The old,
which was at one time
part of the future,
Makes way for the oncoming future
The old,
which is a lot of times
lost or forgotten,
Is the foundation for the future.

decision making

Are part of awaking to the future.

Becoming skilled helping each other

Prepare us for the coming future.

The new,
which is
the approaching future,
Will be accepted and adjusted to,
But a certain kind of loyalty will remain for the old.

The Varieties of 1972 took its audience back in time as Edith (Cindy Sizelove) and Archie (Jack Miller) "Dunker" remembered "Those Wonderful Years."

The Roaring Twenties were highlighted with the first Miss America Pageant, "Our Gang" singing "Ma, He's Makin' Eyes at Me," the Pantherettes doing the Charleston, and a Keystone Cops pantomime.

The Thirties brought back the radio soap operas, the ever-popular "Stripper," and Teddi Mangas as Shirley Temple singing "On the Good Ship Lollipop."

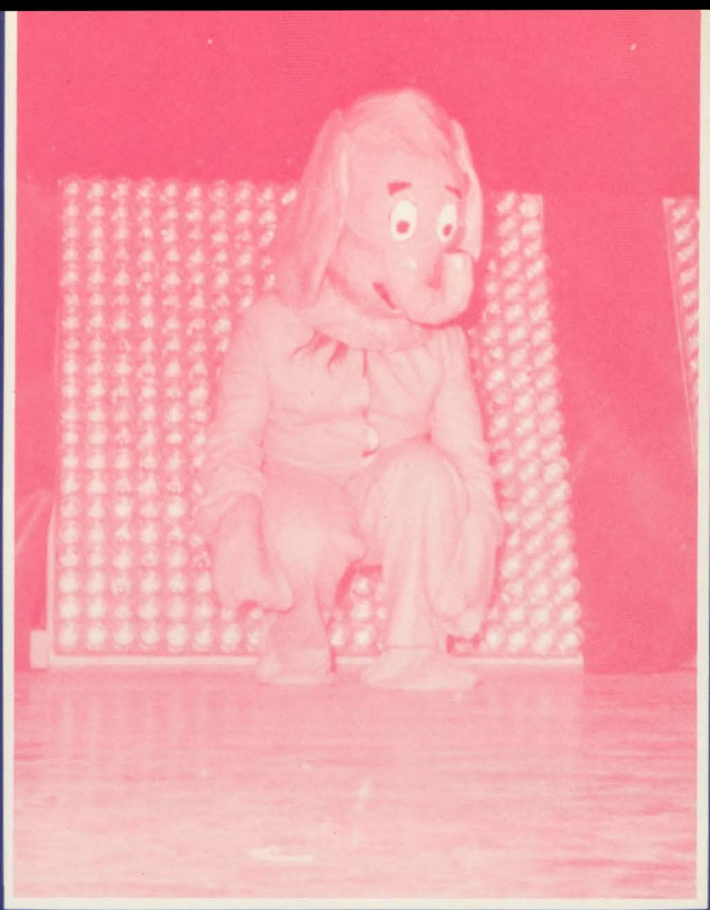

The band took over in the Forties with "South Pacific" and other Big Band Memories. Kirby Elkins soloed with "I'm Getting Sentimental" and some band members concluded with a tribute to Walt Disney.

Soda shops, bobby socks, the jitterbug, and Elvis, portrayed by Jude Bourff, represented the Fifties. Included also were the McGuire Sisters by the Counterpoints, "Night Train" by the choir, and a tenor sax solo by Pete Wingrove.

The Sixties brought the Hippie era, and Elaine Caldwell sang an original song about billboards. The 2-D8s Da-Men-Ohs were featured in this section along with a Roller Skate Rag and a Beatles tribute.

The Seventies, which concluded the '72 Varieties, featured the Groov Band playing a number of delightful selections and a piano solo by Bob Peters.

Dumbo and the roller skating girls are two delightful acts in a show revolving around Archie and Edith Dunker — Cindy Sizelove and Jack Miller. The major-ettes, band, and choir make a valuable contribution to the show with their talented performances.

Graduation Leads to the Future

Attentiveness is the keynote for members of the Class of 1972 as they listen to the speaker at their commencement exercises. The Reverend Donald Felty, First Calvary Church, Loganport, addresses the class on this occasion.

On May 24 the members of the Class of 1972 graduated from Wendell Willkie High School and opened many doors to their future.

Carolyn Updike and Jeff Leathers, members of the class, helped school officials conduct the ceremonies. The Reverend Donald Felty was the guest speaker.

Mixed emotions were felt by all of the new graduates; happy but sorrowful, excited yet afraid.

A Southern Rhapsody

Anna Callaway has her head in the stars as she tapes streamers of crepe paper on the ceiling.

Vickie Freund and Steve Stone enjoy talking with a friend at the prom. Many other couples find prom night exciting and glamorous; the girls wear beautiful gowns, and the fellows are resplendent in tuxedos.

Mr. David Schwakenwald chats with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Brown during the prom. A number of faculty members attend the gala affair every year.

Karen Brewer may have good reason to "see stars." The decorations she is making will be suspended from the ceiling.

Entrances Prom Goers

Miss Kaori Gardner is crowned 1972 Prom Queen by junior class president Tim Eaton as the formal part of the evening draws to a close.

“Southern Rhapsody” was the prom theme chosen by the class of 1973. They worked until late hours in the night to create a southern atmosphere of beauty by May 19, the date for the 1972 Prom.

Upon entering the ball room, the couples found themselves on the Mississippi River beside an old fashioned paddle boat. The Larry Mitchum Band was seated on the stage which was a plantation veranda decorated with flowers.

As time progressed, the long awaited crowning of the 1972 Prom Queen neared. The queen candidates — Linda Sullivan, Cindy Tam, Kaori Gardner, Cindy Sizelove, and Susan Hobbs — were announced as they walked onto the pillard porch of a plantation home which was adorned with colorful flowers. Miss Kaori Gardner was announced as Queen.

