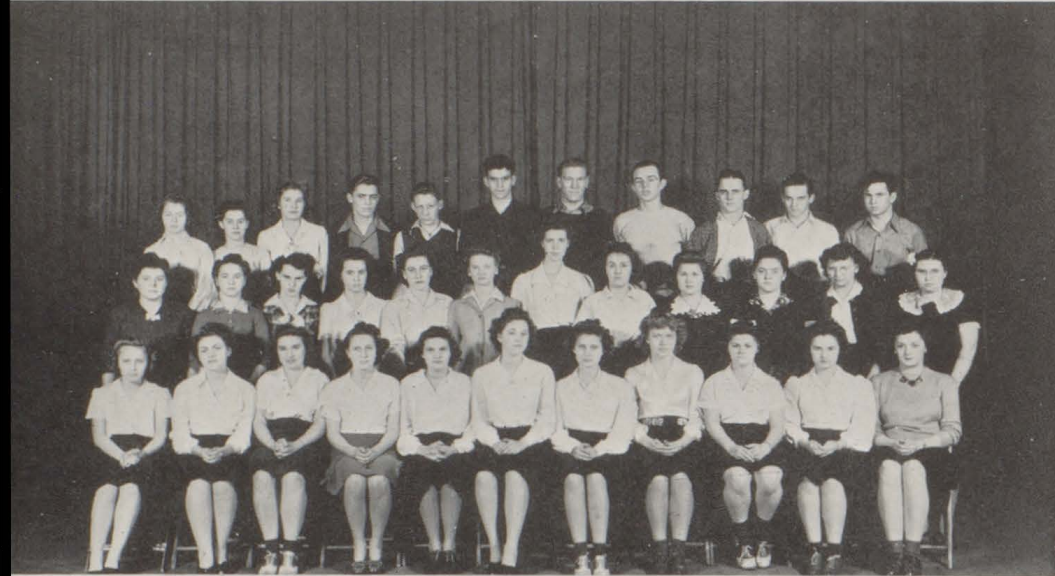

However, when we are passing out compliments, we must remember Mr. Donald Brown is, figuratively speaking, "the man behind the gun." He deserves a lot of praise for the fine debate team he coached this year.

The second semester there were the high school band, made up of students from the ninth to twelfth grades, and the junior high school band, made up of students from the fifth to eighth years.

The band has participated in three concerts. The Victory Bond Concert was held in November, having its goal set at $5,000. More than $5,800 in pledges were received. The other two concerts were held February 14 and May 9.

There are forty members and five twirlers in the high school band. The junior high school band has a membership of forty-seven.

COACHES--EDWIN JOHNSON & HARRY BRIDGES

Elwood High was very fortunate this year in securing the services of Edwin Johnson, formerly of Pendleton, as head football and basketball coach. He came to us with a high recommendation as teacher and coach. He is well liked by the entire high school for his ready humor and wit. Assistant Coach, Harry Bridges, is also well known and liked for his extensive interest in football and basketball. Many times he has shown that he rates high with the boys.

We are proud to have as our coaches such fine gentlemen as Mr. Johnson and Mr. Bridges, men of clean habits and untiring in their efforts to give the athletes of our school the benefit of their splendid training.