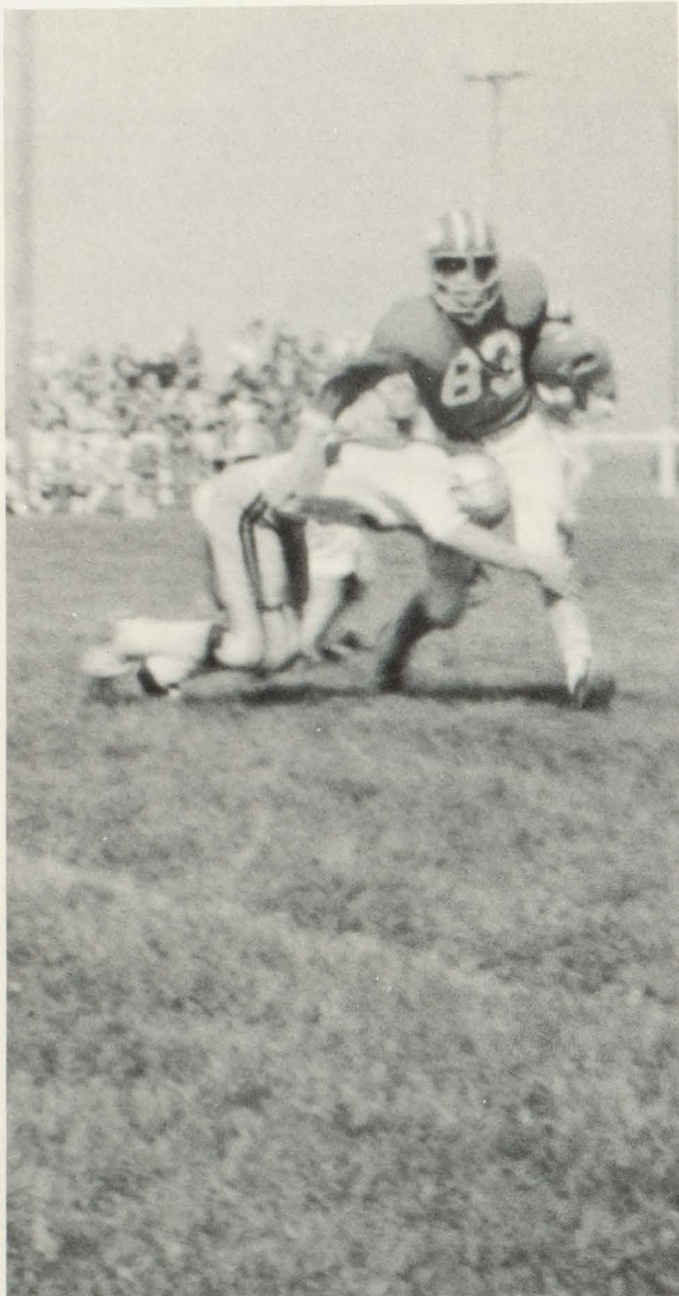

Refreshments were served by southern belles in a room with a colorful swamp scene accented by black lights. Memory pictures were taken in a setting of pastel flowers and candles.

After the prom, the couples enjoyed an early morning snack and a dance at the Country Club.

The transformation of the Elks Club into the ante-bellum South is complete, and prom goers find themselves surrounded by the beauty and glamour of another era as they dance away the evening.

Number 83, Senior Panther Andy Durm, attempts to evade a Highland tackler as he runs to gain yardage in the 1972 Homecoming game.

A Homecoming Game

On September 15, 1972 the second annual Homecoming Carnival kicked off the festivities of a joyous weekend for the Elwood Panthers. Many of the clubs and classes were represented. There was a great variety of attractions that everyone could take part in. They included a dunking booth, an egg throw, a cake walk, a dart throw, and many other activities.

The next day at 1:00 the parade began. Creative and original floats were built by the classes, each one having a theme pertaining to Broadway shows or motion pictures. The Queen Candidates — Pam Clouser, Jackie Cyphers, Chris Hood, Vickie Huff, and Toni King — were presented to the parade crowd on a beautiful float constructed by the Junior Class.

Drum majors Bill Kessinger and Keith Goodknight lead the Panther Band as it marches in the 1972 Homecoming parade. The majorettes and pom pom girls follow the drum majors.

During the clash between the Elwood Panthers and the Highland Scots, quarterback Billy Hocker fades back to pass in the second period of action. The

Brought Happiness

At 2:00 the Homecoming game began as the Highland Laddies kicked off to the Panthers. At half-time both teams remained scoreless.

At the start of half-time festivities the band played "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody" as the Candidates were being introduced. Miss Chris Hood was announced Queen. She was crowned by Miss Margaret Fernung, 1971 Homecoming Queen. Float honors were also announced with the Juniors taking first.

The second half proved to be better for both teams. The Laddies scored a touchdown, but the extra point was blocked. Now it was the Panthers turn. Near the end of the fourth quarter an Elwood touchdown was made and the extra point was good. When the clock ran out, the 7-6 victory over the Highland Laddies was confirmed.

Homecoming Queen Chris Hood wears a big smile following her coronation. ABOVE, Chris, with the other queen candidates, rides on the float created for them.

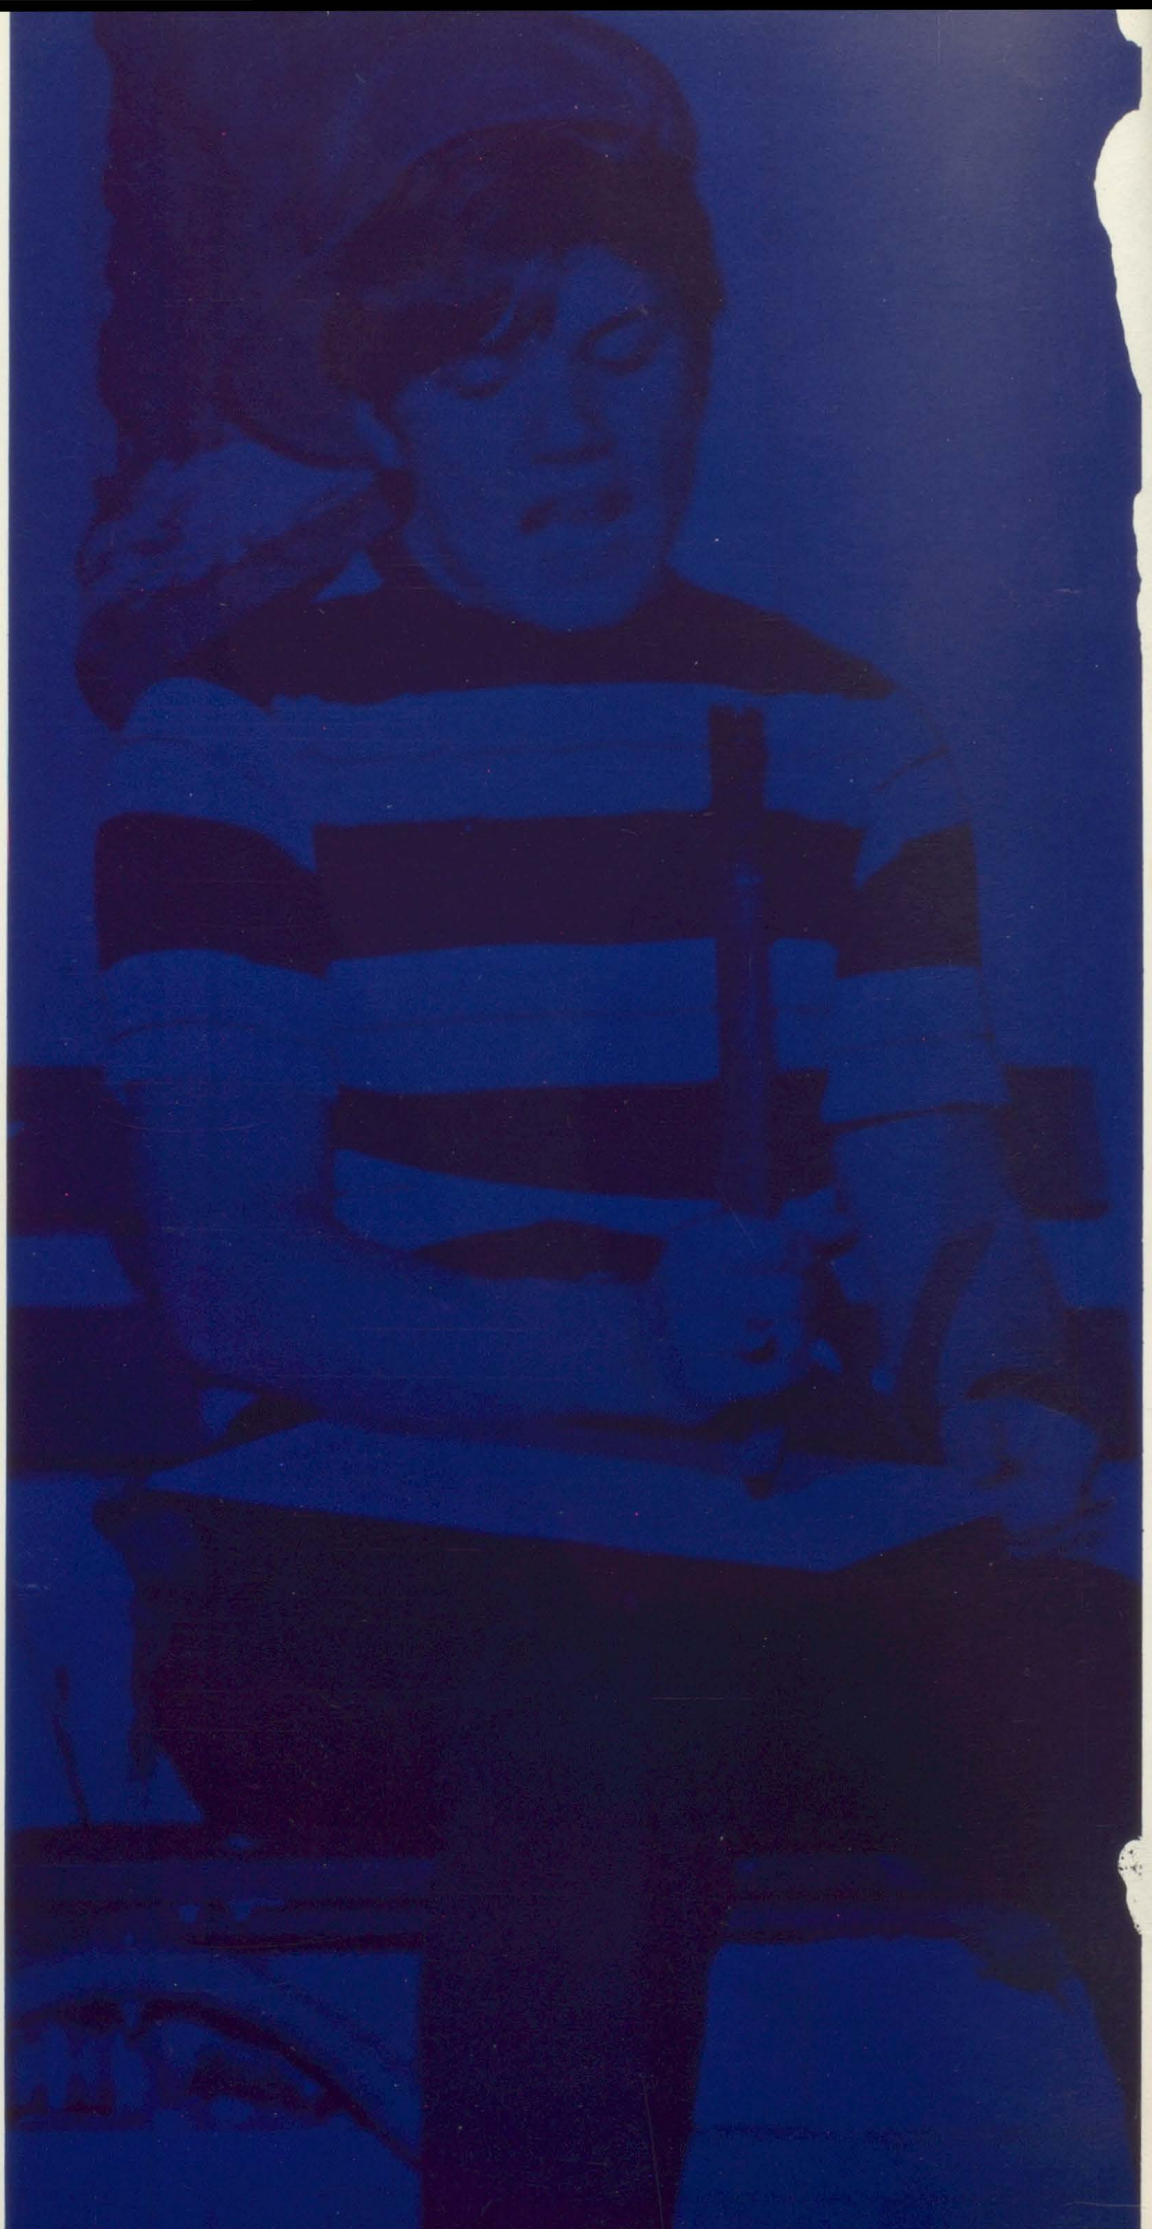

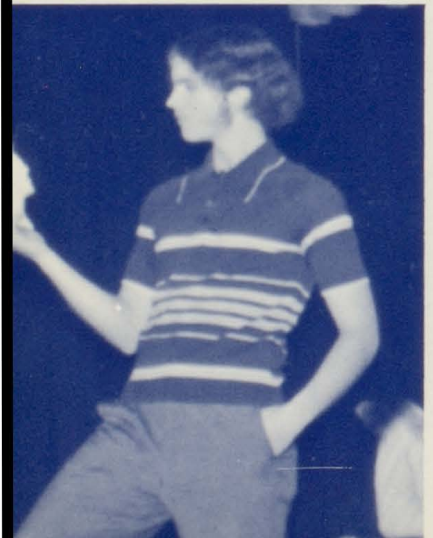

Panther linemen provide excellent protection and give Hocker the time he needs to get his pass off.

Smiling (or is it grimacing?) through all of that jello is Mrs. Marilyn Barnett, one of several teachers participating in the carnival.

YOU'RE A GOOD MAN, CHARLIE BROWN entertained audiences November 16 and 17, 1972. The play, the first musical ever to be presented at Willkie High School, portrayed a typical day in the life of good old Charlie Brown. Attempting to fly a kite and losing a baseball game were two of Charlie's failures portrayed in a delightfully funny manner on the stage. Other characters from the comic strip appeared in typical (for them) situations. Linus expressed his deep affection for his blanket. Lucy fussbudgeted and offered debilitating advice. And, of course, Snoopy flew off on his dog house to do battle with the Red Baron.

Mr. David Schwachenwald directed the production, and Mrs. Carol Schwachenwald helped the cast with their vocal parts. Mrs. Raeanna Merritt was choreographer. Student directors were Patti Lantz and Kandie Vice.

Cast members were Steve Mengelt as Charlie Brown, Tim Eaton as Linus, Bob Savage as Schroeder, Chris Hood as Snoopy, Kathy Altherr and Angela Waymire as Patty, Vickie Freund and Vickie Huff as Lucy.

Bob Peters and Brenda Dudley played the piano; Bret Connors played the drums, and Cindy Piirto played the flute to accompany the production.

Committee

The CRESCENT editors — Trena Adair, Carol Pace, and Lumi Svendsen — spent a great amount of time and work to produce a special year-book that would bring back many memories in future years. Many long nights were spent by the editors and the adviser, Mrs. Linda Gren, trying to meet the very important deadlines.

The editors gave special thanks to Theresa Barrett and Jeff Weddell for outstanding work in photography, to Mary Parker for her hard work on the index, to all the members of the personalities committee, and to all of the other students who helped write copy.

Staff member Roger Alfrey sells CRESCENT subscriptions.

Communicating

Communication.

That is what young people advocate, and that is what Willkie High's English department strives for.