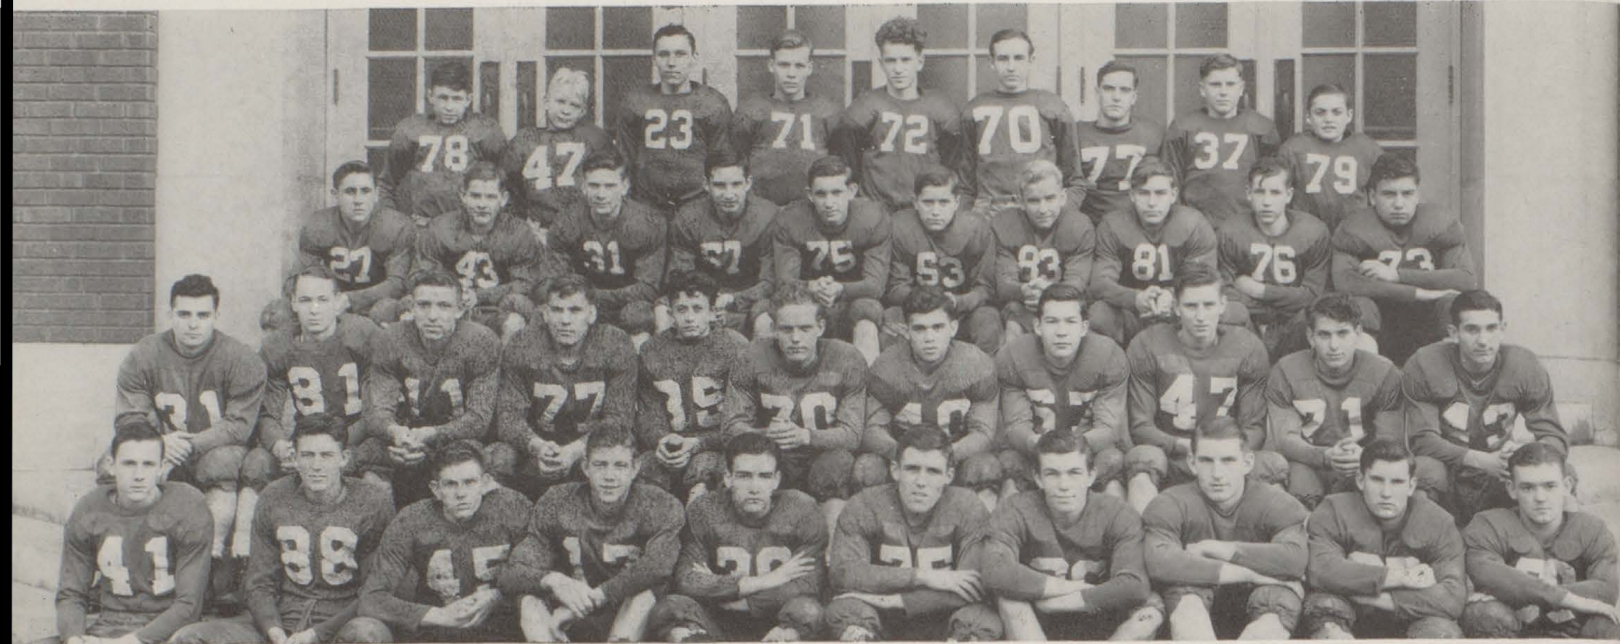

MANAGERS AND YELL LEADERS

The job of a manager is one that is not honored much by Elwood High. Many people do not realize just how much the team depends upon the manager. The manager's job is all-important because he must keep a constant check of the suits, basketballs, and shoes; make the job of the coaches easier; and in general be a handy man. The unheralded managers of this past season we wish to congratulate on the fine job they have done. We sincerely hope that in the future more students will realize the great value of this essential job.

Cheer leaders—what a job they have! Without them there would be no spirit at our basketball games, no peppy yells during the football games. This year we have been very lucky to have back "veteran" Joe Braun. This year, however, Joe has a new assistant, little Billy Brunnemer. No acrobatic stunt was too difficult for them to try, or any lull too tough for them to overcome. They make a fine pair. Too bad we can't have Joe back again next year. Nice work fellows!

FOOTBALL VARSITY

The 1942 edition of the Panther football team was one of the scrappiest teams ever to don an Elwood High School football suit. Although handicapped by the graduation of several players, the team turned into a good fighting unit which threatened to beat some of the best teams in the state.

Though this season was not so successful from the standpoint of games won and lost, it proved to many that you don't have to have a gang of heavyweights on the line before you can have a fighting team. If fighting spirit, alone, had decided the final outcome of the game, our team would have ended the season undefeated.

THE VARSITY

Elwood High's Panther five experienced only a mediocre season this year as they couldn't seem to find the basket in many of their games. After winning seven of the first eight games played, the Panthers turned cold and lost the next four. One bright spark of this year's schedule was the defeat of the Froebel Blue Devils of Gary. It was a sterling performance as the Panthers repeatedly stole the rebounds.

The Panthers were highly keyed up for the sectional and were determined to win. Alas, however, we were defeated by the Anderson Indians in the first game.

The 43-44 team, despite the loss of five seniors, will still be a team to be feared. And next year will be another sectional and another opportunity.

BASKETBALL STARTING FIVE

James Copeland—Senior, Forward

"Jim" was the captain and highest scorer of the Panthers this year. He was an expert on those shots from the side and under the basket. His sterling performances were instrumental in winning most of our games. We hate to lose "Jim" and we wish him success.

Thurman Runyan—Senior, Center

"Thurm" used his height to an advantage under the basket as was shown by his tip-in shots. His playing was of the consistent type, coming through with clean baskets when they were needed badly. We are sorry to lose him.

Howard Lambert—Junior, Forward

"Pig" really went places during the season by virtue of good, clean fighting. He is a dependable shot both under the basket and from the side. His drive and hard fighting spirit were outstanding. We're expecting greater things of him next year.

James Hook—Junior, Guard

"Jim Bill" was a valuable asset to the team because of his praiseworthy ability to guard taller opponents. Many games were won this way mainly because of his close guarding. Although "Jim Bill" didn't shoot much, he usually scored when he did. We shall see more of him next year.

Robert Justice—Junior, Guard

"Bob" is another of those long shot artists. He is able to hit from the ten-second lane. He is a dependable guard and he plays hard to win. Watch him go next year.

BASKETBALL RESERVES

The Panther reserves had a tough schedule this year but emerged victorious in eight of the fifteen games. Most of the visiting teams were very much larger but that didn't stop the Panther Kittens. The Kittens repeatedly stole the rebounds from the bigger visitors. Most of these boys will be playing on the varsity next year, so watch them go.