Learning the basics for speaking and writing English occupies the student's time for eleven years. Classes such as Journalism, Speech, Advanced Composition, and Honors English allow each student the chance for personal expression in his own language. They also give him the opportunity to explore the thoughts of other nationalities and ages, to compare his feelings with theirs and find there is not such a gap between people after all.

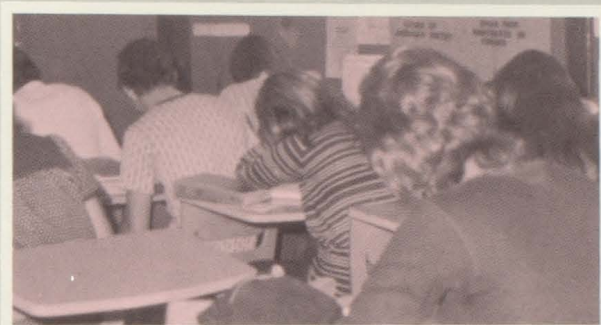

Journalism class issues the monthly MEGAPHONE and the "Willkie High World." The morning announcements are Speech class assignments. Regular English classes include in-depth studies of such classics as THE PEARL, THE RAFT, and THE SCARLET LETTER with A SEPARATE PEACE and MACBETH in store for seniors taking Honors English and Advanced Composition.

With such a well-rounded English curriculum, how could students help but communicate?

Journalism:

The journalism class under the direction of Mrs. Crimans skillfully produced the school's newspaper, the MEGAPHONE. The MEGAPHONE was published three times a semester. The newspaper contained editorials, feature stories, and the all-important school news. Besides distributing issues to student the staff exchanged school newspapers with eighteen area schools. Students sold advertisements to local merchants to help finance the paper.

Together with publishing the MEGAPHONE, journalism students learned many things from their textbooks. Newswriting, layout, different kinds of type, the printing processes, mass media, and the history were a few of the subjects discussed.

The Past

The Social Studies department of Wendell L. Willkie High School offered a variety of subject for students of different grade levels.

Freshmen had the option of taking World History which gave them an overview of the past. Again this year some World History students were assigned the project of building a medieval manor. As in the past, this assignment resulted in some original and creative work on the part of the students.

Juniors were required to take United States History. Their study of the country's past was made more meaningful by correlating it to events in the present.

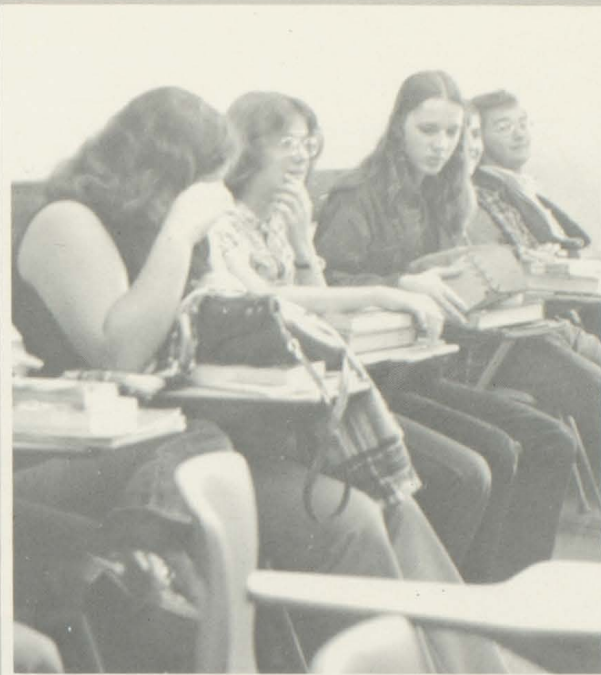

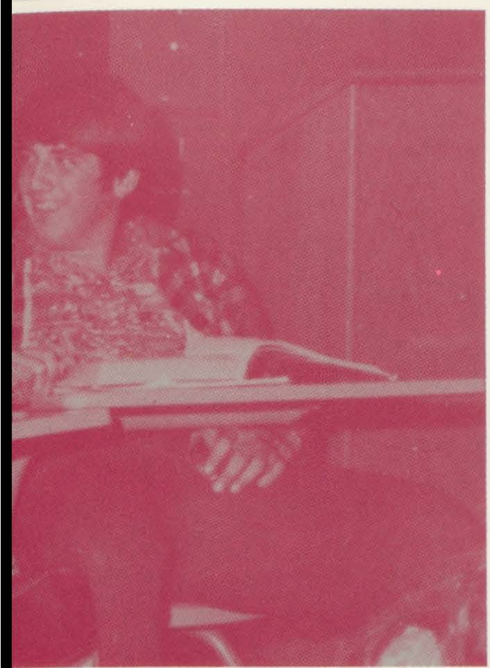

Seniors were required to enroll in two of the following three classes — Civics, Sociology, and Economics. The Presidential election in November brought special significance to the Civics classes.

Psychology was an elective offered in the department. Discussions were held about the possibility of adding more elective classes to the department so that interested students would have the opportunity for in-depth study in areas of the Social Sciences.

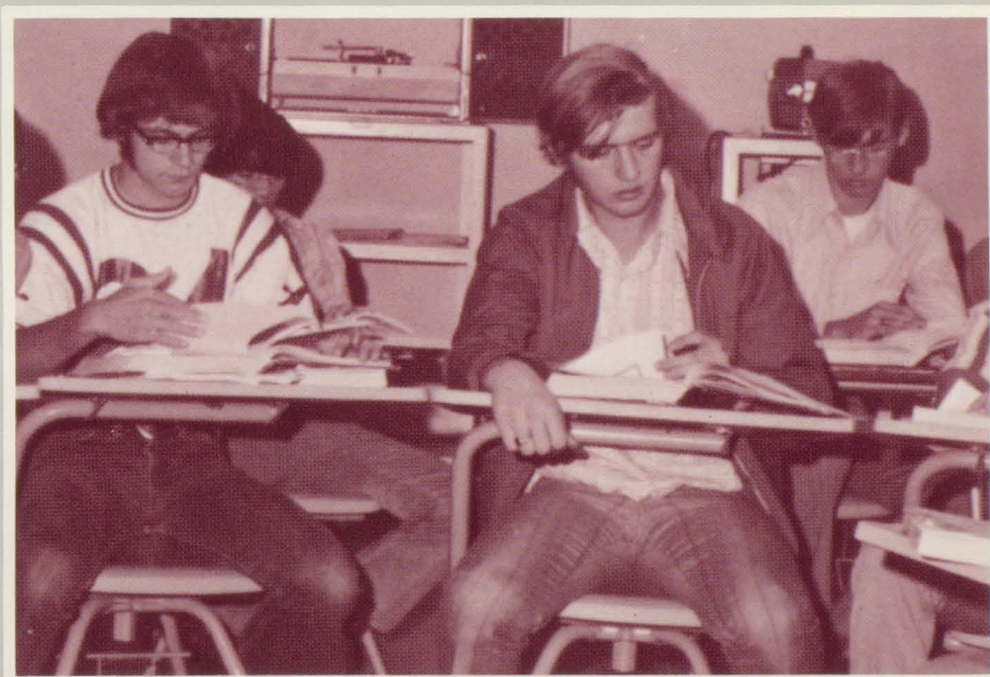

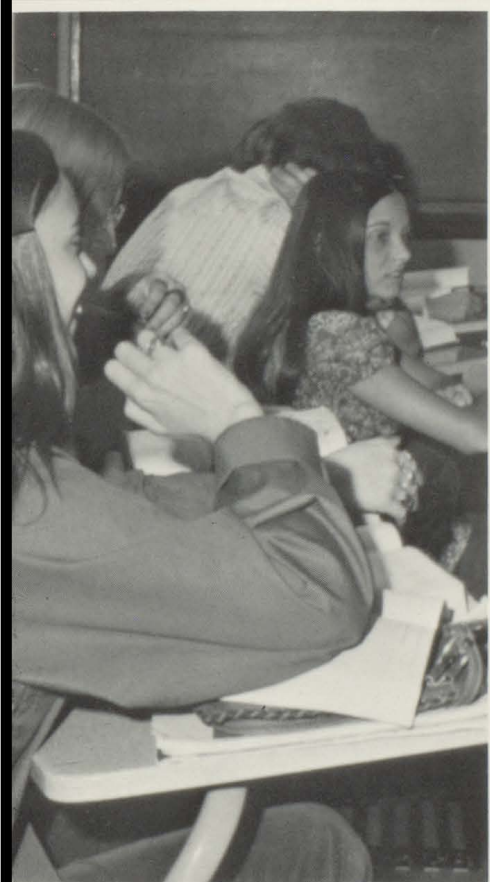

Kathy Long, Janie Short, Kathy McDaniels, and Kevin Fewell find history is fun. Mr. Brown makes a point as he talks to his sociology class. Steve Stafford, Sheryl Wright, Kathy Hughes, and Kathy Scholl are U.S. History students.

Is Present in Social Studies

Math Classes

The math department was under the direction of Mr. Herndon. General math, algebra, geometry, advanced algebra, senior math, and business math were available to students. Senior math was offered to those seniors who planned to attend college and take courses in math or science. The seniors had an opportunity to acquaint themselves with and actually run computers during a special project.

The math instructors were Mr. Herndon, Mr. Brown, Mr. House, Mr. Abshire, and Mr. Burton.

By Doing

Science-minded students and those students required to take two years of science enrolled in the science classes at Willkie High School. The classes offered were physics, chemistry, physical science, and general and advanced biology. These subjects are taught by Mr. Santon, Mr. Abshire, and Mr. Huffman.

Physics, chemistry, and physical science consist of text work, labs, and tests. General and advanced biology offer a wide variety of work. Some of this work is use of the text, labs and lab practicals, microscope work, and dissection, of course.

Projects such as leaf collections and research papers are assigned in the science classes.

Angela Waymire and Mary Gough (ABOVE) and Dave Humphrey, Blair Sullivan, Mark Bollinger, and Dave Clary (UPPER RT.) do lab assignments. Mr. Santon performs an experiment.

Creative Art

The art classes this year were a center of creativity under the direction of Mrs. McQuitty. Students entered into many different projects over the year. Filmmaking experiments where students directly drew and composed the filmstrips, sculptural projects of exaggerated man-made items of our day, ceramic and painting projects, and tie-dye were a few of their undertakings.

Art students took a trip to the Indianapolis Museum of Art for a special lecture-tour on 20th Century art. A visit to the Ball State Art Gallery was also planned.

Dan Dennis and Keith Goodknight work together on one of the many paper mache projects that art students produced.

Displayed in the auditorium for the entire student body to see are life size reproductions of objects from the twentieth century constructed by art students.

to France

This year a new class was added into the French area. A third year class was offered to students interested in developing their French abilities to a higher extent.

The French Club had a membership of fifty-six and was under the direction of Mrs. Ferguson. The officers were President, Terri Slayton; Vice President, Tracie Slayton; Secretary, Angela Waymire; and Treasurer, Brenda Dudley. The club sold candles and holders for a money making project. They also had a dinner party and several bake sales. The main event of the year was a trip to France in the spring.

Second year French students Babette Abner, Ron Lee, Diana Huff, and Debbie Fanning are eager to begin discussing the assignment.

Mindy Fihe, Sheryl Wright, David Zech, and Brenda Beber prepare to hand in their assignments in the third year French class.

Janet Kilgore and Vickie Huff, third year French students, seem to enjoy grading papers.

Spain — Mexico

Mr. Compton helps third and fourth year students translate the mystery book they are reading.

Spanish Club was one of the larger clubs this year. It provided students who have taken Spanish an opportunity for learning and using Spanish outside the classroom in a less formal atmosphere. The officers this year were President, Carol Pace, 4th year student; V. President, Sara Hobbs; Secretary, Patty Monahan; and Treasurer, Mark McDermit, all 3rd year students. Mr. Compton was the sponsor.

Last spring, Spanish students had the opportunity of traveling to Spain and widening their knowledge of the language and Spanish culture. This spring the students traveled to Mexico.

The club's projects included an effort at the Homecoming Carnival, selling Booster badges for ball games, bake sales, a Mexican and a Cuban dinner, a Christmas party, and going to see the play, MAN OF LA-MANCHA. They also went as a group to a basketball game and formed a Spanish Club cheer Block.

Health and

Physical education and health were offered during the regular school year and in summer school. Some of the sports offered were field hockey, soccer, tennis, volleyball, softball, deck tennis, gymnastics, archery, swimming, basketball, cageball, wrestling, and running obstacle courses. The health classes studied first aid, pressure points of the body, drugs, smoking, alcohol, anatomy, child care, and many other subjects. The instructors this year were Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Merritt, and Miss Grothaus for the girls and Mr. Bailey, Mr. Brown, and Mr. McQuitty.

Narcotics

This year's Narcotics classes, under the direction of Mrs. Watson and Miss Grothaus, explored many interesting areas. Learning about drug abusers, the slang terms, the effects of drugs, and the different types of people involved with drugs was a benefit to each student. All of the students prepared a special report on drugs for their semester project and presented it to the class. They interviewed three professional people — doctors, nurses, lawyers, police, druggists, A.A. members, or ex-addicts — and included their views in the report.

Driver's Education classes were offered to students who were at least fifteen years old during the regular school year and in summer school. Students learned the fundamentals of operating an automobile, the laws and regulations for safe driving, and the care of the automobile. This past winter some of the students were able to experience driving on the ice. The summer school students practiced maneuvering an auto quickly but safely. The area automobile dealers supplied the students with new and safe machines to learn to drive safely and correctly.

Business Area

Many business classes were offered to students wishing to go into business in the future. The classes were office machines, typewriting, advanced typewriting, personal typewriting, bookkeeping, shorthand, general business, office procedures, business math, and business law. The classes were taught by Mrs. Juday, Mr. Jacobson, Mrs. Hudson, and Mr. Burton. Any student who had taken one of these classes was eligible to be a member of the Future Business Leaders of America.

FBLA is composed of business minded students interested in business activities. This spring members traveled to Ball State for the State Convention. The club brought back several awards. During the past year, FBLA had a balloon throw at the Homecoming Carnival, several bake sales, sold gifts for Christmas, and held a birthday party for the intermediate first grade class.

This year's officers were Candy Gootee, President; Jerri Beach, Vice President; Debbie Gamble, Secretary; Brenda Puterbaugh, Treasurer; Debbie Crable, Scrapbook; and Robin Duffey, Historian.

D.E. students are also members of D.E.C.A. Members competed on the district, state and national levels. They also had a candy sale, a booth at the Homecoming Carnival, bake sales and held a children's carnival at the Vocational Building. They also went to a convention.

Industrial Arts Offers Variety

Students used Industrial Arts classes to explore industrial fields of education which could lead to vocational interests and advanced courses. It could be thought of as a laboratory for the application of academic knowledge such as problem solving, the effects of design and actual construction of products, and applying mathematics. Students were able to express themselves in the various I.A. classes which consisted of Electricity, Drafting, Printing, Woods, Machine Shop, Power Mechanics, Home Mechanics, Blueprint Reading, Industrial Mathematics, and Welding.

Home Mechanics classes were very successful with the girls. The classes were filled and a waiting list was needed the first semester; the second semester two classes were offered. Home Mechanics is used to explore properties of materials found around the home, simple electrical repairs, and minor plumbing problems.

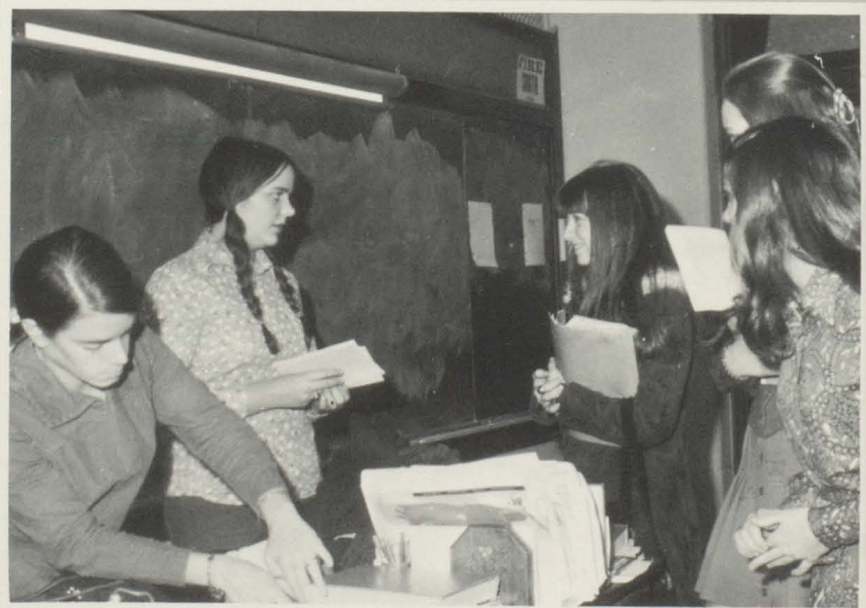

The instructors for Industrial Arts were Mr. Ritchie, Mr. Kinder, Mr. Hawkins, Mr. Williams, Mr. Juday, Mr. Ray, Mr. Pantos, Mr. Watson, and Mr. Rayshich. Several of these men are also vocational instructors.

This year's plays were "Eh!", "The Youngest", and "Take a Letter". These plays were directed by Kathy Scholl, Christi Hood, and Terri Slayton. The club also planned to take a trip to a dinner theatre where they could learn techniques by watching professionals.

The Future Teachers of America Organization (FTA) is one of the up-and-coming clubs in the school. Its membership this year, 33, was one of the largest ever. FTA had four very cooperative sponsors this year — Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Merritt, Mrs. Starkey, and Mr. Middleton.

The chapter, which is in Area 6 of Indiana, was honored to have Anne Mangas named as next year's area vice president.

It was also a real honor to have chapter president Steve Mengelt chosen "Mr. FTA" for the state of Indiana.

Other officers for the year were Anne Mangas, vice president; Kathy McClelland, secretary; Diane Richmond, treasurer; and Carol Pace and Rachel Savage, historians.

The Student Council's largest responsibility this year was the Homecoming Carnival. Held the Friday before Homecoming, the carnival featured a number of activities. The Council also held a Halloween dance for the student body. At Christmas time a Turkey Raffle was held to raise money. The Student Council participated in the door-to-door march for St. Jude's Hospital.

National Honor Society recognized those Seniors with a high scholastic rating. These students represented the upper 10 per cent of their class. Junior members were chosen on the same scale but were probationary members until they became Seniors.

The Academic team was made up of intelligent, well-rounded students who wished to compete with another school in an "exercise in knowledge". This year's team had several meets with Highland and Madison Heights that were similar to the college bowl games. The sponsors were Mrs. Merritt and Mr. Compton.

Tennis and Cross Country

The Elwood Cross Country team began their season with two big wins over Highland and Peru. New Castle was Elwood's first defeat, and the Panthers lost their first triangular meet to Blackford County and Tip-ton. The Panther runners came back to take second place in the Burriss Invitational then lost their second triangular meet to Oak Hill and Missisnawa. In the next two meets, which were both triangular, the Pan-thers finished second. The team placed fifth in the C.I.C. at Peru before defeating Madison Grant and Frankton in a triangular meet.

The tennis squad, under the coaching of Mr. McQuitty, earned three big victories last fall to be one of the most successful squads El-wood has seen for a long time.

During the fall season the squad defeated Wabash, Missisnawa, and Alexandria.

Of fifteen boys out for the sport only four — Bob Savage, Bob Pe-ters, Dennis Karch, and Thad Wright — were seniors. Although the squad was young much valuable experience was gained to make fu-ture seasons even more successful.

New Coach Provides Wins for Gridders

The Panther gridgers ended the football season with a record of 3-7, but the statistics do not tell the whole story for the second year football coach Bill Hocker. The team's victories came over Highland at homecoming, Peru, a proven C.I.C. foe, and Pendleton Heights. The young Panther offensive unit (1 senior, 9 juniors, and 1 sophomore) proved that they could play excellent football and could win some football games. The Elwood Panthers lost two games by one touchdown or less. The team's spirit held during the entire season which proved to be a stepping stone for the young Panthers.

The graduating seniors on the team were Bruce Whisler, who received the distinction of being chosen to the defensive honorable mention team, Steve Stone, Blair Sullivan, Randy Robison, Buddy Murray, Rick Hodson, Ron Shaw, Andy Durm, Tim Giselsbach, and David Clary.

Many long and tiring hours of physical exertion were spent in preparing for the season. The squad practiced twice a day developing new techniques and sharpening up on old ones for Coaches Hocker, Brown, Baily, and Runyan.

Jr. Varsity Freshmen

This year's freshmen football team was coached by a quite capable young coach in his first year of coaching, Mr. Howard Huffman. The first year fellows showed that they had lots of spunk. The guys gained confidence game after game, and they seemed to have put it all together in their final game against Pendleton Heights by beating their opponents 32-0

The Junior Varsity squad was coached by Mr. Mike House this year. These boys also showed the qualities of winners. Many of these fellows saw quite a bit of action with the varsity during the season. Almost all of the boys gained experience and confidence, both of which are necessary ingredients to make them first-rate varsity gridders next season.

Golf and Baseball

Coach Jerry Burton's varsity golf team finished the 1972 golf season with a record of 3 wins and 11 losses. The reserve team completed the season with 7 wins and only 2 losses.

The varsity team placed fourth in the C.I.C. at Peru, second in the Eastbrook Invitational, and tenth in the Sectional.

The varsity boys who earned a full point this past season were Aaron Davenport, Greg Linsmeyer, Mike Mengelt, and Barry Wilkinson.

The '71-'72 edition of the baseball team enjoyed a very successful season for last year's mentor Coach Rod Hicks. The squad's overall record was 12 wins and 5 losses, with 4 wins and 3 losses in the C.I.C. The Panthers beat co-leader of the C.I.C., Peru, in the last game which was the highlight of the season and kept the Peru Tigers from winning C.I.C. honors. Elwood came in fourth in the C.I.C. standings. Another bright spot accredited to the Panthers was the exciting win over Frankton in the Sectional.

The seniors on the team performed a job well done as the sophomores and juniors earned valuable playing experience. The experience gained by the underclassmen will prove vital to them as they prepare for another exciting baseball season.

This year proved very exciting for Elwood Panther basketball fans as the team finished season play with a record of 10-10, the best record for the past 4 years.

After beginning the first half of the season on the wrong foot with a record of 3-6, the Panthers came roaring back after a big win over Muncie Central and finished out the second half of regular season play at 6-3. It seemed as if the win over the Central Bearcats gave the Panthers the lift they needed for they won seven out of their last eleven games. The Panthers finished 3-4 in the C.I.C. Two of their conference losses were only by a few points.

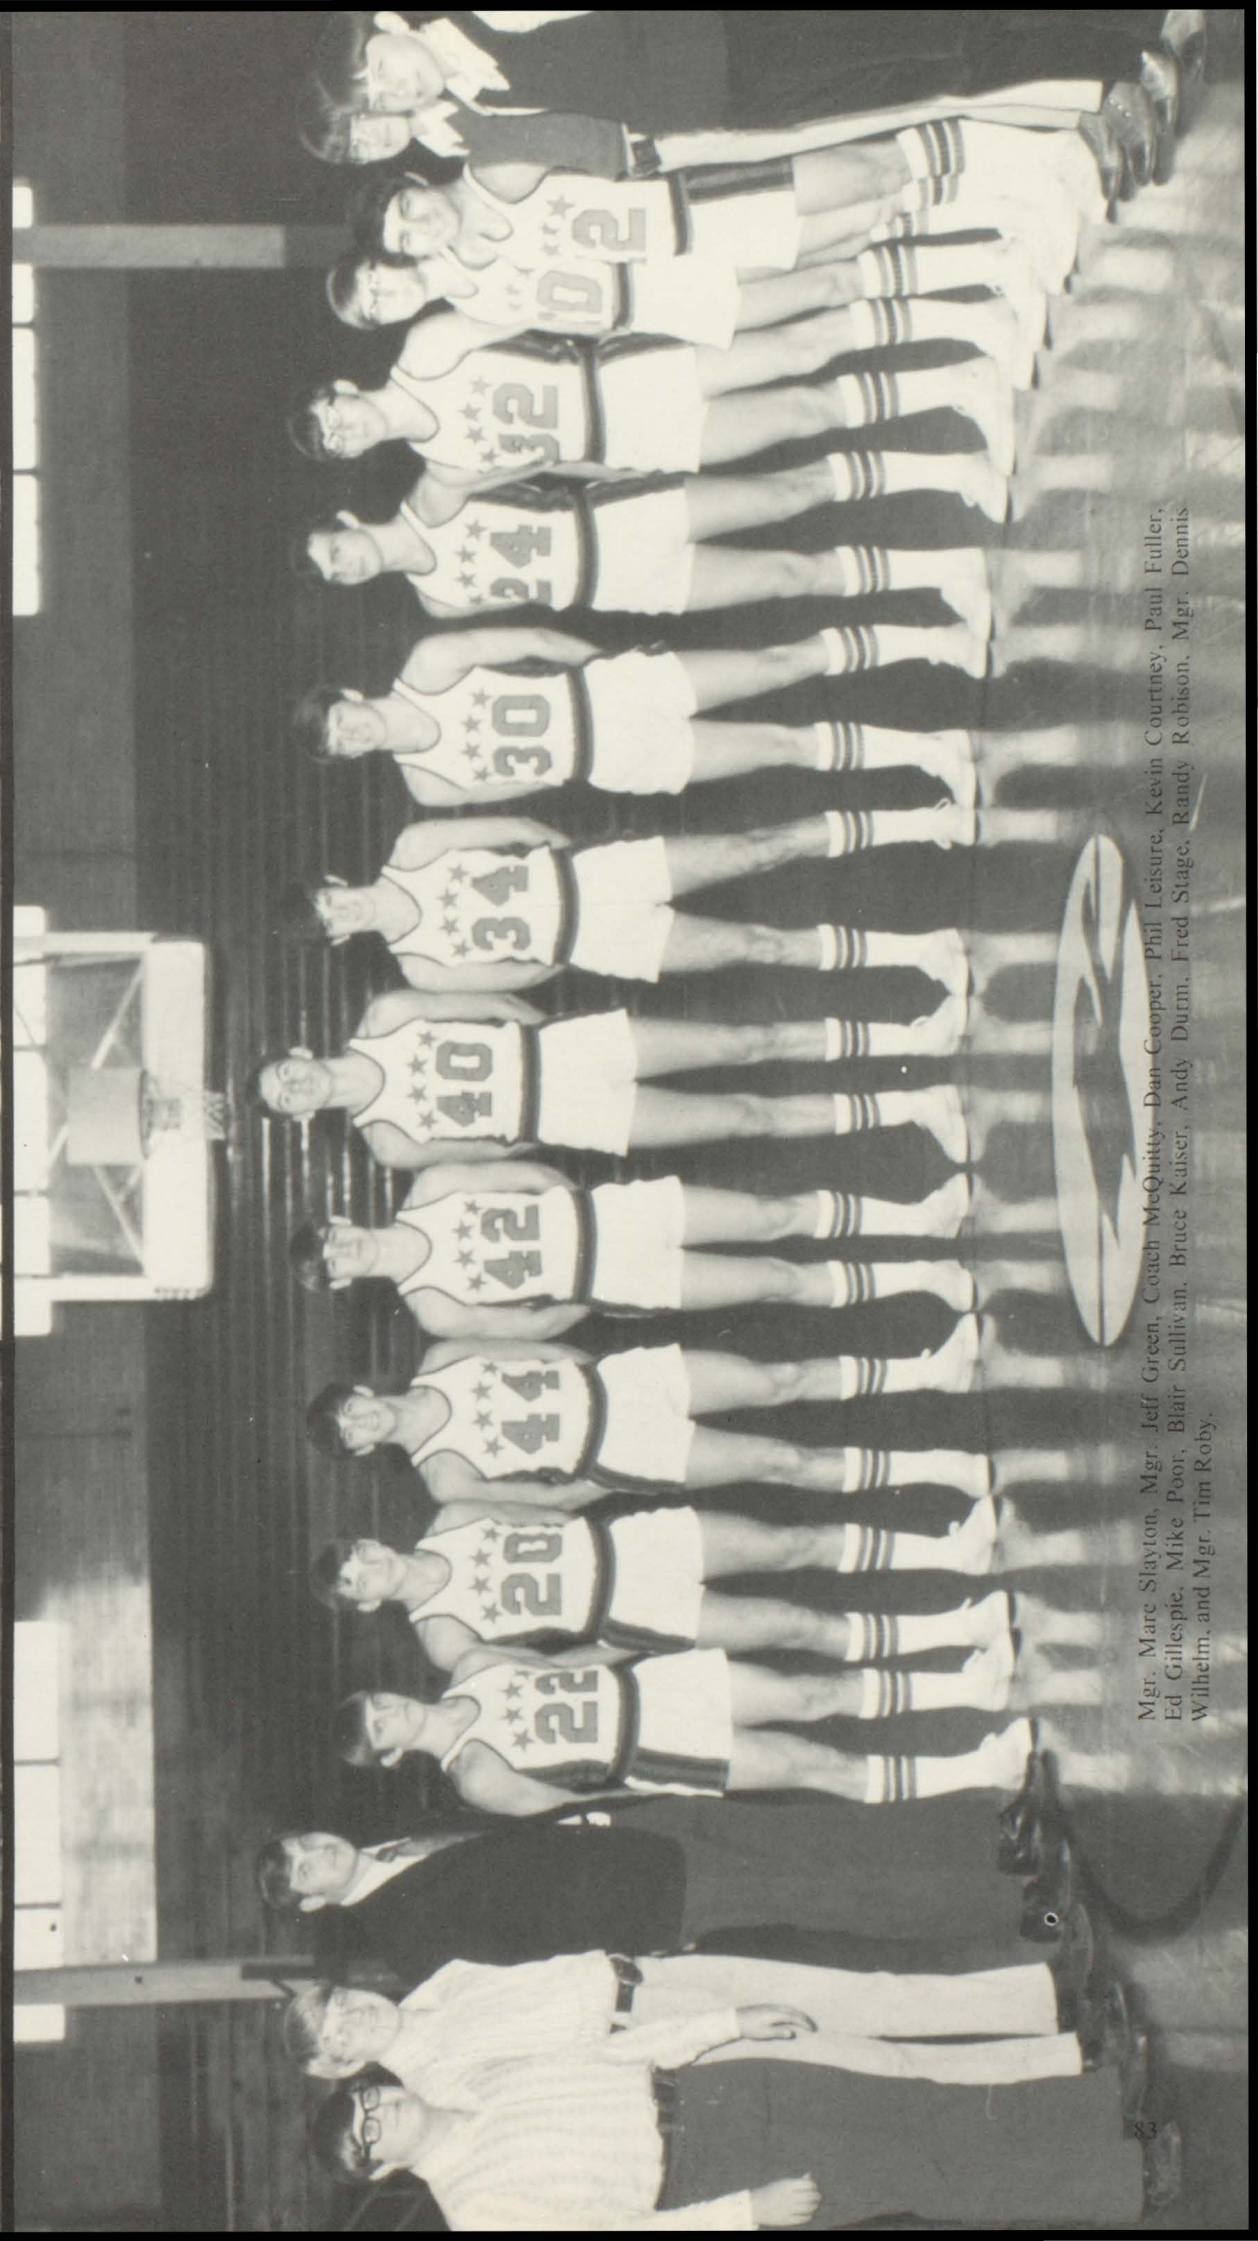

In mid-February sectional play began and the Panthers drew Mississinewa for their first game, a team they had previously beaten 29 points during regular season play, however; the Indians had improved and it took a 66-63 verdict to knock them out of sectional action. The next night the Panthers lost by 5 to the Madison Heights Argylls, who later became the sectional champions.

As a result of the win over Peru, the Panthers received the C.I.C. silver horseshoe. The horseshoe hadn't been won by an Elwood team since 1967. The game against Peru was also the last varsity game to be played in the gym, home of the Panthers since 1936.

J.V. and Frosh Gain Vital Experience

Coach Howard Huffman's Junior Varsity squad had a disappointing season. The boys had plenty of talent, but could only muster a 5-13 record. The J.V.'s started out by playing good ball, but they didn't win until the Noblesville game. The Junior Panthers went on to beat Muncie Burriss, Blackford Co., Hamilton Heights, and Peru. John Burnette led the team in scoring.

The Freshmen weren't as successful as the other two squads this year. The A team finished without a single win and the B team had a record of 4-4.

The Freshmen opened season play against Tipton November 30. Tipton already had a few games under their belts, but for the young Panthers it was their first game. Tipton was the victor when time ran out. The Freshmen closed out their season of play with an A team loss and a B team win. Some of these fine boys will be headed for the Junior Varsity squad next year.

Cindermen Have Winning Season in '72

Track, one of our stronger team sports here at Willkie, ended up with another winning season for 1972. Head Coach, Van Bailey, led his cindermen to a 7-2 record for the season. The team also took third place in the Pendelton Relays, fourth in the New Castle Relays, fourth in the C.I.C., and sixth in the Noblesville Relays. Three new high school track records were achieved. They were Bill Hocker in the pole vault at 13' 6", Kemmon Jones in the two mile at 10: 27.0, and Kevin Courtney in the triple jump at 39'5 1/2".

Coach Bailey had two boys, Bill Hocker and Bruce Etchison, go to the regional in pole vaulting. There were five seniors, five juniors, ten sophomores, and three freshmen — Ron Lee, Chuck Shawhan and Bruce Simmons — who earned a Varsity point and letter. The team managers also received a Varsity letter. Don Smith received both the Runner Club Award and the Elwood Athletic Award for his outstanding ability in track. Ron Lee won the Freshman award for contributing to the Varsity club.

Spirit Boosters Spark Teams

This year the Cheerleaders did a fine job of promoting school spirit and sportsmanship for our athletic contests. this summer the Varsity and Reserve Squads attended camp at Vincennes University and entered into competition at the State Fair, the Madison County Fair, Where Bobbie Florea was named Miss Madison County Cheerleader, and at Kokomo. Many high awards were won by both of the squads. The Freshman squad took part in the Kokomo and County Fair contests also.

Both the Boy's and Girl's Pep Clubs provided a great amount of vocal support for our athletic teams. Members constructed spirit signs and placed them throughout the school to give the student body a boost in school spirit. The sponsors for the clubs were Mrs. Merritt, Mrs. McQuitty, and Mr. Compton. The officers of the Girl's Pep Club were President, Twyla Northcutt; V. President, Sally Tharp; Sec.-Treas., Pam Burns; and Pep signs, Pat Phillips. ## Concessions Sell Refreshments at Ball Games

The Concessions Club tries to raise funds for school projects, school organization trips, fees for student meetings or conventions, supplies that are needed from time to time, and to help other clubs in general. This year's club was led by Frank Steffler, President and the sponsors, Mr. Phillip Brown and Mrs. Betty Starkey. The members provided refreshments for the fans by selling cokes and popcorn at all of the home basketball games.

One of the club's future goals is to buy oil paintings for all of the department and the main offices at our new school. This will be one of the largest projects undertaken by the club.

Refreshments are being sold by a Concessioneer to Panther fans at a Basketball game.

This year's inexperienced Freshmen had the same problems as each of the Freshman Classes before them. Not being able to find the right classroom, asking for directions but ending up more confused, arriving late for classes, causing congestion in the halls (which isn't hard to do), and suffering from headaches caused by having bottom lockers, are just a few of them. Despite all of their handicaps the Freshmen created an "Impossible Dream" Homecoming float which was judged as first runner-up.

Class of 1975

The Sophomores began the year by reacquainting themselves to Willkie High and the many things it has to offer to students. Their first set of officers started things rolling by building a class float for Homecoming. Many class members turned out to put together a "Streetcar Named Desire" that helped arouse the spirit of our Football team towards a Homecoming victory.

The Sophomore Class officers are Lou Ann Williams, Treasurer; Babette Abner, Secretary; Anne Mangas, President; and Jude Bourff, Vice-President.

In their second year at Willkie, they constructed a Homecoming Float, succeeded in candy sales, ordered class rings, and decorated for sectional. As Juniors, they built the winning Homecoming Float, decorated for sectional, and held a beautiful Junior-Senior Prom. This year the Seniors had important decisions to make about their future plans. Would it be: College?? Marriage?? A Job???

After Homecoming the Seniors ordered class jackets. Senior announcements were chosen by the Steering Committee. They were light blue with 1973 and the school crest on the front. A special farewell message was written on the inside along with an etching of the old school. Caps and gowns were chosen for graduation. For sectional the Seniors did a great job decorating the halls of Willkie.
